THE RESOLUTION (371-45-A)

WHEREAS, McCrory Stores Corporation, lessee, for Wilmack Realty Co., Inc., owner, filed June 13, 1945, an appeal from an order of the fire commissioner, affecting premises 502-506 Fulton street, south side, 40 ft. east of Bond street, 9-17 Bond street and 16-20 Hanover place (Block 160, Lot 7), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, Order 99854-LC, issued by the fire commissioner, May 29, 1945, reads:

"An inspection of your refrigerating system located at the above premises shows that the following change is necessary to have the system conform with Fire Department regulations:

1. Provide an ammonia mixer in accordance with requirements of C19-103.0-c, Administrative Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 7 stories (80 ft.) in height, 60 ft. by 60 ft. by 125 ft. and 192 ft. in area, of class 1 construction, erected in 1914 located in a business use district and used and occupied since 1922 as follows: cellar, sales room, 640 persons; 1st floor, salesroom and restaurant, 752 persons; 2nd floor, salesroom, 720 persons; 3rd floor, salesroom, 620 persons; 4th floor, stock room, 400 persons; 5th floor, office and girls' room, 400 persons; 6th floor, office and stockroom, 400 persons; 7th floor, storage and display room, 400 persons; roof, machinery, 10 persons; that the building is equipped with a one source sprinkler system, a standpipe system, an interior fire alarm system and that fire drills are maintained; that there are two 44 in. wide metal stairs, enclosed in 6 in. tile and brick, equipped with metal self-closing doors and extending from the roof bulkhead directly to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that it is willing to install an ammonia mixer, if this installation could be made without violating other sections of the Administrative Code; that the refrigerating plant is located in the penthouse; that the installation was made under approved plans in 1937; that this is a class A plant containing 1600 pounds of ammonia, used in connection with the air-conditioning of the first and basement floors and operates as an indirect system, in compliance with the requirements of the Administrative Code; that a permit for the operation of the plant was issued by the Fire Department for the year 1938 and each year thereafter up to and including 1943; that to install an ammonia mixing valve at street level would necessitate bringing two 2 in. ammonia lines from the high and low sides of the system, from the penthouse on the roof, down through seven floors of the building, to a point at street level, accessible for Fire Department use and locating the mixing valve and discharge to sewer in the basement area; that the extension of these ammonia lines through the building would constitute a violation of the Administrative Code and even though these lines might be fully enclosed, the enclosures would in no way be a guarantee that in the event of a leak, that seepage of ammonia fumes would not take place through the enclosure to the floor or floors of the building; that the installation of these lines would change the system to a direct system in violation of the Code; it is therefore requested that the Board permit the installation of a diffuser, similar to that now approved in a class B plant so that the ammonia may be dissipated to the atmosphere above the roof line, the arrangement of this diffuser to be as indicated on plans filed with this appeal, subject to any modifications required by the fire commissioner; that the penthouse refrigerating machinery room is located at a higher level than all surrounding buildings.

Resolved, that Order 99854-LC issued by the fire commissioner be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to Item 1, on condition that in all other respects, the system shall be maintained to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner and in accordance with the requirements therefor; that the diffuser above the roof shall be installed and maintained to his satisfaction; that such shut-off valves as indicated on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received June 13, 1945" shall be installed and shall be of a type as the fire commissioner shall approve.

Re: 28-38-SM

Subject: Cantilite Concrete Plank for Roof and Floor Construction.

The Concrete Plank Company on May 29, 1945, requested reopening of the approval granted under the aforementioned calendar number insofar as it has to do with the identifying of their product, and that the stamp as presently used by them is unsatisfactory because the planks when delivered to the job have the markings defaced or otherwise made illegible. They now request that they be permitted to stamp each shipping ticket using a rubber stamp reading as follows: "Cantilite" approved for use in New York City by the Board of Standards and Appeals under Calendar Number 28-38-SM. The Committee on Tests has reviewed this request and recommends the Board's favorable consideration.

THE RESOLUTION (315-43-SM)

WHEREAS, Gallagher Brothers Sand and Gravel Corporation, owner, filed on June 26, 1943, an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the material known as Gallagher Brothers' Gravel (Coarse Aggregate); and

WHEREAS, this material was referred to the Committee on Tests of the Board for test and report; and

WHEREAS, the report of the Committee on Tests reads:

Re: Cal. 315-43-SM.

Subject: Gravel (Coarse Aggregate), Approval of.

Gallagher Brothers Sand and Gravel Corporation filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals, under the requirements of C26-178.0b, for the approval of Gallagher Brothers Gravel for use under C26-312.0.g and C26-315.0 as a coarse aggregate.

DESCRIPTION AND PROCESSING

The gravel is produced by a dredge owned and operated by the United States Dredging Corporation. The material is excavated, processed and loaded aboard deck-scows, from the leased land under water in the West Harbor of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, N. Y.

The dredge is of the ladder type, diesel electric, powered by a 550 H.P. Worthington Engine. The hull is anchored by means of spuds on the stern and is moved while operating by anchor lines from the bow.

The dredging apparatus consists of a continuous line of 60 7½ cu. ft. manganese steel buckets, capable of excavating at the rate of 500 cu. yds. of material per hour. This material is passed through a single roll primary crusher which reduces all material to 4 in. in size. It is then elevated to the top of the dredge by means of inboard buckets and dumped into a revolving screen. The screen is 26 ft. long and 10 ft. in diameter, where the wash water is added in sufficient quantities to insure complete scrubbing and washing.

The material is screened into six different sizes. Sizes "A" and "B" and for fine aggregate (sand); Sizes C, D, E and F for coarse aggregate (gravel). Size C ranges from plus ¼ in. to 7/16 in., which is used to control the fine side of gravel. All of this size or any part of it can be combined with the larger sizes of gravel for specification and gradation purposes. Size D is plus 7/16 in. to ⅜ in., which meets City of New York, Department of Purchase Specifications 24A-20: 45T size number 7. Size E ranges from plus 1⅜ in. to 2 in., which is combined with the smaller sizes which meet City of New York, Dept. of Purchase Specifications 24A-20:45T, size number six. If size E is not needed for recombining, it is sent to the crusher to be reduced to smaller gravel. Size F is plus 2 in. to 4 in., which is sent directly to the crusher for reduction. The material after being crushed is recirculated through the plant for rewashing and regrading as to size.

The finished gravel is loaded on a scow on the port side of the dredge, with a shuttle conveyor belt. This shuttle belt is so arranged that the gravel can be deposited in many places across the scow and at no time does the gravel have a drop of over three feet to prevent any segregation of the sizes. The scow is pulled fore and aft by deck winches for complete loading. The gravel, after leaving the shuttle belt is passed over a screen on which high pressure jets are directed to give it a final washing before depositing on the scow for use. All marine organic matter is removed from shuttle belt just before it is deposited on scow.

TESTS

Representative of the Committee on Tests selected samples of the gravel which were submitted to the Haller Engineering Associates, Inc. for test, report of which (N.Y.12132) is filed with the application.

THE RESOLUTION (336-45-A)

WHEREAS, the Bureau of Real Estate of the Board of Estimate, City of New York, for Almerindo Portfolio, Receiver, filed May 28, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 704 Liberty avenue (700 displayed) south side, 32 ft. east of Elton street (2nd floor); (Block 3986, Lot 11), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 26, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 1171-45, reads:

"1. Exits to comply with Sec. 270 of Labor Law.

"2. Floors to be adequate for 120 lbs. per sq. ft. live-load as per Sec. 7.3.2.3 of Bldg. Code."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated January 31, 1945, relating to Violation 7307-43, reads:

"With further reference to our conversation a day or two ago, I have had the plans filed with New Building 11861/22 carefully re-examined, in the light of the present occupancy, and find that the exits are not in conformity with the requirements of Section 270 of the Labor Law, as would be required for the present factory occupancy on which the violation was placed. In order to make the building comply with these requirements, it would be necessary to provide an additional fireproof stair enclosed with fireproof partition from the first to the second floors. This, of course, would entail considerable expense. The alternative would be to file an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals. Such an application, in my mind, has a very good chance of being approved by the Board, as there is an exterior stair now existing on the building, in addition to the interior stair and the occupancy of the building is considerably reduced from that permitted under its existing legal occupancy as a dance hall.

The second floor of this building is designed for a liveload of 100 lbs. While under the law, a liveload of 120 lbs. is required for manufacturing, I feel that, if the manufacturing is of the kind that will not exceed the liveload now permitted, it could be accepted."

WHEREAS, Violation 7307-43 reads:

"Premises at stated location are being occupied as follows:

1st floor—luncheonette and stock room for factory.

2nd floor—manufacturing with a certificate of occupancy from this department. Certificate of Occupancy 3781-43 is for store, meeting room and dance hall."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 2 stories (34 ft.) in height, 34 ft. by 90 ft. in area, of class 3 construction, erected in 1923, located in a business use, C area and class 1 height district and used and occupied as follows: cellar—vacant; 1st floor—luncheonette and storage—27 persons; 2nd floor—manufacturing children's dresses—17 persons; that no change in use or occupancy is proposed; that the building is equipped with one 3 ft. 8 in. iron stairs, enclosed in 8 in. brick construction, equipped with kalamein, self-closing doors and leading directly to the street; that a ladder and scuttle to the roof is provided; that there is also one fire escape at the rear, extending to the court by stairs, with egress through the side court to the street; that windows and doors on the course of the fire escape are fireproof, self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that there is a 4 in. wide iron stairs on the exterior of the building, in addition to a legally constructed interior stairs; that the present occupancy has been considerably reduced from that permitted under the original legal occupancy as a dance hall; that windows and doors on the exterior stair are or will be self-closing, fireproof with wire glass and there are no windows in lot line walls of adjoining buildings flanking the exterior stair; it is also requested that the Board allow a reduction in the liveload from 120 to 100 lbs., which is the stated carrying capacity of the floors, as the second floor carries only sewing machines and small incidental equipment; that cases stored on the 1st floor contain cloth, boxed 24 in. x 26 in. x 38 in. high, weighing 260 lbs. each; and

WHEREAS, Certificate of Occupancy 3781, issued under Applic. 3691-23, permits the use of the building as store, meeting room and dance hall and that the number of persons and floor load not stated.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 1171-45, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 1, on condition that the primary means of exit, leading directly to Liberty avenue, as described and shown on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received May 28, 1945", shall be maintained; that in addition, the exterior steel stair serving as a second means of exit, leading to the yard and thence by court to Liberty avenue shall be maintained; that any gate, at or near the building line of Liberty avenue from such court, shall be made to swing outwardly; that a fixed iron ladder shall be maintained at the rear as an exit from the roof to the rear steel stairs; and granted as to objection 2, on condition that the approved floor load of 100 lbs. per superficial foot, may be continued, provided the type of manufacturing is such that the floor shall not be loaded beyond that capacity; that floor load signs shall be posted; that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that a certificate of occupancy superseding Certificate No. 3781 shall be obtained; and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

THE RESOLUTION (349-45-A)

WHEREAS, Henry George Greene, for Gelstemp Realty Corporation, owner, filed June 6, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 569-573 Prospect avenue, west side, 25 ft. of East 150th street (Block 2674, Lot 9), Borough of The Bronx; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 279-44, dated May 7, 1945, reads:

"2. State correct live load and number of males and females on each floor. Certificate of Occupancy of No. 1915-22 was approved for 120 lb. liveload first floor and 100 lb. liveload on 2nd floor. Show framing for 2nd floor good for 120 lbs. liveload. Reconsideration denied.

"4. Show full compliance with Labor Law, Industrial Code and Rules of the Board for factory buildings, erected after 1913. The means of egress are inadequate. Provide two lawful exits from each floor area. Stairs from cellar should be enclosed to street. Stairways should be constructed and enclosed as per Sec. 270 Labor Law. Bakery exits are not acceptable."

and

WHEREAS, the building is one and two stories (25 ft.) in height; 75 ft. by 100 ft. in area at the 1st floor; 75 ft. by 60 ft. in area at the second floor; of Class 3 construction; erected 1922; located in a business use, B area and Class 1½ height district and used and occupied since 1938 as follows: cellar, storage; 1st floor, stores and bakery, 25 persons; 2nd floor, manufacturing coats, 18 persons; that no change in use or occupancy is proposed; that the building is equipped with two 3 ft. 8 in. wide wood stairs, enclosed in fire retarded partitions, equipped with fireproof self-closing doors, and leading directly to the street; that a ladder and scuttle to the roof is provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the use of the 2nd floor is light manufacturing, both stairways are steel enclosed in fire retarded partitions, fire retarded on one side; that these stairs comply generally with the requirements of the Labor Law as to stairway construction; that the occupancy of the 2nd floor is limited to 18 persons and has a one hundred lb. per sq. ft. liveload; that the present use of the 2nd floor does not approach the allowable live load; that the conditions are existing and any changes necessary to bring the present exits and live load up to requirements, would involve a great deal of expense without adding to the effectiveness of the exit and loading conditions; it is therefore requested the Board permit the present occupancy to be accepted.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 279-44, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 2, only as to the liveload on the second floor, on condition that such liveload shall be not less than 100 lbs. per superficial foot and shall be so posted; that the type of manufacturing permitted shall at no time exceed such loading; as to objection 4, that the means of exit from the second floor shall be maintained substantially as indicated on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received June 6, 1945," on condition that the closure partition shall be of a construction as approved for one hour test; that the doors leading thereto shall be fireproof, self-closing; that the scuttle to roof in the southerly stairs shall be maintained and a similar ladder and scuttle maintained on the northerly stair; that the exits as proposed from the bakery in the rear may be accepted, provided the passage as shown on plans, leading to Prospect avenue is maintained, as well as the passage from bakery leading through the store to Prospect avenue and the store door made to swing outwardly; that no manufacturing shall be carried on in the other three stores; that the exits from such three other stores are not being passed upon under this appeal; and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

THE RESOLUTION (363-45-A)

WHEREAS, Edgar Moeller, for Beremed Realty Co., Inc., owner, filed June 13, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 1029-1039 Sixth avenue and 103-105 West 38th street, southwest corner, and 104-106 West 39th street, north side, 60 ft. west of 6th avenue (Block 814, Lots 32, 33, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45 and 45½), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 6, 1945, on N. B. Applic. 52-44, reads:

"26. Height of bldg. should comply with Section 8 (g) of Zone Resolution.

27. Area of bldg. should comply with Section 12 (b) of Zone Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will be 40 stories (510 ft.) in height, 117 ft. by 40 ft. and 100 ft. in area, of class 1 construction, located in a retail use, B area and class 2 height district and to used and occupied: sub-cellar—loading space, boiler room, machinery and equipment—6 persons; cellar—5% manufacturing, stores and showrooms—503 persons; 1st to 40th floors—5% manufacturing, stores and showrooms; that the building will be equipped with a two source sprinkler system, a standpipe system, an interior fire alarm system and that fire drills will be maintained; that there will be three 3 ft. 8 in. wide fireproof stairs from the roof to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant addressed the following communication on January 6, 1945 to the borough superintendent, Department of Housing and Buildings:

"With reference to our Application No. N. B. 52-44 which was filed with your Department on July 31, 1944, for a new building to be erected on the above captioned property, we respectfully submitt the following:

Complete construction plans and specifications including the structrual steel, have been submitted, examined by your engineer, amended as required, and finally approved as fulfilling the requirements of the existing law, subject only to the submission of adequate boring data which substantiated the assumption (of fast rock) made in the design for the foundations.

The making of the required six borings, distributed over the 15,000 sq. ft. of the property, was practically impossible under the existing conditions, as the buildings covering the property, are all occupied, and the rental is of assistance in carrying the property until the end of the present emergency, permits the owner to proceed with construction of the new building; the making of these borings would not only seriously affect the tenants, but also the Insurance Policies of the contractor making such borings in occupied buildings.

A statement has been made on the Amendment to the Application that "Records of the borings or test pits, and the character of soil and bearing capacity, will be filed before work is started on the premises".

We also submitted the result of borings made when the Subways were built, taken from the records on file at the Board of Transportation, one of which is on the East Building Line of our property on 6th avenue between 38th and 39th streets, showing rock 29 ft. below the curb, and another on the Broadway Building line between 38th and 39th streets, showing rock 14 ft. below the curb, indicating a trend upward of the rock, from East to West under our proposed building, the sub-cellar of which will be 23 ft. 6 in. and 26 ft. below the curb.

The plans of the building have also been submitted to the Board of Transportation and approved by them, and a copy of this approval transmitted to your Department.

On or about Dec. 12th, 1944, the owner received a letter from you dated Dec. 11, 1944, (copy of which was sent to me), stating in effect, that due to an amendment to the Zoning Law effective Dec. 2, 1944, the plans and Application N. B. 52-44 could not now be approved, thus automatically cancelling the previous approval.

Mr. Emil Friedlander, one of the owners of this property, is President and owner of "Dazien's," which is one of the largest, oldest and best known of the Importers & Manufacturers of theatrical and other costumes, draperies, etc. with branches in various of the larger cities, from coast to coast, their principal office being at 142 West 44th street, N. Y. C.

Mr. Friedlander and his associates bought this property and propose to erect this building as an investment, and primarily to consolidate in one building, the Office and the New York Showrooms, Salesrooms, etc. of Dazien's, and various of their other interests, as well as those of affiliated concerns.

As this type of construction is not essential to the war effort and therefore actual work on the building must be postponed for an indefinite time, the owners have retained the existing buildings and their tenants on short term, cancellable leases, so that the income can be applied to the cost of carrying the property.

They will, however, start construction as soon as the present National Emergency is over, and materials and labor are released by the Federal Authorities for this purpose.

In view of the above stated conditions, we respectfully request the re-issuance of the Approval of the Application, and further, that the heretofore mentioned data and explanation as to the borings be acccpted, and the Approval be completed without the requirement of submitting further boring data at this time."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated January 23, 1945, reads:

> "Your letter of January 6, 1945, requesting that the previous status of the subject application be reinstated has been carefully considered.
> You are advised that this Department may not approve the application unless it conforms to the amendment of the Zoning Resolution which became effective December 2, 1944.
> Of course, you are aware that an appeal from this decision may be taken to the Board of Standards and Appeals for review."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant has filed a copy of a communication dated December 11, 1944, sent by the borough superintendent, which reads as follows:

> "On November 30th this Department wrote you that as of said date, an approval would have been given on the subject application had satisfactory boring data been submitted.
> You are now advised that the application may not be approved, as it does not comply with the requirements of the amendment to the Zoning Resolution which became effective December 2, 1944."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant has filed a copy of a communication dated November 30, 1944, addressed to the architect by the borough superintendent, reading as follows:

> "You are advised that the examination of the application submitted on the above premises under the subject application number, shows that the plans would be approved under the existing law if adequate boring data were submitted, which substantiated the assumption made in the design for the foundations."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that construction plans and application were filed under N. B. Applic. 52-44 on July 31, 1944; that the first objections were received August 12, 1944 and amendment filed August 17, 1944; that additional objections were received September 12, 1944, amendment and revised plans filed September 18, 1944; that these amendments and revised plans after examination were declared satisfactory and the steel framing plans were prepared as rapidly as possible and the complete structural steel plans and column schedule were filed October 17, 1944; that complete construction and structural steel plans were finally declared satisfactory and could be approved, subject to satisfactory boring data being submitted, and this endorsement by the examiner was made on the application on November 30, 1944; that as a result of this, the applicant received a Letter of Approval from the Department dated November 30, 1944; that subsequently a letter was received from the Department dated December 11, 1944, revoking this approval; that the applicant then wrote to the Department under date of January 6, 1945, asking reconsideration of the action of December 11, 1944 and in answer to this request, a communication dated January 23, 1945 was received denying such request; that the application was filed more than four months before the zoning amendments became operative and the time elapsing between the date of filing and the date of approval was not due to delay on the applicant's part, but to conditions in the Department, probably due to the lack of sufficient examiners to examine the many new building plans filed to forestall the proposed amendments to the Zoning Resolution; that as a result of information that the Department had reinstated approval of plans and applications where permits had been obtained although no work had been done, and having been informed by the Chief Engineer and Acting Borough Superintendent that the lack of more definite boring data at this time would not of itself hold up the approval, an amendment was filed May 29, 1945 and disapproved June 6, 1945 by objections 26 and 27 herein appealed; that the owners purchased this property in good faith, for their own use and with the intention of proceeding with the building as soon as permitted by the Federal authorities; that it was impossible to enter into a legitimate contract for construction and therefore a permit could not be obtained; that the issuance of a permit is a routine action and such a permit must be issued to the construction contractor when he files his Certificate of Insurance; that in view of the policy of the Department in reinstating approvals where permits have been obtained even though no work has been done and at the same time refusing such reinstatements where permits could not be obtained due to conditions beyond the control of the owners, seems to be arbitrary and untenable; it is therefore requested that the Board modify the decision of the borough superintendent and grant an approval of the application and plans; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no basis presented to justify restoring the alleged approval of plans in view of the amendmeents to the Zoning Resolution effective December 2, 1944, with which the plans are not in compliance and in view of there having been no permit issued and no substantial work done at the site prior to December 2, 1944.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on N.B. Applic. 52-44, objections 26 and 27, be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (317-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Stanley H. Klein, for Estate of F. D. Underwood (E. W. Underwood, Executor), owner, filed May 17, 1945, an application under section 7e of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use district, the change of occupancy from a garage for more than five motor vehicles and dwelling to a chemical laboratory, office and dwelling for a temporary period; affecting premises 330 West 70th street, south side, 329.3 ft. west of West End avenue (Block 1181, Lot 46), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals at its regular meeting, July 3, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that West 70th street is in a residence use, A area and Class 2 height district; West 69th street is in an unrestricted use, A area and Class 2 height district; West End avenue is in a business use, A area, Class 2 height district; and West Side highway is in an unrestricted use district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, issued May 15, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 556-45, reads:

"1. Non-conforming use of factory and laboratory on 1st floor and office and chemical research laboratory on 2nd floor changed from garage use on 1st and 2nd floors in a residence district, is contrary to Section 3, Zoning Resolution, and may not be granted by this Department, under Section 6, Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 23 ft. 2 in, frontage by 100 ft. 5 in. in depth on which is located a 3-story, Class 3 constructed building, 23 ft. 2 in. by 90 ft., occupied as a garage for more than five motor vehicles and dwelling for 1 family and that it is proposed to occupy the building as a chemical laboratory, factory, office and dwelling for one family; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the existing 3-story non-fireproof building was erected in 1889 under New Building Applic. No. 1740, is set 10 ft. back from building line and consists of a 3-story main building with two-story rear extension (no cellar); that it was originally built and used as stable and carriage room on 1st and 2nd floors and chauffeur's quarters on third floor; that in 1909, Alt. No. 2081 was filed and approved for erection of heater room under sidewalk within area of property; that this work was completed; that the occupancy stated at that time was garage on 1st and 2nd floors and caretaker's apartment on 3rd floor; that since that time, Fire Dept. records show that the first floor was used for live storage of cars, the 2nd floor for storage and 3rd floor for caretaker; that for some time gasoline was stored, but this had been discontinued and tanks sealed; that in 1924 under V.P. No. 251, the stairs and ceiling of first floor and ceiling of main building of 2nd floor were fire-retarded with ½ in. plaster board and 26 gauge metal under supervision of Fire Dept. in accordance with Violation No. 20350-LC.; that the building is used at present for live storage of cars on 1st floor, storage on 2nd floor and caretaker's apartment on 3rd floor; that proposed occupancy is for a chemical laboratory and factory on 1st floor, 4 persons; office and research laboratory on 2nd floor, 4 persons; caretaker's apartment on 3rd floor, 2 persons; that the chemical laboratory and factory are for the development and manufacture of water soluble materials, such as a concrete floor hardener, a cleansing powder and similar items; that no inflammable materials or mixtures are to be used, except those normally used by research chemists in their work and will not exceed the amounts allowed in the Building Code; that the bulk of the business at present, is the manufacture of the liquid concrete floor hardener, over 80% of which is used by war plants to stop the dusting of cement floors; that the only alteration work contemplated at present, is to provide lally columns as required, for the support of the 2nd floor and to fire-retard both sides of the stair enclosure between 2nd and 3rd floors and provide a ¾ hour door; that this will provide a completely enclosed fire-retarded stair from the street to the third floor landing; that no other alteration work is to be done to 2nd floor under this application, as this space is not needed at present; that the third floor is to remain as an apartment for the exclusive use of the caretaker; that the present use of the garage is more hazardous and more objectionable than proposed use, in view of low occupancy and non-hazardous nature of the work; that the majority of buildings on south side of West 70th street are garages or repair shops; that a research chemical laboratory and factory occupies the adjoining buildings; that of 12 plots, 376 feet are occupied on first floor for business purposes and 135 feet (8 plots) are residential; that in June 1944, the Planning Commission proposed to rezone the south side of West 70th street west of West End avenue, from residence to business use; that the proposed occupancy is acceptable in a business district; that the present one is not; that the south half of Block 1181 and all the blocks south are zoned "unrestricted"; that the north side of West 70th street and blocks north are residential; that the area to the west is occupied by the N. Y. Central Railroad and zoned unrestricted; that West End avenue is business south of West 70th street and residential to the north; that the exit facilities to be provided, are in accordance with Cal. 318-45-A; that in view of the aforementioned reasons, the general character of the neighborhood, the present occupancy of the building and greater desirability of the proposed occupancy, this appeal is being made for relief under Section 7e; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision e, of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 7e for a term of two (2) years from the date of this action, to permit the premises to be occupied substantially as proposed, on condition that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto, other than as modified by the Board under Cal. 318-45-A; that the number of occupants shall not exceed the number stated; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct.

WHEREAS, the applicant requested a further amendment of the resolution, based on an order of the fire commissioner and a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 62-70 East 92nd street, south side, 108 ft. west of Park avenue (4th and 5th floors); (Block 1503, Lots 43 and 44), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on April 17, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, Order 32979-LF of the Fire Commissioner, dated June 12, 1945, reads:

> "1. Install an adequate electric closed circuit interior fire alarm system, of an approved type in accordance with the interior fire alarm rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the Borough Superintendent, dated March 16, 1945, acting on Alt. Applic. 357-45 reads:

> "3. Obtain a variation from the Board of Standards and Appeals. Calendar 298-39-A.

> "5. The means of egress are inadequate as per C26-278 A. Code. Provide means of egress conforming with C26-273 B. (2) and C26-272 A. Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building which was erected in 1923, is 5-story and penthouse (62 ft. 8 in.) in height, 31 ft. 10 in. by 65 ft. 11 in. in area, of class 3 construction, located in residence use, B area and class 1½ height district; used by the church for administrative and social welfare work under a resolution of the Board of Standards and Appeals, adopted March 28,. 1939, amended April 11, 1939 under Cal. 298-39-A; occupied: cellar, services, boiler room and storage, 1 person; 1st and mezzanine floors, reception, administration, 25 persons; 2nd floor, dining and lounge, 50 persons; 3rd floor, library and conference, 50 persons; 4th floor, conference, 40 persons; 5th floor, study and conference, 40 persons; pent house, sun room, 20 persons; and proposed to be occupied without change, except the 4th and 5th floors, which will be for Conference and Nursery School, 40 persons each floor; that the means of egress consist of one 3 ft. 8 in. fireproof stairway, leading from the roof bulkhead to an exterior passage on the 1st story, connecting this building with the adjoining church and exiting directly to East 92nd street; that all ceilings and partitions are covered with metal lath and plaster; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the owner acquired the present building at 62 East 92nd street in 1939, after the Board had granted an appeal for the use of the building for Parish House work; that alterations were made in accordance with the Board's resolution and a Certificate of Occupancy issued in 1940, classifying the building as "non-fireproof" construction and "public" occupancy; that in connection with its Parish House work, the Church operates a Nursery School in this building on weekday mornings, for children from 3½ to 6 years old; that the purpose of this school is to give children selected chiefly from Church membership, religious education and pre-school training; that the present enrollment is 55 children and this occupancy will not be exceeded; that after application was made to the Department of Health for a permit to operate this Nursery School, the Dept. of Housing and Buildings and the Fire

Dept. both made inspections of the premises and recommended respectively the following:

Department of Housing & Buildings:

"Building should be fire proof. A secondary means of exit stair on rear of building in the form of an exterior stair on rear of building, having safe egress from its termination, must be provided. An alteration application should be filed for the construction of same." Dated 11/13/44.

Fire Department:

"Install an approved interior fire alarm system or reduce the number of children to not more than 30." Dated 11/13/44.

and

WHEREAS, an appeal to the Board of Standards and Appeals was made January 23, 1945, to permit use of the building for a Nursery School, without complying with the above recommendations; that upon reconsideration, the Church requested the withdrawal of that appeal and has since filed plans showing an exterior stair and an interior fire alarm system; that the plans now filed with the Department of Housing & Buildings show a proposed exterior stair located on the vacant Lot 43, adjacent to the Parish House; that by so locating the stair, the formal garden at the rear of Lot 44 is preserved and the light for the rooms on the rear of the building are preserved; that access to the new exterior stair is provided from the promenade tile roof at the 5th floor level and through one of the schoolrooms on the 4th floor level; that access from the 3rd floor has also been provided through a Conference Room; that no access to the stair is provided at the 2nd floor or 1st mezzanine levels; that to do so, would complicate the construction of the stair, and the primary concern is to provide an emergency exit for the occupants of the 4th and 5th floors; that plans filed with the Fire Department show a proposed non-coded closed circuit, supervised, constant ringing interior fire alarm system with wiring run in thin-wall tubing exposed; that the location of gongs and stations are indicated on the floor plans; that the church considers the work done by its Nursery school to be a most important feature in its religious educational program; that consideration has been given to the prosecution of this work in other locations in the church proper and on lower floors of the Parish House, but no satisfactory solution has been found; that the church proposes, when funds are available and building conditions permit, to erect a new fireproof building on Lot 43, which will house its school rooms; that the present building will probably be retained for administrative and welfare work, and the exterior stair removed; that the church is attempting to follow out the recommendations which the borough superintendent and the Fire Department consider necessary for the safety of the occupants, but to do so in as economical a manner as possible, due to the temporary nature of the school occupancy.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on March 28, 1939, as amended April 11, 1939, so that as amended, the resolution shall read:

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, on Alt. Applic. THE RESOLUTION (386-45-A)

WHEREAS, Alden B. MacNeil, for Alfour Properties, Inc., owner (Ernest Waldvogel, lessee, representing the Ridgewood Pentecostal Church), filed June 19, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 9001-9011 Avenue L, northeast corner of Remsen avenue (Block 8236, Lot 6), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 8, 1945, on B.N. Applic. 670-45, reads:

"1. Canvas tent for religious purposes is contrary to Sect. 4.2.1 of the Code.

2. Wood fence exceeding 10 ft. in height is contrary to Sect. 8.7.2.6.4 of the Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed structure will consist of a canvas tent, 1 story (18 ft.) in height, 30 ft. by 60 ft. in area, to be located in a residence use, D area and class 1 height district and used for religious meetings with an occupancy of 125 persons; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that permits have been issued in the past and similar tents erected in previous years up to and including last year; that these tents withstood the hurricane that toppled so many other structures; that an approved flameproofing compound will be used to flameproof the canvas; it is therefore requested that the Board permit the erection of this tent for a specified period, so that a permit may be obtained from the borough superintendent under Section 8.7.2.7.2 of the Administrative Building Code; and

WHEREAS, authorization of the owner, addressed to the applicant states that the use is authorized during the months of July, August and September of 1945, effective only when and if, a public liability policy in the extent of $100,000 is filed before July 1, 1945, with the owners, indemnifying the owners against any accidents on the premises during such occupancy.

THE RESOLUTION (390-45-A)

WHEREAS, New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed June 15, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting the James Weldon Johnson Houses, bounded by East 112th street, Park avenue, East 115th street and Third avenue (Blocks 1640, 1641 and 1642), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 6, 1945, on N.B. Applic. 37 to 82-45, inclusive, reads:

"A3. Incinerator openings into public halls must be equipped with fireproof self-closing one-hour doors in addition to the regulation hopper doors."

and

WHEREAS, reconsideration of this objection was denied by the borough superintendent on May 23, 1945; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the buildings will be 6, 10 and 14 stories in height; of Class 1 construction and used as multiple dwellings; that each six-story unit will be equipped with a single stairway and each unit over 6 stories in height will be equipped with a double stairway of fireproof construction from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the incinerators are of a non-fuel fired type and therefore not subject to the same degree of heat or fire hazard as fuel oil fired incinerators; that the incinerator openings will be provided with self-closing hopper doors and frames having a one-hour fire test rating and therefore it is unnecessary to add any further protection; that in accordance with the code, any hopper service door placed a foot or more off the required lines of egress travel would be acceptable, without the use of a protective door; that this could not, therefore be construed to give any more protection to the egress enclosure in which most incinerator openings are located; that in buildings where such protective doors have been installed, said doors have not only been a continual nuisance to the tenants, by not only interfering with the convenient operation of the hopper door, but also have been the cause of people spilling refuse, thereby creating an unsanitary condition; that people's clothes become soiled every time they use the incinerator, as they must lean against the protective door to hold it open; that in general, this additional door is very impractical; that most buildings heretofore using this protective door, have been of non-fireproof construction, whereas all these buildings will be Class I fireproof structures.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on N.B. Applics. 37 to 82-45, inclusive, Objection A-3, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the proposed incinerator hopper assembly shall be of the type as approved by the Board, as meeting the requirements for one-hour rating.

THE RESOLUTION (397-45-A)

WHEREAS, Joseph Kleinberger and Paul Chapman for Atlantic Leasing Co., Inc., owner, filed June 21, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, effecting premises: 1580-1590 Broadway and 200 West 48th street, southeast corner, and 710-720 7th avenue, (roof); (Block 1019, Lot 36), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated March 9, 1945, on Bldg. Notice 351-45, reads:

"5. The plaque as a part of the sign, shows a tight surface which would restrict the sign to 31 ft. above roof B26-11."

and

WHEREAS, the amendment dated April 2, 1945 on Bldg. Notice 351-45, reads:

"5. The plaques and the framework will not cause more than 35 per cent of the area of the structure to be exposed to wind pressure. Allowance is therefore requested under B26-11-b-2."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 23, 1945, reads:

"Reconsideration to Obj. No. 5 is denied as per Supt. note dated 5/23/45."

and

WHEREAS, the note of the borough superintendent, dated May 23, 1945, as to such decision reads:

"Reconsideration denied. E.P.L. 5/23/45."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is two stories and mezzanine (40 ft.) in height, 93 ft. by 125 ft. in area; Class 1 construction, erected in 1912, located in a retail use, B area and Class 2 height district; used and occupied: Cellar, storage and restaurant, 500 persons; 1st floor, stores, 100 persons; 2nd floor restaurant and cabaret, 650 persons; mezzanine, kitchen, 20 persons; that the building is equipped with one 7 ft. 6 in. wide steel stairs, fireproof enclosed, leading directly to the street, having fireproof, self-closing doors thereto and provided with a ladder and scuttle to the roof and one counterbalanced stair to grade on the 7th Avenue side; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that plans and application were submitted to the borough superintendent for a roof sign 75 ft. high and 90 ft. long; that in accordance with B26-11.b restriction 2 of the Administrative Code, the portion of the sign shown covered and exposed to wind, was less than 35% of the total area; that the examiner in the Department of Housing and Buildings disapproved the application by objection 5, dated March 9, 1945; that attention is called to the examiner's statement "as part of the sign," upon which he appears to base the disapproval; that the denial appears based on restriction 1 of B26-11.b "Any roof signs having a tight closed or solid surface shall not extend more than 31 feet above the roof level at any point;" that the examiner in his objection 5, "The plaque as part of the sign" concedes that the sign itself is not a "sign having a tight closed or solid surface," since the plaques with the framework are less than 35% of the sign area; that the practice of the Department for many years past, has been to classify a sign having not more than 35% of its area covered, whether by plaques or otherwise, as a "sign not having a tight closed or solid surface;" that the plaques on the proposed sign are to be removable and are designed to meet advertising requirements; that if the intent of the Code had been to classify a sign having less than 35% of its area covered as a "sign having a tight closed or solid surface," the restriction would certainly have so stated; that restriction 1 should stand on its own merits; that restriction 2 is more than a restriction, since it allows the erection of 75 ft. signs on fireproof buildings and 50 ft. signs on nonfireproof buildings with the sole restriction that not more than 35% of the total area be covered and exposed to wind; that the sign proposed meets the requirements of the zoning ordinance; and

WHEREAS, the premises is located in a retail-1 use district and not in a retail use district, as stated by the applicant; and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Board, the sign in question should be considered as coming within the purview of subdivision 2 of Section B26-11.0.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Building Notice 351-45, objection 5, dated May 23, 1945, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that in all other respects, the sign structure shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto and that the amount of closed space shall not exceed 35 per cent. of the total area of the sign, whether the closed space is in the form of a plaque or fixed portion of the sign, provided that the plaque is firmly attached to the sign, but may be arranged so that it can be removed for changing the advertising matter; and that the sign as shown to be double-sided, shall be deemed a single sign structure.

THE RESOLUTION (297-39-BZ)

WHEREAS, this application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, permitting in a business use district the conversion of occupancy of an existing building to a motor vehicle repair shop, affecting premises 842 First avenue, and 400 East 47th street, southeast corner (Block 1358, Lot 47), Borough of Manhattan, was granted by the Board July 18, 1939, on certain conditions, for a term of two years; and

WHEREAS, the permit was extended on May 27, 1941 and September 14, 1943; and

WHEREAS, requested an amendment of the resolution, under section 7i of the zoning resolution, affecting premises 838-842 1st avenue and 400 East 47th street, southeast corner (Block 1358, part of Lot 47), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on February 15, 1944 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting July 10, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that 1st avenue is in a business use, B area, Class 2 height district, and East 46th, 47th and 48th streets are in an unrestricted use, B area, and Class 2 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated January 24, 1944, acting on Alt. Applic. 1202-44, reads:

"1. Proposed changing of use of premises 840 First avenue from a store to a motor vehicle repair shop and brake testing in a business district is contrary to Section 4, Zone Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises consist of a plot 59 ft. 10 in. by 60 ft. on which is a one story, Class 3 constructed building 54 ft. 6 in. by 60 ft., occupied as a store and it is proposed to use this building as a motor vehicle repair shop; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the property faces on 1st avenue, which has probably the greatest amount of automobile and truck traffic in the city; that there is very little pedestrian traffic in this block and consequently the logical use of the property is in connection with the automobile industry and more specifically for automobile repair work; that the lessee who also occupies the adjacent stores, the one to the north for the same purpose, needs this additional space for his enlarged repair business; that due to the great volume of vehicular traffic and virtual absence of pedestrians as well as the character of the neighborhood and the occupancy of the adjoining properties, which are meat packing and slaughter houses, garages, gasoline stations, factories, it is requested that the application be granted.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted July 18, 1939, which was amended September 14, 1943, to bring it under section 7i instead of 21, for a term of two years, so that the resolution adopted July 18, 1939 shall read:

"Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the Zoning Resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted, for a term of two (2) years from September 14, 1945, permitting the building under appeal to be occupied as a motor vehicle repair shop, consisting mainly of brake testing, on condition that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that the repairing shall be restricted to brake testing and light motor vehicle repairs, excluding the use of acetylene torches, anvils, heavy repairing and fender work; that the existing signs on the building shall not be increased; that no gasoline shall be stored on the premises other than in the tanks of cars being serviced.

"Resolved further, that a portion of the building adjoining to the south having a frontage of 34 feet and a depth of 60 feet may also be used by the same concern for motor vehicle repairing as hereinbefore permitted, on condition that the building shall not be increased in height and area; that such portable fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; that no openings shall be constructed between this building and the corner building at 842 First avenue; that existing signs on this building and on the corner building, if not in accordance with the requirements therefor, shall be made to conform thereto; that such additional extension of use of the entire premises is granted under section 7 subdiv i for a term of two years from September 14, 1945; and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within six months from the date of this amended resolution."

THE RESOLUTION (624-44-BZ)

WHEREAS, Henry Nordheim, for Catherine Lama, owner, filed October 30, 1944, an application under section 7f of the zoning resolution, to permit on a lot in a business use district on which there exists a garage for three motor vehicles, an additional garage for two motor vehicles; affecting premises 1632 Glover street, east side, 40 ft. 9 in. south of Castle Hill avenue (Block 3990, Lot 33), Borough of The Bronx; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 10, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Glover street, Castle Hill avenue, Stearns street and Parker street are in a business use, C area and class 1¼ height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated October 25, 1944, re S.A. Applic. 1268-32, reads:

"Your letter of October 20, regarding your application for a certificate of occupancy for a two car garage at the subject premises has been received.

"As you were advised on November 16, 1942, your application for a certificate of occupancy for a two car garage situated on the front of the premises known as 1632 Glover street, Bronx, was denied for the reason that on these premises and on the adjoining premises known as 1630 Glover street, both of which are located in a business district, there are in existence not less than 4 garages, housing a total of 7 cars, and while the erection of these garages have been approved by this Department, it now appears that they are under the same management and control, contrary to Section 4-a-15 of the Building Zone Resolution. Your application for a Certificate of Occupancy is again denied."

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 27 ft. frontage by 95 ft. in depth, on which are located two garages, one for 3 cars at the rear, 27 ft. by 20 ft. one story and one for 2 cars at the front, one story frame, 18 ft. by 18 ft. 3 in. and it is proposed to maintain these garages; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the garage was constructed under a permit issued in 1932 known as S.A. 1268-32; that the Fire Department issued permits for the garage yearly up to 1939; that in 1940, the Fire Department refused to issue any further permits unless a certificate of occupancy could be shown; that on June 5, 1942, an application for a certificate of occupancy was filed with a note made thereon, that a certificate should be issued in accordance with Section 22 of the zoning resolution; that a certificate was denied and the matter was taken to the Board on application, under Cal. 882-42-A; that on the rear of this lot there is located a three car garage constructed under permit, N.B. 161-36; that the permit was issued for housing 4 cars, but when the lot was sold, an alteration application was filed known as Alt. 143-42, reducing the garage to a 3 car garage on this lot and a 1 car garage on adjoining lot; that this arrangement left the legal number of cars that may be stored on a lot in a business district at 5; that an application was filed for a certificate of occupancy and such was issued, known as No. 973, dated August 14, 1942; that a significant fact is that the same superintendent who approved the altering of the rear brick garage into two buildings, issuing permits 143-42 and Alt. 144-42, then issued two certificates of occupancy, but now refuses the certificate for this two car garage, which he knew existed prior to the erection of the rear 3 car garage; that the superintendent found no fault with issuing permits on April 11, 1942, to alter the rear four car garage into two buildings and also requested that a plan be filed for the one car frame garage, located on adjoining lot 32; that the permit is N.B. 145-42, which was also approved, but the superintendent subsequently refused to issue a certificate of occupancy for the one car garage and requested that a plan be filed as an existing building; that in the denial of October 25, 1944, the Superintendent claims that all garages on this lot and those on the adjoining lot are under the same management and control, which is not so, as the five cars stored in these two garages are all separately owned, no part of any fleet of cars and the rents are paid to the owner, Catherine Lama; that the records in the Department of Buildings disprove such contention; that the recommendation that a certificate be issued by his inspectors is on the records and the issuance of curb cuts is on the records; that there is no good reason why a certificate of occupancy should be withheld, as the conditions in this case are entirely in conformance with the zoning resolution, not only as to requirements, but also to allowances that five motor vehicles may be housed on a lot in a business district; that the owner of this site, Lot 33 is in no way connected with the ownership of Lot 32, which lot is owned by Lucy Caslucci as may be noted in Cal. 882-42-A; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision f. of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 7f, for a term of ten (10) years from the date of this resolution, to permit the occupancy of the two separate buildings on the lots as shown on plans filed with this application marked "Received October 30, 1944" for a occupancy of three (3) cars in the building at the rear and two (2) cars in the building at the front, on condition that no additional buildings shall be erected on the premises and the intervening space between the garages shall not be occupied for parking or storage; that this use herein granted shall not be used in connection with any adjoining lot; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within six (6) months from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (43-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Bay Ridge Savings Bank, owner, filed January 31, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a business use, C area district, the extension in area of a bank building to cover the entire lot and omit the rear yard; affecting premises: 4724 13th avenue, northwest corner of 48th street (Block 5628, Lot 42), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 10, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that 13th avenue is in a business use, C area and Class 1 height district; 48th and 47th streets are in a residence use, C area and Class 1 times height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated January 5, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 3487-44 reads:

> "1. Proposed extension on premises located in a business zone C area and occupying the entire area of the lot, is contrary to Article IV, Section 13 of the Zoning Resolution.
> 2. Provide a rear yard as per Article IV, Section 17 of the Zoning Resolution. Denied."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot 60 ft. frontage by 100 ft. in depth, on which is located a one-story, mezzanine and cellar, Class 1 constructed bank building, 35 ft. by 100 ft. in area and that it is proposed to extend this building to cover an additional 25 ft. by 100 ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the plot is vacant, 25 ft. by 100 ft. on the northwesterly side of 13th avenue, between 48th and 47th streets; that in 1925, the Bay Ridge Savings Bank petitioned and obtained approval of the State Banking Dept. to purchase a plot 60 ft. by 100 ft. on the northwesterly corner of 13th avenue and 48th street, for the purpose of building a new branch bank; that this approval was necessary, as this aforementioned department regulates the location of all new savings banks and their branches, so that they may be located only in neighborhoods where such banking facilities are necessary; that in 1926, a savings bank was erected on the southerly 35 ft. by 100 ft. of the plot leaving the northerly 25 ft. by 100 ft. vacant; that it was estimated that such a building would be adequate for twenty years and then it could be enlarged to cover the entire area, if warranted; that the building was designed with this in view; that all leader and pipe lines were kept on the south side to avoid the necessity of future change; that the vault was located so that its door would be on the center of the future 60 ft. wide building and the northerly wall constructed of terra cotta with brick veneer, instead of solid brick, to make demolition easier; that in August, 1938, realizing the present quarters were becoming inadequate, the owner authorized its architects to make plans for increasing the work space on the first floor; that plans were made and estimates obtained; that because of government restrictions on materials, and because of the cost of the proposed alteration, it was abandoned; that it was decided that the addition on the northerly parcel would soon be necessary in any event and any changes in the existing building must wait; that in 1940, plans for the new addition on the plot were made, but were stopped by war conditions; that in November, 1944, final plans were filed with the Building Dept., in accordance with the law as it existed at that time, but the plans were subsequently disapproved by the Building Dept., because they did not comply with the new Zoning Regulations effective December 1, 1944; that it is apparent from the foregoing, the owner intended to erect the proposed addition and had not the war intervened, would have completed it in 1941; that the increase in the bank's business makes it necessary to revise the building; that the bank business is restricted to the street or ground level and it is necessary to extend the building to cover a greater area at the street level; that the building is one-story in height, far less than the legal limit; that it will not be increased in height and therefore is an asset, providing permanent light and air to adjacent residential areas; that it houses a mutual non-profit institution, rendering service to the public and the curtailment of its expansion would make it less able to serve the members of the community efficiently if the area of the addition is reduced; that the addition will not add to traffic congestion, since the number of employees will remain the same; that reduction in the area would necessarily be in the public space, as working spaces have fixed physical requirements; that because of the restrictions placed upon it, the owner may not use the plot for any other type of business and unless permitted to erect the proposed addition, the property will be useless; that it is located wholly within a business district; that the adjoining lot (4) is occupied for the entire 100 ft. by a one-story building; that lots 32 and 46 have ample space unoccupied by any structure, to insure adequate light and air with the proposed addition erected; that unless the addition is permitted for 100% occupancy of the lot, the owner will be required to abandon its present site and purchase property elsewhere; that this is a corner plot 60 ft. by 100 ft.; that under the provisions of Article IV, Section 13, subdivision (b) of the Zoning Resolution, a corner lot comprises 5,000 sq. ft.; that the present structure covers 3,500 sq. ft.; that under the Zoning Resolution, a building may occupy 7% of the area of a corner lot of 5,000 sq. ft.; that on the balance of 1,000 sq. ft., which is considered an interior lot, the building may only occupy 60% of the area of the lot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted revised plans, showing a space to be left unbuilt upon at the rear, equivalent to the requirements for a rear yard; and

WHEREAS, the adjoining premises in the business use area are built up to the rear lot line and contribute no unbuilt-upon area to provide open spaces for the common benefit; and

WHEREAS, the only property actually affected is the lot in the rear, within the residence use area, which would not be available for a possible extension of the Bank because of the zoning restriction; and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Board, the open area proposed complies with the intent of the Zoning Resolution in view of the surrounding condition and the relatively low height of the existing and proposed one-story building; and

WHEREAS, the adjoining owner would not be benefited if there were strict compliance with the zoning requirements, which would permit all of the open area, except the rear yard, to be left at the front, and that the low height of the building benefits all more than would a higher building; and

WHEREAS, it would be a hardship not to permit the required extension of the ground-floor banking room on the lot reserved solely for that purpose, in view of the impracticability of placing an extension to the public space on a story added to the present one-story building, which is not proposed to be increased in height; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted, under section 21 thereof, to permit the extension in area, substantially as proposed and indicated on revised plans marked "Received July 3, 1945," provided the rear yard shall be left unbuilt upon as indicated on such plans, for a width of 25 feet and a depth of 10 feet; that such rear yard shall be cement paved or landscaped and a suitable wrought iron fence shall be erected and maintained to a height of not less than 5 feet at the rear lot line; that the building shall not be increased in height and area, unless in compliance with the zoning law requirements thereof; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that this variance shall continue only so long as the building is occupied as a bank; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within one year from the date of this resoluiton.

THE RESOLUTION (50-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, The Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, owner, filed February 3, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a business use, C area district, the erection of an extension to a bank building, the structure as extended occupying in excess of the permitted area, affecting premises: 1101 Avenue J. northeast corner of Coney Island avenue (Block 6704, Lot 49), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Coney Island avenue and Avenue J at this location are in a business use, C area and class 1¼ height district; Avenue J to the west of a line 100 ft. west of Coney Island avenue is in an E area district and from a point 25 ft. west of Coney Island avenue is in a residence use district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated January 5, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 3577-44, reads:

"1. Area of building is excessive for "C" area district as per Art. IV, par. 13, of Zone Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 100 ft. frontage by 80 ft. in depth, on which is located a one story and mezzanine building, 60 ft. by 80 ft. class 1 construction, occupied as a bank; that it is proposed to extend this building on the Avenue J front, so that the building as extended will be 100 ft. by 80 ft. in area and that the applicant also owns the plot in the rear, 20 ft. by 100 ft. occupied by a 3 story private residence; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that in 1932, the New York State Banking Department approved the purchase of the 80 ft. plot on Coney Island avenue by 100 ft. on Avenue J, for the purpose of building thereon, a bank building to house a new branch; that in 1932, the Bank built a building 60 ft. by 80 ft. on the corner and easterly side of the property leaving the easterly forty ft. vacant; that the bank estimated that with normality of growth, the building would be adequate for 20 years and could then be enlarged to cover the entire property, should this be warranted; that the building was designed and built with this ultimate addition in view and all columns, leaders and pipe lines were kept out of the easterly wall; that the girders were spanned from north to south, permitting extension of the building to the east, without interference; that due to the rapid growth of business, bank quarters became cramped and plans were filed in November 1944 to enlarge the bank to the full area of the lot; that these plans were disapproved by the Department of Housing and Buildings, because they did not comply with the new zoning regulations which came in force December 1, 1944, for the reason that the area of the new building on the ground floor covered 100% of the lot; that in order to remove this objection, it would be necessary to reduce the size of the addition by 40%; that the remaining 60% would not be suitable or of sufficient area for the proper expansion of the bank floor; that the following reasons are submitted for permitting the construction of the addition: that the building is a one story building, the height of which is far less than the legal limit and will never be increased in height and therefore is an asset rather than a hindrance to providing more light and air to the adjacent residential area; that the building is used to serve as a public institution and the curtailment of its expansion is a disservice to the members of the community, as the Bank will be less able to serve sufficiently if the area of the addition is reduced; that the present property is a one story fireproof building, the street walls of which are of limestone; that the building faces 80 ft. on Coney Island avenue and 60 ft. on Avenue J; that adjacent to the building at present is a one story taxpayer 40 ft. on Avenue J; that the proposed building will eliminate the taxpayer and extend the banking building the entire 100 ft. on Avenue J; that the extension will be of the same height, material and design as the existing 60 ft.; that the parcel to the north, 80 ft. from the corner on Coney Island avenue, is owned by the applicant and was purchased to protect the corner building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted revised plans, showing open space to be left unbuilt upon, not previously proposed, including the demolition of an adjoining building, to provide required open space at curb level; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed after inspection of the area in the rear, that the revised proposal complies with the spirit and intent of the resolution as to required open spaces, to be provided for the benefit of the surrounding occupancies; that in view of the need for more commodious banking-room space on ground floor, it would be a hardship to require strict compliance, as equivalent space added to the height of the building would not furnish the accommodations required, and that it would be less desirable from the standpoint of light and air to increase the height of the building; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under Section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardships.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under Section 21 thereof, to permit the building to be extended in area as indicated on revised plans marked "Received July 10, 1945," on condition that the addition as proposed on Avenue J shall not exceed the existing building in height, as indicated on plans filed with this application marked "Received February 3, 1945"; that the building shall not later be increased in height except in accordance with the zoning requirements; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that the space to be left unbuilt upon shall be landscaped and suitable steel fencing constructed on the building line of Coney Island avenue and on the rear property lines; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within one year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (210-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Joel D. Marder, for The Fifth Ave. Bank of New York, owner, filed April 5, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a retail and restricted retail use, B area district, the erection of an extension to a bank building occupying more than 65% of the lot area; affecting premises: 1-5 West 44th street, north side, 100 ft. west of Fifth avenue, (Block 1260, Lot 34), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 10, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that West 43d, 44th and 45th streets are in a retail use, B area and Class 1¼ and 2 height district and Fifth avenue is in a restricted retail use, B area and Class 1¼ and 2 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated March 9, 1945, re N.B. Applic. 152-44, reads:

"14. Repeat. Area of building should comply with Sec. 12 of Zoning Resolution".

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 87 ft. 9 in. frontage by 100 ft. 5 in. in depth on which it is proposed to erect an 8-story and cellar (105 ft. 8 in. high) Class 1 construction, 87 ft. 9 in. by 85 ft. 5 in. bank building, to be connected with the existing bank building on the corner of Fifth avenue and West 44th street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the entire premises consist of a plot having a frontage of 75 ft. 5 in. on Fifth avenue and 175 ft. on West 44th street, on which are located a 4-story building (530-534 Fifth avenue) and one and 2-story buildings at 1-5 West 44th street; that all these structures are occupied by the present owners, for their banking quarters and have been so owned and occupied for many years; that all the above properties were acquired for the purpose of providing space for future expansion as well as for immediate needs; that architectural studies were made in 1936 for improvements on these premises, but were considered inadequate and set aside as the time was not deemed opportune; that then the war intervened and these considerations were abandoned; that the building as planned, provides even less ground floor area than the earlier studies and the plans now filed are dictated by the minimum present requirements of this institution for their own necessary facilities, and cannot be further reduced without hampering the bank's operations, as it is necessary to locate the public banking space at street level; that no additional adjacent plottage can now be obtained, nor can they re-establish their quarters elsewhere without suffering extreme hardship and subsequent loss of prestige and business; that for the 87 ft. 9 in. addition as planned, the coverage up to the 2nd floor level is 86¾% as against 97% for the present buildings, while above the roof level of the present 4 story Fifth avenue building, which is to remain, the coverage of the entire premises is only 43%; that there will be no truck deliveries or handling of materials on the premises; that in accordance with allowable excess heights derived from adjoining buildings, the proposed structure could be built to a height of 112 ft. 8 in. for the westerly 75 ft. and 121 ft. 10 in. within 100 ft. of Fifth avenue, as against a planned height of only 105 ft. 8 in., whereas a new building on the corner parcel, 75 ft. 5 in. by 100 ft. could be erected to a height of 100 ft. without making use of existing excess heights, or 121 ft. 10 in. by using such excess heights; that there are no open areas whatever at the 1st floor level on any of the adjoining lots, except for two small wells at the rear of 2-6 West 45th street, which accommodate open stairways, and it would be a great hardship to the owner if he were not now permitted to utilize sufficient space for his requirements at the 1st story level, which would still leave vacant the only open area at the 1st floor, and a larger open space than on any of the abutting lots; that there are no nearby residences that might benefit from any greater open yards or courts than those shown and ample light and air are provided on the subject owner's lot for the occupants of the proposed, as well as the present building, to safeguard their health, welfare and reasonable comfort, beside greatly improving present conditions and the appearance of the neighborhood; and

WHEREAS, the applicant submitted revised plans, showing a greater area to be unbuilt upon than previously proposed; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the revised proposal meets the spirit and intent of the Zoning Resolution and furnishes more open space for the benefit of neighboring buildings than such buildings are now furnishing for the common benefit; that, in view of the proven need for greater ground-floor space for banking room at the street level, it would be a hardship to require complete compliance by adding extra height to the building to offset the area required to be left vacant at the curb level, when such space would not be located where the needs would be served; that the reduction of area above the existing low building on the plot, which is to remain, fully compensates adjoining owners for the additional coverage on the lower stories below the height of adjacent buildings; that in view of the greater coverage of the lot of the present buildings to be removed, the new proposal constitutes a greatly improved condition for the common welfare; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted, under section 21 thereof, to permit the extension in area on the lower floors only, as shown on revised plans marked "Received July 6, 1945", on condition that the rear yard shall be maintained to a depth of 31 ft. 2 in. at the rear above the first story, and a rear yard of 15 feet shall be maintained approximately at curb level; that such 15 foot portion of the rear yard shall be landscaped and appropriate wrought iron fence, maintained on the interior lot lines where walls of adjoining buildings do not occur; that above the roofs of the existing buildings facing Fifth avenue, the coverage shall not exceed the proposed coverage, approximately 40 per cent of the entire plot; that in all other respects, the requirements of the zoning resolution and all other laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto shall be complied with other than as modified by the Board under Cal. 211-45-A; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within one year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (285-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Glenn Phelps, for 341 Corporation, owner (J. A. Patterson Trucking Corporation, lessee), filed May 10, 1945, an application under section 7e of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use district, the change of occupancy of a garage for more than five motor vehicles, to storage of naval and military materials for a temporary period; affecting premises 329-335 and 337-341 Stanton street, southwest corner of Mangin street (Block 324, Lots 15 and 21), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 10, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the use district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Stanton street, Goerck street and Mangin street are in a residence use, D area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated April 10, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 166-44, affecting premises 337-341 Stanton street, reads:

"2. Repeat. Proposed use contrary to Sec. 3 and Sec. 6 of Article II of Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated April 11, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 165-44, affecting premises 329-335 Stanton street, reads:

"2. Repeat. Proposed use contrary to Sec. 3 and Sec. 6 of Article II of Zoning Resolution."

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of two plots, one 60 ft. frontage by 55 ft. 5 in. in depth, the other 79 ft. 4 in. frontage by 55 ft. 5 in. by 81 ft. 4 in. in depth, on which are located two 2 story class 2 and 3 constructed garages, occuping the entire plot, and that it is proposed to occupy the buildings for the storage of naval and military material for a temporary period; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that such materials are now stored in the premises by the Royal Norwegian Navy and are furnished them by the U.S. Navy on lend-lease; that the materials consist of cordage, ropes and cables, ships parts of various kinds, and also a minor but necessary proportion of arms and ammunition; that the Norwegian Navy declares that because of the proximity of these materials to their docks and ships, it is necessary and highly desirable to leave them stored there; that to move them now would incur a hardship on their overburdened manpower and would impede and interrupt their war effort; that at the time of the issuance of the certificates of occupancy, which permit the use of these premises for garage and motor vehicle storage purposes—the district was zoned as unrestricted; that several years later, in 1939, the district was rezoned for residential purposes; that this is a temporary measure and will not alter or change the appearance of the district in any way; that within a block's distance, there are various lumber yards, barrel storage yard, vacant storage yards, boiler works, etc.; it is therefore requested that the Board grant temporary permission until May 31, 1946 by authority under section 7e of the zoning resolution for the use of these buildings for the storage of War and Navy materials; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise its discretion to grant a variance under section 7e of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 7e thereof, to permit the building to be occupied for a temporary term during the present war emergency and for not over six (6) months thereafter, for the use as proposed, on condition that the building is not increased in height or area and in all other respects, complies with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto, other than as modified by the Board under Cal. 286-45-A, and permitting the use of the buildings as garages to be restored upon the termination of the proposed storage building use and occupancy and not requiring change of certificate of occupancy for the temporary use; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within three (3) months from the date of this resolution; that during the term of this occupancy the gasoline storage tanks within the building shall be sealed to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner.

THE RESOLUTION (211-45-A)

WHEREAS, Joel D. Marder, for The Fifth Avenue Bank of New York, owner, filed April 5, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 1-5 West 44th street, north side, 100 ft. west of 5th avenue (1st floor); (Block 1260, Lot 34), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated March 9, 1945, on N.B. Applic. 152-44, reads:

"3. Repeat. New 8 story fireproof building should be separated from existing 4 story non-fireproof building by walls of a 4 hr. fire resistive rating at all floors, Sec. 3.2.1 B.C. and all openings between buildings should be protected as per Sec. 10.8.1 B.C."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot having a frontage of 75 ft. 5 in. on 5th avenue and 175 ft. on West 44th street, on which it is proposed to erect an 8 story fireproof building as an extension to the present four story non-fireproof building on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and West 44th street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the existing 4 story building is occupied as follows: cellar, vaults and storage, 31 persons; 1st floor, banking offices, 125 persons; mezzanine, rest rooms, janitor's rooms, 10 persons; 2nd floor, trust department, 30 persons; 3rd floor, banking offices, 20 persons; 4th floor, banking offices, 15 persons; that the new building is proposed to be used and occupied as follows: cellar, vaults, equipment and maintenance, 40 persons; 1st floor, banking, 125 persons; 2nd to 8th floors, banking offices, 75 persons on the 2nd floor, 60 persons on the 3rd floor, 60 persons on the 4th floor and 50 persons on each of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th stories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the existing building was erected prior to 1889 and that the building as proposed will be 8 stories (105 ft. 8 in.) in height; 87 ft. 9 in. by 85 ft. 5 in. in area; of Class 1 construction; located in a retail and restricted retail use district, B area, Class 2 and Class 1¼ height district; equipped with one fire tower in proposed building and two stairways in present building; that these stairways extend to the roof bulkhead and lead directly to the street and are of fireproof construction, 3 ft. 8 in. wide, equipped with fireproof, self-closing doors; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that it is proposed to provide 4 hour opening protective assemblies separating the two buildings on all stories except the 1st story; that it is proposed to use the 1st floor as public banking space, which purpose would be entirely defeated by such dividing wall; that all openings in the fire wall in the basement, second, third and fourth stories will be provided with fire doors, complying with Section 10.8.1 of the Building Code; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the 1st floor of the present building is fireproof and ample exits are provided; that exit facilities for all floors of the present building will be improved, by the addition of horizontal exits to the proposed fireproof extension; that the proposed addition will house working personnel and will provide more light and air as well as horizontal exit, a new fire tower and a fire stairway in addition to the two existing stairways; it is therefore requested that the Board modify the provisions of the Administrative Code as requested.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on N.B. Applic. 152-44, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 3, on condition that the fire wall as required by the Code, shall be installed on all floors including the cellar, at the point where the proposed addition adjoins the existing building, except that on the first floor, such fire wall may be omitted, provided a sprinkler curtain shall be constructed and maintained continuously from north to south directly behind the girder, but not nearer than 2 feet thereto; that sprinkler heads shall be spaced not over four feet on centers; that such sprinkler heads shall be ½ in. in diameter and 165 degrees; that such sprinkler curtain may be fed from the domestic water service of the building, provided the water service line from the street is not less than 3 inches in diameter; that no street siamese for such water curtain need be installed; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto, other than as modified by the Board under Cal. 210-45-BZ.

THE RESOLUTION (286-45-A)

WHEREAS, Glenn Phelps for 341 Corporation, owner (J. A. Patterson Trucking Corp., lessee), filed May 10, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent and an order of the fire commissioner, affecting premises 329-335 Stanton street and 337-341 Stanton street, southwest corner Mangin street (ground and 2nd floors); (Block 324, Lots 15 and 21), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, Order 40821-LC, issued by the fire commissioner March 14, 1945, reads:

"Before a permit may be issued for the storage of small arms ammunition, the following must be done:

1. Submit evidence showing that the Department of Housing and Buildings has approved the change in occupancy from garage to a warehouse, including the storage of ammunition.

2. Discontinue the storage of .50 caliber cartridges in excess of 10,000 rounds. C19.38.C.

3. Submit evidence that the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law have been complied with."

and

WHEREAS, said order was repeated in a decision of the fire commissioner, dater May 2, 1945; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 10, 1945, on amendment to Alt. Applic. 165-44, reads:

"3. Repeat. Two means of egress should be provided from second floor, as per Sec. 6.1.2.2.3. B.C. Note that area of second floor exceeds 4,000 sq. ft., maximum distance of travel to exit exceeds 100 ft. and pitch of ramp exceeds 1 ft. in 8 ft.

4. Repeat. Floor construction should be provided, adequate to support specific liveload. Note that construction shown on Alt. 1778-20 is weak."

WHEREAS, the applicant states that 329-335 Stanton street is 2 stories (28 ft.) in height, 79 ft. 4 in. by 49 ft. and 81 ft. 4 in. in area, of class 3 construction, erected prior to 1902, located in a residence use, D area and class 1 height district, altered in 1920 and used and occupied since 1920, for storage of war naval materials; that 337-341 Stanton street is 2 stories (30 ft. 6 in.) in height, 50 ft. by 55 ft. 5 in. in area, of class 2 construction, erected in 1928, located in a residence use, D area, and class 1 height district and used and occupied since 1928 for the storage of war naval materials; that 329-335 Stanton street is equipped with one 3 ft. 8 in. stair of wood construction, enclosed in 1 in. cement plaster on metal lath and wood studs, equipped with fireproof, self-closing doors and is also provided with one 10 ft. wide ramp; that 337-341 Stanton street is equipped with one 3 ft. 8 in. stair of fireproof construction, leading from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this is a war emergency measure and asks for a temporary change in use until May 31, 1946, from the use permitted by the Certificates of Occupancy, namely, storage of motor vehicles, to the use of storage of naval war materials; that such materials are now stored in the premises by the Royal Norwegian Navy, furnished them by lend-lease; that these stores include cordage, rope and cables, ships' parts of various kinds and a minor proportion of arms and ammunition, because of the proximity of these materials to their docks and ships; that to move them now would incur a hardship on their already over-burdened manpower and would impede and interrupt the war effort; that from the applicant's point of view, the premises are one building, although the two building portions originated under two separate building operations at different times and are listed under two separate street numbers; that in 1920, the 329-335 Stanton street building, which was originally a four story structure erected prior to 1920 for dwelling purposes was cut down and altered to two stories and converted to garage and motor vehicle storage use; that until 1939, the district was zoned unrestricted and in 1939 was changed to residence; that the floors in this alteration were reconstructed of concrete on the ground floor and of steel columns and girders supporting heavy wood joists, a heavy wood sub-flooring covered with 2½ in. thick wire reinforced concrete surface for the second floor; that a fire-retarded 3 ft. 8 in. wide stair reaches the 2nd floor and a 10 ft. steel and concrete ramp, both leading directly to the street, with doors swinging outwardly; that in 1928, 337-341 Stanton street, a two story structure, was constructed adjacent to and joining 329-335 Stanton street on the east, constructed of brick, steel and reinforced concrete and would normally come under the heading of a fireproof building, except for the fact that both the old and the new buildings are internally connected with a 12 ft. wide unprotected horizontal opening on both the ground and 2nd floors; that the new building has a fireproof stair 3 ft. 8 in. wide and also, a motor car elevator, and thus the two combined buildings have four possible means of egress; it is therefore requested that the Board grant permanent legal status to at least three of these means of egress, namely, the two sets of stairs and the ramp; that the ramp is 10 ft. wide and rises 14 ft. in a horizontal distance of 66 ft. or slightly less than 1 to 5 instead of 1 to 8 as required by the Administrative Code; that in walking up or down this ramp, no excessive steepness is experienced and in case of fire, would afford a speedy means of egress with less danger of one's falling or stumbling than on a stair; that as to the strength of the second floor construction mentioned in Item 4 (Alt. 165-44), the floor beams are shown on the plans filed for the alteration of 329-335 Stanton street as 3 in. by 12 in. long leaf yellow pine, 12 in. on centers; that with an allowable working stress of 1600 lbs. per sq. in. for such timbers, they calculate to sustain 145 lbs. per sq. ft. including both dead and live loads; that the dead load, because of the 2½ in. concrete surfacing totals 41.5 lbs. per sq. ft.; that this leaves 103.5 lbs. per sq. ft. for a workable live load; that regardless of the figures, however, the floor for several months has been sustaining the maximum load that will be necessary to be imposed and without signs of strain and undue deflection; that it is not the intention of the present occupants to impose still greater loads on this floor; concerning Order 40821-LC, Item 1, it is requested that permission be granted for temporary change in occupancy from garage use to warehouse including storage of arms and ammunition until May 31, 1946; as to Item 2, the lessee can get along on 10,000 rounds of .50 caliber cartridges, but requests a maximum of 25,000 rounds; as to Item 3, that all employees are naval personnel of the Norwegian Navy, except one civilian, who is covered by the Norwegian Government Disability Service, which would provide compensation in case of illness or accident and it is hoped that this will clarify and satisfy the requirements of the Workman's Compensation Law; that in view of the war emergency, it is requested that this appeal be granted.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 165-44, affecting premises 329-335 Stanton street, Objections 3 and 4, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the existing means of exit from the second story to the street, shall be maintained, as indicated on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received May 10, 1945", showing the buildings at 329 to 335 Stanton street and 337 to 341 Stanton street, including the opening between buildings on the first and second floors; as to Objection 4, that the floor load on the 2nd story shall be not less than 100 lbs. per superficial foot; that this building shall be occupied in accordance with the temporary variance granted by the Board under Cal. 285-45-BZ, for a temporary term as therein stated and for the type of storage as set forth, provided the building is not increased in height or area and the floor loads are not exceeded; that such floor loads shall be posted; and

Resolved further, that the order 40821-LC, of the fire commissioner, affecting both buildings, as reissued on May 2, 1945, is hereby modified, on condition that the amount of ammunition stored in the premises within shall not exceed a total of 215,000 rounds of small arms ammunition not exceeding .50 caliber, as applied for on application filed with the fire commissioner under date of February 16, 1945, in Folder 79R329.22, provided such ammunition is brought to the building, stored and removed from the building in the original metal lined packing cases and is stored in such a manner as will be to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner; that this modification from the order of the fire commissioner shall be only for the term of the temporary permit as herein granted; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto, other than as modified by the Board under Cal. 285-45-BZ; that approved fireproof, self-closing fire wall doors, as required for walls between buildings, shall be installed and maintained at the openings between buildings on the 1st and 2nd floors; that the existing ramp may be continued, but shall not be included as a permitted exit; that the number of persons occupying the building during this temporary variance shall not exceed the number as stated; that such signs shall be posted within the building or on the exterior of the building as the fire commissioner shall direct, calling attention to the storage of ammunition; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner, shall direct.

WHEREA., this appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 1972 Benedict avenue, southwest corner of Pugsley avenue (Block 3930, Lot 45), Borough of The Bronx, was granted by the Board on June 13, 1944, on certain conditions; and

WHEREAS, the resolution was amended on July 25, 1944 and the applicant requested a further amendment of the resolution; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on July 3, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 14, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 352-45, reads:

"1. As the use of 2nd floor and attic is to be changed, the approval of the Board of Standards and Appeals is required. Obtain amendment to resolution of said Board, under Cal. 338-44-A."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is two stories, cellar and attic (26 ft.) in height; 52 ft. by 29 ft. in area, Class 3 construction, located on a lot 93.04 ft. by 50.03 ft. in area, in a residence use, B area and Class 1¼ height district, erected 1930 and used and occupied since 1940 as follows: cellar, playroom, owner's room, boiler room, 20 persons; 1st floor, nursery room, kitchen and office, 41 persons; 2nd floor, two classrooms and owner's chamber, 35 persons; attic, vacant, proposed to be used and occupied as follows: cellar, same; 1st floor, same; 2nd floor, two classrooms, 35 persons; attic, owner's chambers, 2 persons; and

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby amend the resolution adopted on June 13, 1944, as amended on July 25, 1944, by adding the following:

THE RESOLUTION (636-44-A)

WHEREAS, this appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 93-02 150th street, southwest corner of Archer avenue (Block 9998, Lot 124), Jamaica, Borough of Queens (under Section 35, General City Law, re bed of mapped street—150th street), was withdrawn after discussion, on March 13, 1945; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requested a reopening of the appeal and restoration to the calendar; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on May 8, 1945, and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated April 11, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 1117-44, reads:

"1. Two interior stairways enclosed by fire-proof partitions, and leading directly to the street, are required in the 2nd story. Sec. 270-3 Labor Law.

2. The exit door at the front of the interior stairway, and the exit door in the sidewall of the 1st story, must be 3 ft. 8 in. wide. Sec. 270 Labor Law.

3. Wood stairs are not permitted. Sec. 270-4 Labor Law.

4. The partitions enclosing a stairway, must extend 3 ft. above the main roof. Sec. 270-4 Labor Law.

5. The roof of each stairway enclosure must be a 4 in. concrete slab. Sec. 270-4 Labor Law.

6. Alterations to the part of a building that is in the bed of a mapped street, are contrary to Sec. 35 of the General City Law."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that this appeal was withdrawn and a revised plan with an amendment, submitted to the borough superintendent; that this revised plan shows the stair construction located outside of the portion of the building, which is in the bed of a mapped street, as indicated on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received April 27, 1945"; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is two stories (27 ft.) in height, 25.14 ft. by 79 ft. in area; Class 3 construction; erected in 1920; located in an unrestricted use, A area, Class 1 height district, used and occupied as follows: cellar, heating and storage; 1st floor, factory, now vacant; 2nd floor, factory, now vacant, for which no certificate of occupancy has been issued; and proposed to be used and occupied as follows: cellar, same; 1st floor, factory, 20 persons; 2nd floor, factory, 25 persons; that the building is equipped with one 3 ft. 3 in. wide wood stairs from the 2nd story to the street; proposed to be enclosed in partitions constructed of steel channels, metal lath and portland cement plaster, equipped with one-hour test self-closing doors and one fire escape at the rear of the second floor, leading to the street by a 3 ft. wide counterbalanced stair; that windows and door openings on the course of fire escape are fireproof, self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to Objection 1, that it is not practicable to provide two interior stairways from the 2nd floor leading directly to the street, as the building is surrounded on all sides except the front, by buildings or by gasoline service station; that the floor area is too small to warrant any reduction in size on both floors by the erection of a new stair enclosure; that the small number of occupants does not warrant the sacrifice of space entailed in the construction of additional stairs; that the proposed enclosure meets the requirements of the inter department Memorandum dated March 7, 1944, interpretating Section 270 of the Labor Law and Section 10.4.3.1 of the Building Code, for a factory building less than 4 stories or 40 ft. in height; that the 2nd means of egress proposed is a 3 ft. 8 in. wide self-closing platform or walkway over the roof of the one story fruit storage building in the same ownership and leading from Archer avenue and thence by counter-balanced stair 3 ft. wide to the sidewalk; contends as to Objection 2, that in view of the fact that the front portion of the building is in the bed of a mapped street, it is requested that the door at the foot of the stairs remain 3 ft. wide, so as not to involve any additional cost in construction; that the Board is also requested to permit a 3 ft. wide door from the 1st floor to the side passage, in view of the small occupancy and the 3 ft. 8 in. door provided at the front; and contends as to Objection 3, the Board is requested to permit wood stairs, because of the cost involved and the advisability of saving steel and in view of the small occupancy, which will later be reduced further, when the building is reduced in size after the street is widened; and contends as to Objection 4, the Board is requested to waive the requirements to extend the stair enclosure above the roof, as it would involve cutting out and reframing the roof area within stair enclosure and building new roof over the area, thus involving considerable expense; and contends as to Objection 5, the Board is requested to waive the requirements for concrete slab over the stair, as it is impossible to build such a slab over the one hour fireproof partitions shown on plans; and contends as to Objection 6, that the alterations to the portion of the building in the bed of a mapped street as now shown on plans, are the absolute minimum that would comply with the objections and remove the violation; that as a measure of economy to the owner and to the city, it is requested that the Board waive all requirements for any alteration to the front portion of the building, if the owner installs rear exit from the 2nd floor and the side entrance from the 1st floor as indicated on plans, and it is agreed that the alteration to the front of the building be undertaken and completed immediately after the street widening is started; and

WHEREAS, the Board is in receipt of a communication from the President of the Borough of Queens, wherein it is stated that a portion of the premises involved between the old and the new lines of 150th street will be taken by condemnation and that the proceeding to acquire this property was authorized by the Board of Estimate December 11, 1936 and amended October 8, 1942; that the physical improvement of 150th street is included in the State Aid Post-War program, making this one of the first projects to be undertaken at the end of the war.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, on Alt. Applic. 1117-44, Objections 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the two means of exit from the second story as indicated on revised plans marked "Received April 27, 1945", consisting of an enclosed stair leading to 150th street and a counterbalanced stairway leading from a passage in the rear over the second story extension at the rear, shall be maintained and a gooseneck ladder to the roof leading to such passageway at the rear, shall be provided as a secondary means of exit from the roof; that the doors to the stairway shall be not less than 3 ft. in width; that such primary means of exit may consist of a wood stairway, provided it is enclosed with a one hour test partition and all doors leading thereto are fireproof and self-enclosing; that in lieu of an extension of the stairs to the roof, there shall be a double rung iron ladder within the stairway enclosure, leading to a roof scuttle, which shall be equipped with an easy opening device; that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that the number of persons permitted to be at work for factory on the 2nd story shall not exceed the number permitted for the primary means of exit with the door width reduced to 3 ft.; as to Objection 6, granted, under the powers vested in the Board in Section 35 of the General City Law, permitting the existing portion of the building within the proposed bed of 150th street to be continued until such time as the City of New York acquires the land and the premises which is the bed of such street; that at that time, no claim shall be made for the portion of the building taken, except the fair value of same based on its age, amortized at a reasonable rate and for the fair cost of the construction of a new front wall, all as may be determined by the Court; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

THE RESOLUTION (172-45-A)

WHEREAS, Samuel Rosenblum, for Shelton Holding Corporation, owner, filed March 16, 1945, an appeal from orders of the fire commissioner, affecting premises 25-33 West 45th street, north side, 325 ft. west of Fifth avenue (Block 1261, Lot 21), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, order 32038-LF issued by the fire commissioner, September 15, 1944, reads:

"An inspection of the premises 25-33 West 45th street, Borough of Manhattan, shows that a fire drill should be established and maintained therein, according to the requirements of Section 279 of the Labor Law. The Labor Law specifically charges the Fire Commissioner with the duty of enforcing the provisions of the law, as to fire drills.

This law also holds the owner of such permises responsible for the proper supervision and maintenance of fire drills. It is therefore your duty to organize and maintain a fire drill in the above premises, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board of Standards and Appeals.

A record of such drills, including the name and number of each certified drill conductor engaged in conducting each drill, the date of each drill, and the number of persons taking part in each drill, shall be transmitted by you or your representative to this office semi-annually.

All forms necessary will be furnished to your authorized representative when he calls at this office for a Certificate of Fitness as drill conductor."

and

WHEREAS, Order 32039-LF issued by the fire commissioner, September 15, 1944, reads:

"You are hereby ordered and required, within 30 days from the date of the service of this order to:

1. Install an adequate electric closed circuit interior fire alarm system of an approved type in accordance with the Interior Fire Alarm Rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals.

Note: Plans and specifications in duplicate shall be filed with and approved by this department prior to the installation of the fire alarm system. Section 279 of the Labor Law."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the fire commissioner dated February 28, 1945, relating to Orders 32038-LF and 32039-LF reads:

"You are herewith notified that your request for reconsideration of our requirements for the installation of an interior fire alarm and the institution of a fire drill in the above premises must be denied, for the reason, that contrary to your belief, the law is not alone concerned with the number of persons actually engaged in factory work in the premises, but with the number of persons in the building engaged in work for a factory.

Your are therefore referred to the definition of a factory given in Section 9 of Article 1 of the Labor Law, and reading as follows:

"Factory" includes a mill, workshop, or other manufacturing establishment and all buildings, sheds, structures or other places used for or in connection therewith, where one or more persons are employed at manufacturing, including making, altering, repairing, finishing, bottling, canning, cleaning or laundering any article or thing, in whole or in part, . . . etc.," and also are referred to—Section 10 of Article 1, reading:

"Factory building" means a building, shed, or structure, which, or any part of which, is occupied or used as a factory, and in which at least one-tenth or more than twenty-five of all the persons employed in the building are engaged in work for a factory . . . etc."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 16 stories (209 ft.) in height, 100 ft. by 100 ft. in area at 1st floor, 100 ft. by 90 ft. in area at typical floor, of Class 1 construction, erected in 1906, located in a retail use, B area and class 1½ height district and used and occupied generally as an office building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this appeal is made from orders of the fire commissioner who has classified the building as a factory building; that the Fire Department claims that there are 184 persons engaged in work for a factory, but it is to be noted that they state "it is conceded that only twenty of them are actually doing work, which should be regarded as manufacturing;" that, in one concern, there are a group of artists employed who draw pictures for ultimate use in animated films; that these people are artists, similar to a draughtsman working in an architect's office, who sketches on tracing paper or cloth; that the draughtsman is not considered doing factory work, nor can the artists be so considered; that the Appellate Division in June 1931, acting on premises 675 Fifth avenue, where there were processes wherein employees touched up photographs with pencils or added a touch of color, ruled that this was no different than an artist making a motion picture or canvas, and the artist was not considered doing factory work; and

WHEREAS, the Fire Commissioner holds that the classification of the building itself is dependent upon the definition of a "factory building" given in Sec. 10, Art. 1, of the Labor Law; that in view of this definition, even if the debatable and purely technical factory work done in the building were eliminated from the calculations, the building would still have to be classified as a factory building, as there are not only more than 25 persons, but more than one-tenth of all the persons employed in the building are engaged at work for a factory; that this would remain so if we only counted as factories, the 6th, 5th, 1st and cellar stories, and the number of persons employed thereon, as without question there is bonafide factory work being performed on these stories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that certain of the factory occupancies have been eliminated; and

WHEREAS, the premises and the operations involved were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Board, the work of producing drawings for animated films, as now being carried on in the building, should not be classified as work for a factory.

Resolved, that the decision of the fire commissioner as to Orders 32038-LF and 32039-LF be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that a fire alarm system and fire drills shall be installed if at any time the building is found to be occupied as a factory building, with one-tenth or more than twenty-five of all the occupants of the building above the first story engaged in work for a factory.

THE RESOLUTION (329-45-A)

WHEREAS, Martyn Weinstein, for Jemrod Corporation, owner, filed May 31, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent affecting premises 252-254 Emerson place, east side, 160 ft. north of Lafayette avenue (Block 1936, Lot 38), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 25, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 910-45, reads:

"The superintendent is without authority to issue a temporary certificate of occupancy for this structure. This proposal to maintain the previous use as a public garage for more than five cars must be submitted to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is one story (14 ft.) in height, 50 ft. by 100 ft. in area, of class 3 construction, erected in 1918, located in an unrestricted use, B area and class 1½ height district and used and occupied since 1944 as a public garage; proposed to be used and occupied for the storage of metal parts and equipment—2 persons; that Certificate of Occupancy 3894, issued August 2, 1918, on N.B. 624-18, permits the use of the first floor as a public garage; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that in May 1934, the owner purchased this building and leased it to the Federal Manufacturing and Engineering Corporation on July 1, 1944 to expire June 30, 1947; that the lessee proposes to use the premises for the storage of steel and aluminum material and brass parts used in connection with the manufacture of radio and signalling apparatus for the Army and Navy; that the lessee's present plant is one block from these premises and is ideally located, because of the close proximity to the building in question; that the lessee estimates that he will require the use of the building for storage purposes for two years, after which time, the building may revert back to its former use as a public garage; that there will be no permanent occupancy on these premises, other than the actual time it takes two men to load and unload parts and equipment; it is therefore requested that the Board grant permission to use this building for storage purposes for two years without forfeiting the right to reconvert to a public garage at the expiration of the proposed temporary use.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent acting on Alt. Applic. 910-45 be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and hereby is granted, to permit the building to be occupied temporarily during the present emergency and for not more than six months thereafter as proposed, with the privilege thereafter of restoring the building to the permitted use as a garage.

THE RESOLUTION (389-45-A)

WHEREAS, New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed June 15, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises bounded by East 112th street, Park avenue, East 115th street and Third avenue (Blocks 1640, 1641 and 1642), Borough of Manhattan (James Weldon Johnson Houses); and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 16, 1945, on N.B. Applications 75 to 79-45, inc. and 81-45, reads:

"13. Specify on the plans the complete net area of every floor. Subdivide areas in excess of 10,000 sq. ft. with fire partitions and 1½ hour doors.

"30. Provide a four-hour cut-off wall between 6- and 14-story buildings. 3-hour doors shall be provided in said fire walls as per Sec. 10.4.1.1 of the Building Code."

and

WHEREAS, reconsideration of these objections was denied by the borough superintendent, on May 23, 1945; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 28, 1945, reads:

"This refers to your letter of May 10, 1945, in which you ask whether this department will approve the omission of a standpipe fire line in the six-story unit of each of several buildings which are a combination of a six-story unit and a fourteen-story unit, but which are not separated by a fire wall.

"While we concur with you that a standpipe fire line system in the six-story unit of less than 75 ft. height would undoubtedly meet the spirit and intent of the Administrative Code, we may not legally approve the omission of a standpipe fire line riser in the six-story section, as the combination of the two units is a single building from the standpoint of fire area.

"The Board of Standards and Appeals may be appealed to from the decision of the borough superintendent in this matter."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the buildings will be 6, 10 and 14 stories in height; of Class 1 construction, and used as multiple dwellings; that each six-story unit will be equipped with a single stairway and each unit over 6 stories in height will be equipped with a double stairway of fireproof construction from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that Section C26-1381.0 provides in part, that buildings over 75 ft. in height shall be provided with a standpipe system; that the 6-story units involved in this appeal (Buildings Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 9) are only 54 ft. in height and although each 6-story and 14-story unit are in effect, part of a single building and although the total area of any floor will be less than 10,000 sq. ft., it is proposed to provide a one hour fireproof partition to separate the apartment in the 6-story unit from those in the 14-story unit, such partitions to be constructed with no openings therein; that the installation of the standpipe in the 6-story unit would serve no purpose, as the Fire Department has agreed that the probabilities of their use in case of fire would be remote; that the omission of standpipes in the 6-story portions would not be contrary to the intent of the Code; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that no basis was presented to justify waiving or varying the requirements of the Administrative Building Code, which requires under Section C26-1381.0, standpipes in all new buildings exceeding 75 feet in height and also for new buildings more than one story in height having ten thousand square feet in net floor area and in Section C26-1387.0, prescribes size of risers in structures or parts of structures one hundred fifty feet or less in height.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent acting on N.B. Applications 75 to 79-45, inc. and 81-45 be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

PETITION FOR CERTIORARI ORDER SERVED ON THE BOARD OF STANDARDS AND APPEALS.

On July 23, 1945, copy of petition and order of certiorari was served on the Board by Allin, Riggs & Shaughnessy, attorneys, in behalf of petitioner, Hotel Taft Corporation, owner, in re decision of the Board on June 26, 1945, denying appeal from decision of the Borough Superintendent, refusing permission for addition to pent-house; Cal. No. 314-45-A; premises 761-779 Seventh Avenue, E.S., from West 50th Street to West 51st Street, Borough of Manhattan.

The applicant claimed that General Order 71-45 of the Commissioner incorrectly interprets the provision of the Zoning Resolution as to the date when the Zoning Resolution, as amended from time to time, became effective. The Board upheld the Order of the Commissioner, as applied by the Borough Superintendent, that the Zoning Resolution became effective July 25, 1916, and that as amended from time to time, such Resolution has not been superceded by a new resolution at any time, despite the provision in Section 26 of the Zoning Resolution as published by the City Planning Commission.

THE RESOLUTION (420-43-BZ)

WHEREAS, John E. Cahill, for National Fabricating Company, owner, filed August 30, 1943, an application under sections 7c and 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use, F area district, a one story extension to an existing factory building and not complying with F area district requirements, affecting premises: 129-01 North Conduit avenue and 135-41 129th street, northeast corner (Block 11863, Lot 12), Ozone Park, Borough of Queens; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals at its regular meeting, July 17, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that North Conduit avenue, 128th, 129th and 130th streets are in a residence use, F area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 3, 1944, re Alt. Applic. 322-44, reads:

"1. The use of an existing building of which the department has no record and its extension for factory use in residence use district is contrary to Article 2, Section 3 of the Zoning Resolution.

"2. Setback of 15 ft. not provided, as per Sec. 16a and rear yard as per Sect. 16b. Zoning Resolution.

"3. Side yard not as per Sect 16c, Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 120.5 ft. frontage by 40.68 ft. in depth, on which is located a one story, Class 3 constructed building, 32 ft. 8 in. by 38 ft. 7 in. occupied as a shop for light manufacturing; that it is proposed to erect a one story extension to this building, of Class 3 construction; the extension to be 32 ft. 8 in. by 30 ft.; that the building is to be occupied as shop, office and light manufacturing; and

WHEREAS, it is contended that the applicant herein is entitled to a variation of the provisions of Sections 3 and 16 of the zoning resolution under the powers vested in the Board under sections 7c and 21 of the zoning resolution; that the question involved is the erection of a small shop and office for light manufacturing work; that the building is 30 ft. wide, 32 ft. 8 in. in depth, and a height of 10 ft.; that the owner engaged the applicant as architect, to file the plans for the shop building and in due course, the objection now appealed was issued on such plans; that meanwhile, the owner engaged a contractor, who began finishing work on the building until a violation was issued; that the present building at the rear of the same lot has always been used as a machine shop since 1927; that while there is no excuse for the owner's ignorance of the provisions of Sec. 3 of the zoning resolution, it is urged that the Board take judicial notice of the fact that the area district regulations in this district were changed from business to residential use, F area on November 28, 1938 and it is only practical to assume that the owner logically felt that he could erect the same type of building as he and others now have in the neighborhood; that the neighborhood at present is extensively used for business and manufacturing; that in view of these circumstances, it is requested that the Board grant a variation under section 7c of the zoning resolution, to permit the construction of the shop as proposed of class 3 construction, surfaced on the exterior with cement plaster (white) and roof surfaced with 5 ply ruberoid roofing, flat type with parapet as shown on plans filed with the Borough Superintendent under N.B. Applic. 105-43 and also as shown on plans filed with this application; that only about one-half of the plot is built upon, and to set back the new extension 15 ft., would cut down its area, and render it useless for the work necessary to be done; that the owner feels that as he has a non-conforming use, and is engaged in emergency war work, it would be a hardship to be compelled to comply with the F area district requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision c, of the zoning resolution as to extension of use, and that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use and area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under sections 7c and 21 thereof, to permit the extension of the existing building as proposed as to use and as to area, on condition that the building shall not be further increased in height or area; that this variance shall be for a term of not more than two (2) years from the date of this resolution; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that in all other respects, the building shall comply with the requirements for the residential zone; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; that no signs shall be erected on the premises; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within three (3) months from the date of this resolution.

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that nothing can be built on the site to make it yield a reasonable return, if compelled to comply with the permitted uses in a business use district; that the property is in a neighborhood which has greatly deteriorated and where property values are very low; that no new improvements have been built in this area for a long time; that the use of the premises for a gasoline station will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood; that Fulton street, since the removal of the elevated transit system, has become a main traffic thoroughfare, with considerable increase in transient vehicular traffic, so much so, that this location is one of the important cross motor arteries in Brooklyn; that most of the property in vicinity is boarded up, apartments are empty and stores are closed; that there is no demand for new stores or buildings; that to put up new stores would only be a non-paying proposition, but would be detrimental to other stores in the neighborhood; that the plight of the owner is due to unique circumstances and not to general conditions existing therein; that there is no market for this property and it cannot be disposed of; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no justification for the exercise of discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision f of the zoning resolution.

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 17, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, Alden B. MacNeil, for Albert Zoller, owner, filed May 4, 1945 an application under sections 7c and 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use district, the alteration and change of occupancy of a garage for more than five motor vehicles to a factory (knitting mill), affecting premises 16-38 Hancock street, southeast side, 365.30 ft. northeast of Wyckoff avenue (Block 3549, Lots 30 and 31), Ridgewood, Borough of Queens; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 17, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Jefferson and Hancock streets are in a residence use, C area and class 1 height district; Wyckoff avenue and Cypress avenue are in a business use, C area and class 1 hight district and Weirfield street is in an unrestricted use, C area and class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 2, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 409-45, reads:

"1. The change in use and the reconstruction of the building from a public garage to a factory in a residence district, is contrary to sections 6 and 3 of the Building Zone Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 75 ft. frontage by 100 ft. in depth, on which is located a one story 50 ft. by 100 ft. garage for more than five motor vehicles and that it is proposed to change the occupancy to light manufacturing (knitting mill); and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the zoning was originally unrestricted and was changed to residential use and C area under amendment of December 15, 1927; that under the unrestricted zoning, the public garage in question was approved and built in 1923 and has continued as such to the present time; that the street on which the public garage fronts is an 800 ft. block, and is used for business in the residential portion to the extent that there is a knitting mill at 16-25 Hancock street, a public garage at 16-27 Hancock street, a public garage at 16-38 Hancock street, a store at 16-52 Hancock street, a knitting mill at 16-47 Hancock street, and a brewery from 16-62 Hancock street, to within one hundred feet of the corner of Cypress avenue; that the rear property line borders on an unrestricted use district; that the present use of the building requires an all night and day operation with the resultant noises and odors of cars passing in and out of the large doorway, and the noises of the manipulation of the doors themselves; that the new use of the building would contain itself behind a new attractive glass block and panel and small doorway in place of the large doors now existing and would in every respect be a cleaner, less odorous, and quieter occupation of the premises, resulting in a benefit rather than a detriment to the residential occupants of the street; that the adjacent twenty-five by one hundred foot vacant propery would be used as a means of egress and for the handling of light merchandise and would be kept clean; that the owner contemplates at some future time, to erect his own residence on this plot; that in view of the foregoing facts, it is requested that permission be granted to change the use of this building to a kniting mill, and to permit the necessary contingent alterations as shown on the plans filed with this application; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no justification for the exercise of its discretion to grant a zoning variance under section 7, subdivision c, which section is inapplicable, and that the applicant failed to substantiate a basis to warrant exercise of discretion to grant under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was therefore not entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulties and unnecessary hardships.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent dated May 2, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 409-45 be and it hereby is affirmed and that the application be and it hereby is denied.

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Juniper Valley Road, Furmanville avenue, 78th and 79th streets are in a residence use, D area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 2, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 643-45, reads:

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 432.83 ft. frontage by 150.12 ft. in depth, on which is located several buildings occupied as garages, offices, pasteurizing plant, etc. and the building in question, which is one and two stories, brick, 82 ft. by 146 ft., occupied as cow stable; that it is proposed to change the use of this cow stable to a pasteurizing and milk bottling plant; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises consist of a plot having a frontage of 432 ft. 8.3 in. long 79th street, 150.12 ft. on the southerly lot line, 300 ft. on the westerly lot line 100.75 ft. on northerly lot line; that the premises have been used as a dairy farm since 1890; that there are several buildings on the property, their uses noted on the plan showing existing conditions; that the building in question is a two story brick building 82 ft. by 146 ft., used as a stable for 160 cows and hay loft; that it is the intention of the owners to discontinue all cow stables on the premises and alter the building in question into a pasteurizing and milk bottling plant; that at the present time, this use is permitted on the premises, as noted in the Certificate of Occupancy 177, issued on June 29, 1920, which calls for cow barns, milk bottling and distribution station, classified as a factory; that it is the intention of the owners to discontinue all cow stables and confine the use solely to milk bottling and distributing station; that in view of the fact that all stables will be removed from the premises and that bottling is now permitted on the premises, this proposed extension will in no way affect the general character of the community and it is respectfully requested that this application be granted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 20 ft. frontage by 100 ft. 5 in. in depth, on which is located a 5-story, Class 3 constructed building, 20 ft. by 61 ft. 4 in. by 82 ft. 10 in. in area in the 1st story and 20 ft. by 55 ft. 6 in. and 77 ft. in area above occupied as a dwelling and that it is proposed to extend the building to the street line and occupy the building as a retail store, showroom and dwelling; and

zanine, boths and lobby; 3rd to 22nd stories, offices, 300 persons per floor; that the building is equipped with a one source sprinkler system in the basement, storage rooms and in 7 storage rooms on platform 6 and certain of the concessions on the concourse level and the building is equipped with a standpipe system and an approved interior alarm system on the 3rd to 20th floors in 30 Church street and on the 2nd to 20th floors at 50 Church street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this appeal relates to the ventilating of open gas flames, the ventilating refrigerating equipment for refrigeration room and the enclosing or removing the refrigerating equipment; that no real need exists for the remedies proposed in the Fire Department orders; that undue expense and hardship would be caused in complying with the orders; that the part of the premises under consideration, are located on or near the Concourse level of the Hudson Terminal Building, being the first level below the sidewalk elevation and extending north from the north side of Cortlandt street, under Dey street, and to the south side of Fulton street, an area of about 53,000 sq. ft.; that broad ramps or stairways lead from this Concourse level to Cortlandt, Dey and Fulton streets, each terminating in door and window facades (four in number), through which exit is afforded to the street sidewalks; that the premises of the tenants are located either on the Concourse floor or open upon the ramps or stairways just described; that refrigeration machines operated by the several tenants concerned, number approximately 18, all of fractional horsepower size and each contains from 3 to not more than 10 lbs. of Freon 12 (dichlorodifluoromethane), a total of about 80 lbs.; that it should be noted that where the Fire Dept. order refers to methyl chloride refrigerant, the tenants have already changed or will change promptly to the use of Freon 12 refrigerant gas in their equipment; that the machines are used to cool ice cream cabinets, milk boxes, refrigerators, etc.; that the open flame apparatus referred to in the Fire Department orders, are gas burners for coffee urns, grills, and the like; that the volume of the space in which this equipment is located, i.e., the concourse floor and ramps, is approximately 918,000 cu. ft.; that Freon 12 is a universally used refrigerant gas and it is classified in Chapter C19-96.0 of the Administrative Code as non-flammable and non-irritant; that the Code imposes no restrictions on similar applications located in business premises; that such safeguarding provisions as set up in the Code, are directed to insuring that any escaping refrigerant gas would not be trapped or pocketed in confined space and would not come in contact with any flame which would have the effect of breaking down the refrigerant gas into products dangerous to public safety; that it is to overcome either of these possibilities, that the provisions of the code have been drawn to effect a purge of any gas escaping, its dilution to minimum concentration, and the removal from the premises of any breakdown products, should the gas be exposed to flame; that it is submitted, the physical characteristics of the subject premises provide inherently, the safeguards sought to be insured by the Code provisions, to wit: large volume of the space compared to the small volume of gas; diversification of the refrigerant gas charges among several small machines; fireproof construction of the building (Class 1); sprinkler and fire alarm system as noted; numerous stairways and connections to the outside and to other areas; that notice should be taken that there are 26 stairways alone between the Concourse level and platform level; that the space containing refrigeration equipment could not be constructed as a confined area and that any refrigerant escaping from a machine would, being approximately 4½ times heavier than air, not come in contact with flame, but would be carried out through one or more of the various appertures and become diffused and diluted to an innocuous concentration.

Resolved, that Order Nos. 39787-LC, 39785-LC, 39783-LC, 39790-LC, 39864-LC, 39894-LC, 37701-LC, 37586-LC, 40086-LC and 39900-LC issued by the fire commissioner be and hereby are affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

Re: Cal. 316-43-SM

Subject: Gallagher Brothers Sand (fine aggregate), Approval of.

Gallagher Brothers Sand and Gravel Corporation, filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals under the requirements of C26-178.0,b for approval of their sand for use under C26-312.0,e, C26-312.0,g and C26-315.0 as a fine aggregate for construction purposes.

DESCRIPTION AND PROCESSING

The sand is produced by a dredge owned and operated by the United States Dredging Corporation. The material is excavated, processed and loaded from the leased land under water in the West Harbor of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York. The dredge is of the ladder type, diesel electric powered by a 550 H.P. Worthington engine. The hull is anchored by means of spuds on the stern and is moved while operating by anchor lines from the bow. The dredging operation consists of a continuous line of 60-7½ cu. ft. manganese steel buckets, capable of excavating at the rate of 500 cu. yds. of material per hour. This material is passed through a single roll primary crusher which reduces all materials to 4 in. in size. It is then elevated to the top of the dredge by means of inboard buckets and dumped in a revolving screen, 26 ft. long and 10 ft. in diameter where wash water is added in sufficient quantities to insure thorough scrubbing and washing.

The material is screened into six different sizes. The first size (A) being (minus) 3/16 in. which is plaster and brick sand. The second size (B) is plus 3/16 in. to minus ¼ in. which is fine grit. All of this size or any part of which can be recombined with the first size to meet all concrete specifications. The sand meets Department of Purchase specifications 24-5-35:425 in all respects except it does not meet No. 16 sieve requirements.

After the sand is sized, it is sluiced to two large settling tanks from which bucket elevators dewater and deposit the finished sand on an adjustable chute, which can place the sand in five places across a scow without any drop, to prevent segregation of the material. The barge itself is pulled fore and aft by deck winches for loading. The wash water, after leaving the settling tanks, is sluiced overboard, but in the sluiceway is a sand trap for reclaiming additional fine sand when it is needed for other requirements. This fine sand is thus returned to the system for mixing with the regular sands.

The finished sand is loaded on a scow on the starboard side of the dredge, by means of the adjustable chute.

TESTS

Samples of this sand were selected by the Committee on Tests and submitted to the Haller Laboratories. Report is filed with the application with results as follows:

Re: Cal. 710-44-SM

Subject: U. S. Gypsum Company's Masons Hydrated Lime and Hydrated Finishing Lime, approval of.

The U. S. Gypsum Company of Chicago, Ill., filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for the approval of their lime products under the requirements of C26-178.0,b for use under C26-312.0,b and C26-463.0 for the finishing lime and C26-313.0,a-1,2 for the masons hydrated lime.

DESCRIPTION OF MANUFACTURE

Red Top Hydrated Lime, and Red Top Finishing Hydrated Lime are obtained by slaking or hydrating ground high calcium quicklime produced at the plant of the United States Gypsum Company at Cheshire, Mass. Lime is produced by burning limestone in shaft kilns. The application of heat breaks up the limestone and drives off carbon dioxide gas, leaving a product known as quicklime. Hydrated lime, is ground quicklime slaked in special equipment at the plant. It consists of adding to the quicklime a correct quantity of water to form calcium hydroxide or hydrated lime. This operation, as well as subsequent air separation to required fineness, are accurately controlled. The applicant maintains an extensive research and laboratory staff, which conducts tests of their deposits and rock before it is burned, to insure uniformity of the finished product. The rock is carefully selected and sized before hydration, water carefully proportioned and every possible care exercised to insure uniform burning. Chemical and physical tests are continuously made during the entire manufacturing process until the product is put into bags.

TESTS

Samples of the applicant's materials were selected by representatives of the Committee on Tests on the open market and sent to Prof. H. H. Scofield, Cornell University, for analysis and test with results as follows:

RECOMMENDATION

On the basis of the foregoing data, the Committee on Tests recommends the approval of U. S. Gypsum Company's Sampson and Red Top brands Finishing Lime and Masons Hydrated Lime, marketed under the names of Red Top and Sampson under C26-191.0,a, for use as a finishing lime under C26-312.0,b and C26-463.0 and as a Masons Hydrated Lime under C26-313.0-a,1,2, when manufactured and furnished according to the specifications contained herein and provided that monthly mill test reports certified by the applicant's chemist be filed with the Board, and that all bills of lading, bags and barrels be tagged, labeled or marked reading as follows:

"Approved for use in New York City by the Board of Standards and Appeals, when used in accordance with the requirements of Cal. 710-44-SM."

HYDRATED LIME FOR FINISH COAT

1. Add the lime to the water, not the water to the lime.

2. Put the required amount of water (5 to 6½ gallons per 50-pound bag) in the container and add hydrated lime, screening it through herringbone lath until the hydrated lime appears above the surface of the water; then place dry hydrated lime over the entire surface of the hydrated lime in the box to take up excess water and giving a medium stiff putty.

3. Store for at least 24 hours prior to using.

4. In the finish coat, use one part dry gauging plaster to three parts lime putty by volume, or 25 to 80 pounds lime putty to 100 pounds Keene cement, the quantity of putty determining the hardness of the finish. For sand float finish, use one part lime putty to three parts of sand by volume, with water added to give proper consistency.

HYDRATED LIME FOR MASONRY MORTAR

1. As this is already slaked, put required amount of water in water-tight box; add hydrated lime by spreading the lime in the box until it appears above the surface of the water; then spread evenly sufficient quantity dry lime over the entire surface to absorb excess water, continuing until a medium stiff putty is obtained.

2. Allow to stand for at least 24 hours to develop plasticity, protecting from frost and covering to prevent drying out.

THE RESOLUTION (447-44-A)

WHEREAS, this appeal from an order of the fire commissioner, affecting premises 205 Concord street, north side, 98 ft. 2 in. east of Gold street (Block 110, Lot 58), Borough of Brooklyn, was withdrawn after discussion, on July 25, 1944; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requested a reopening of the appeal and restoration to the calendar; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on June 12, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, Order 12664-LF, issued by the fire commissioner April 21, 1944, reads:

"1. Arrange the non automatic sprinkler system to conform to approved Plan 641-19 and Article 15, Chapter 26, Administrative Code.

Among the defects noted are the following:

A. Ordinary sprinkler heads installed in place of Conron distributor type heads, therefore protection does not adequately cover floor area.

B. No automatic fire alarm system connected to an approved central fire alarm station provided. Section C19-161.0 Administrative Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 3 stories, (40 ft.) in height; 25 ft. by 137 ft. in area at first floor; 25 ft. by 125 ft. in area at typical floor; of Class 3 construction; erected 1887; located in an unrestricted use, B area district and used for the storage of paper, with an occupancy of 2 persons throughout; that the building is equipped with a non automatic sprinkler system, one 4 ft. wide interior stairs and a scuttle to the roof; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that condemnation proceedings are now in progress to acquire this property for public use; that there is an existing sprinkler system on the premises and a fire alarm box in front of the building; that it is impossible at the present time to obtain priorities for the materials necessary to comply with the order; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now requests that the appeal be considered relative to Item B of Fire Department order, which directs the installation of a fire alarm system; and

WHEREAS, the applicant now states that Item A, requiring the installation of new sprinkler heads, has been complied with; and

WHEREAS, a communication dated May 31, 1945, from the fire commissioner, addressed to the Board, reads:

"In response to your inquiry of May 25th we are pleased to advise you that item No. 1A of the order has been satisfactorily complied with.

In connection with item 1B, the rules of the Department require that all Orders which require changes to sprinkler systems be issued under Sec. C19-161.0. This is the authority of the Fire Commissioner for the issuance of the order. However, it is understood that all sprinkler systems must be installed in factory buildings in accordance with the rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals and in other occupancies with the provisions of the Administrative Code. Section C26-1339.0 would apply in this particular case.

A careful search of the records indicates that an order was issued by this Department in June 1918. This order was taken before the Board of Review of the Fire Department on October 30, 1919 and the following resolution was adopted:

'Whereas it appears that this building is a storage warehouse used for the storage of paper stock; and

WHEREAS, there is no heat in these premises at any time and that if a wet system was installed in these premises it would become inoperable in the cold weather by reason of freezing, and it was the opinion of the Board that if an automatic system with an automatic alarm connected with Fire Headquarters, and a siamese connection provided, this system would provide a better fire fighting equipment than the one originally ordered, the following was therefore adopted:

"Resolved, that item 2 of Order 19828-LC issued against premises 205 Concord Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. be again modified to read: 'Provide a non-automatic sprinkler system throughout the premises with an interior alarm connected to Fire Headquarters, and a siamese connection in connection therewith. This system also to be provided with a control at the street level so that each floor can be operated independently; this to be done in accordance with rules adopted by the Board of Standards and Appeals on April 5, 1917.' "

It appears from the records that the Order was dismissed by an Inspector of the Bureau of Fire Prevention on July 28, 1920 and that the letter which he forwarded to the contractor stated that the order was dismissed as satisfactorily complied with in accordance with letter of July 13, 1920 which stipulated that a dismissal would be issued provided a 10 in. or 12 in. gong be installed on the outside of the building pending the granting of a franchise to a supervisory fire alarm company when the station was erected in Brooklyn.

It appears that the case was not followed up and when our Inspector visited the premises subsequent to a fire the defect was noted and the order which is now pending was issued."

Resolved, that Order 12664-LF, of the fire commissioner be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (128-45-A)

WHEREAS, Ervin Palmer, for Palace Properties, Inc., owner, filed March 9, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 132-134 West 45th street, south side, 364 ft. 11½ in. west of 6th avenue (2nd to 8th floors); (Block 997, Lot 47), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 8, 1944, in acting on Exit Order 13-45, reads:

"Relative to your letter of February 21, 1945, you are advised that same was received by this department and filed with Violation Exit Order 13-1945, affecting above stated premises."

and

WHEREAS, Exit Order No. 13-45, reads:

"You will please take notice that there exists a violation of Section 6.1.5 of the Building Code and C26-276.0 of the Administrative Code, at the premises described above, in that the exits consisting of unenclosed stairs and fire escapes are inadequate for safety of occupants.

1. Enclose stair in fireproof material from 2nd to 8th story.

2. Enclose elevator located in center of building in fireproof material from 2nd to 8th stories.

3. Inner front exit doors first story must swing outwardly.

You are hereby directed to comply with above items of violation at once or file alternative plans and have same approved by this department."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 8 stories (95 ft.) in height; 35 ft. 1 in. by 90 ft. in area of Class 1 construction; erected 1899; located in a business use, B area, and Class 1½ height district, and used and occupied as a hotel, 20 persons per floor; that the building is equipped with a standpipe system, interior fire alarm system and fire drills are maintained; that there is one 40 in. wide interior steel stairs, with marble treads, enclosed in masonry block partitions, extending from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street and there are two fire escapes, one at the rear, leading to the roof by a ladder and to the yard by drop ladder and one at the front, leading to the street by a drop ladder; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building has been occupied since erection as a transient hotel and contains 82 rentable rooms with a maximum occupancy of 150 persons; that the exit facilities consist of a stair from the entrance hall to the roof, constructed of iron with marble treads and fire escapes at the front and the rear of the building; that exit signs are provided above the doors leading to the rooms with direct access to the fire escapes; that these doors have one glass pane each, which if broken, permits the unlatching of the door; that a fire axe is mounted at each of these doors; that an elevator operator is in attendance 24 hours steady; that the elevator shaft is enclosed in substantial grille work throughout; that there is a standpipe system in the stair halls, with adequate hose at every story; that there is a fire alarm system, a transmitting station and two alarm bells at each floor and master box at the desk, with a clerk in attendance 24 hours a day; that telephones from every room can also notify the clerk in case of fire; that at every stair landing, there is a portable fire extinguisher and one pail of sand is located on each floor; that watchman service for all night duty is established with clock and proper stations; that the clock time cards are on file in the hotel office for the entire time, since the present owner operated the building; that all halls have tiled floors and no furniture; that at each floor level, the stair hall has two large double hung windows to the outer air; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this appeal is based solely on the relevance of the ruling quoted in the order and upon the validity of the claim of the superintendent that he has the power to compel compliance with the order, even though no change has been made to the building, from its legally approved condition affecting stairs, fire escapes or elevator enclosures, in that no change of occupancy of any kind was made and that no new regulations or laws have been made which would affect this building with regard to exits and which would require the order to be issued at this time; that no claim is made by the superintendent as to insufficiency of stairs or fire escapes or other exit facilities; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends further that the order is based on Section 6.1.5; that Section 6.1.5 is part of Article 6 entitled "Means of Egress" and Subarticle 1 "General Egress Requirements"; that the paragraph is headed "Inadequate Exits for Existing Structures"; that the intent of Section 6.1.5 is to provide for exits insufficient for the need that it permits the substitution of fire escapes for stairs, the fire protection being incidental to the provision of any exits; that the superintendent referred to in the section should be the one who was in office in 1938; that evidently that superintendent thought the exits adequate; that if each succeeding superintendent would have had a different opinion, the owner would have had to make at least six alterations so far; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to enclosure of the elevator shaft, that Section 10.5.10.1 states in part ". . . elevator or wallhole not enclosed previous to January 1st, 1938 . . . shall have the opening thereof . . . protected by substantial guards or gates . . ."; that Sections 10.5.10.2 and 10.5.10.3 indicate it was not intended to require fireproof enclosures for buildings erected before 1938; that the general attitude of the superintendent in 1939, is revealed in a memorandum dated December 9th, even though it refers to Class A buildings; that it clearly shows that enclosures of shafts beyond existing grille work are not intended, if not then in existence; and

WHEREAS, it is further contended that since this building is a multiple dwelling, the Multiple Dwelling Law should govern; that Section 365 states in part—" . . . Ordinances and regulations of cities to which this chapter is or hereafter becomes applicable, so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter . . . are hereby repealed;" that Section 12 states in part: "All the requirements of this chapter shall apply to all kinds and classes of multiple dwellings . . ."; that Section 13 states in part: ". . . except as otherwise expressly required in Sections 25 and 33 of this chapter, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require any change in the construction or use or occupancy of any fireproof multiple dwelling or any non-fireproof hotel . . . heretofore erected, used and occupied as such;" and

WHEREAS, the applicant further contends that of the 40 odd exit orders issued since start of this year, 8 were dismissed, because these buildings had certificates of occupancy; that no certificate of occupancy is required for this building; that there is no distinction at law as to the privileges for one building having a certificate of occupancy against one not having it; that the order should have been dismissed, as if the building in question also had a certificate of occupancy; that the superintendent cannot possibly have the opinion that the exit facilities in a building are inadequate, but when he discovers the existence of the certificate of occupancy the exits become sufficient, fire hazards disappear and the safety of occupants are cared for and that all of these are accomplished with a certificate of occupancy; and

WHEREAS, this appeal is solely to pass on the powers of the Borough Superintendent to issue the order; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the Borough Superintendent was authorized by Section C26-276.0 to issue the order and that no other administrative official can do so; that there is no inconsistency in his action under this section and the provision of New York Charter Section 645b, inasmuch as the Deputy Commissioner of Housing is not empowered to apply the provisions of Section C26-276.0, but must enforce the order when issued under this section by the Borough Superintendent; that Section 9 of the Multiple Dwelling law specifically empowers a city to which that law applies, to enforce more restrictive regulations; that this appeal is readily distinguished from the matter of Lyons vs. Prince.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Exit Order 13-45, objections 1, 2 and 3 be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (264-45-A)

WHEREAS, Martyn N. Weinstein, for Mircol Corporation, owner, filed May 7, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises: 1052-1054 Greene avenue, south side, 51 feet. 8 in. west of Broadway (Block 1623, Lot 33), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 30, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 337-45, reads:

"1. Exits to comply with Section 270 of the Labor Law.

"2. Provide 2 ft. by 3 ft. hinged scuttle and double rung 18 in. iron ladder in stairhall."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 3 stories (39 ft.) in height, 40 ft. by 90 ft. in area; Class 1 construction; erected in 1895; located in an unrestricted and business use, C area and Class 1 height district; used and occupied since March, 1945, as follows: Cellar, boiler room and storage; 1st, 2nd and 3rd floors, telephone exchange; proposed to be used and occupied: cellar, boiler room and storage; 1st floor, shipping, showrooms and display, 10 persons; 2nd floor, mfg. of briar pipes, 25 persons; 3rd floor, offices, 10 persons; that the building is equipped with a standpipe, one 3 ft. wide fireproof stairs, leading directly to the street and one fire escape extending to the roof by a ladder and to the street by counterbalanced ladder; that windows on the course of fire escape are fireproof, self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building was erected two stories in height in 1895, extended in 1903 and further extended in 1920, by adding a partial third story; that the third floor will be used for offices, toilet and locker room with a maximum occupancy of 10 persons; that the applicant contends that one interior fireproof enclosed stairway, varying from 3 ft. to 3 ft. 9 in. in width, leads directly to the street through a 4 ft. 10 in. entrance hall; that this stairway is more than adequate for the proposed number of occupants; that there exists an exterior fire escape on the Greene Avenue front, leading from the 3d floor and terminating at the street level, by means of counter-balanced stairs; that the main roof is reached by a stationary iron ladder located just outside the exit door on the 3rd floor, leading to the front extension roof; that the adjoining buildings are four stories in height and extend higher than the roof level of the building in question; that the structure is designed to support a liveload of 125 pounds and that it would be an undue hardship if the owner were forced to comply with the decision of the borough superintendent; that since the addition of the third floor which was added after 1913, is only 19% of entire cubical area of the building, and since the building is completely fireproof although not required by law to be so, it is requested the Board grant a variation, to permit the acceptance of the conditions as described herein

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is two stories (28 ft.) in height; 294 ft., 259 ft., 88 ft., 20 ft. and 69 ft. in area; of Class 3 construction; erected 1904, located in a business use, B area, Class 1½ height district and used and occupied since 1943 as: cellar, storage and boiler room; 1st floor, stores and church with an occupancy of 45 persons in the church; 2nd floor, manufacturing dresses, 200 persons, and janitor's apartment; and proposed to be used and occupied as follows: cellar, storage and boiler room; 1st floor, stores with manufacturing in store Nos. 795A, 795B Prospect avenue, 26 persons combined, 795C Prospect avenue, 12 persons combined, 801 Prospect avenue, 14 persons, 803-811 Prospect avenue and 836 A and B Westchester avenue, 92 persons combined; 797-799 Prospect avenue, 43 persons combined (a total of 187 persons at factory work on the 1st floor); 2nd floor, no change in use or occupancy is proposed; that the building is equipped with two interior wood stairs, one 7 ft. and the other 4 ft. 6 in. wide; that the main entrance stair is enclosed in stud, lath and plaster and the rear stairs in stud, wire lath and cement plaster; that the doors to the stair enclosure of the main stairs are wood and to the rear enclosure are metal and that none of the doors are self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this is an appeal for variation to permit factory occupancy in 795 A, B and C, 801 and 803-811 Prospect avenue and 836A and B Westchester avenue; that the occupancy is of a light nature, using sewing machines and the live load imposed is well under 75 lbs. per superficial foot; that live load notices will be posted, specifying the 75 lb. limit and the occupants instructed not to exceed that allowance; that any reinforcing for additional loads will be a waste of money and material, as the occupancy described would not utilize the excess construction; that the nature of the neighborhood has changed, so that to continue store occupancy is no longer feasible and it would be a hardship on the owner not to be permitted to rent the premises for the purposes proposed, particularly since the nature of the occupancy is permitted under the zoning resolution.

WHEREAS, said order was referred to in a decision of the fire commissioner, dated May 7, 1945, which reads:

"In reply to your request to rescind Order 33086-LF, requiring an automatic sprinkler system in the cellar, you are advised that this order was reissued due to the use of the cellar for the storage of cars, and your request is denied.

An appeal may be filed from this decision with the Board of Standards and Appeals within 30 days, at which time you may submit a request to allow the use of the cellar for the storage of dead cars."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 5 stories (approximately 65 ft.) in height, 43 ft. 6 in. by 90 ft. in area, of class 3 construction, erected in 1893, located in an unrestricted use B area and Class 2 height district and used and occupied since 1912 as a public storage garage and proposed to be used throughout as follows: cellar, storage of more than five motor vehicles, no persons; 1st floor, storage of more than five motor vehicles, 2 persons; 2nd floor to 5th floor, storage of more than five motor vehicles, no persons; that the building is equipped with one 3 ft. 6 in. wide wood stairs, enclosed in metal partitions, equipped with metal self-closing doors and leading from the top story, directly to the street; that a ladder and scuttle to the roof is provided; that there are two fire escapes leading to the roof by ladder and to the street and yard by ladder, with egress through areaway to an adjoining vacant lot; that windows and doors on the course of the fire escape are fireproof, self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building has been used as a garage for more than 30 years; that the applicant has occupied the building for more than 7 years, operating it as a storage garage and sale of gasoline and oil at retail, on the main floor; that the order refers to the basement only and until 1938, the basement was used for the storage of pleasure cars; that in 1938, the Fire Department issued an order, directing the installation of a sprinkler system in the basement; that this order was taken up with the Department and it was agreed that the order would be rescinded, on condition that the applicant install a metal stairway from the street to the vault space and provided that no automobiles be stored in the basement; that such arrangement was complied with until 1944, when due to the pressure of business, the applicant stored several automobiles not exceeding six in number, in the basement which has a capacity for 20 cars; that the Department reissued the order, requiring the installation of a sprinkler system in the basement and the appeal is taken from this order; that the applicant requests the order be rescinded, as it appears from the diagrams filed with this appeal, that the building has a frontage of 44 ft. and a depth of 96 ft., is of brick construction and fire-retarded throughout; that the boiler room is completely separated from the basement by brick walls equipped with fireproof door opening to the vault space below the sidewalk; that the basement is readily accessible for fire-fighting; that access to the basement can be had through elevator shaftway opening on the street, which opening is 20 ft. by 11 ft. 6 in. in area; that there is a metal stairway from the street level to the vault space and leading through a fireproof door in the basement; there is also a window from the basement to the vault space and a stairway, metal enclosed, leading from the ground floor to the basement; there are rear windows opening to the areaway; there is a fire escape from the roof, leading down to one of the rear basement windows; that the areaway is readily accessible, by reason of the vacant lot immediately to the east, which is separated from the premises in question by a low wall leading to the rear windows; that no gasoline or oil or other inflammable material is stored in the basement; there are no employees stationed in the basement; that there are never more than two employees throughout the building; that there are sufficient fire hydrants in the immediate proximity of the premises from which adequate water can be drawn without delay, to fight any fire in the basement; that to deprive the applicant of the use of the basement for the very purpose for which the building is occupied, would constitute a serious financial loss.

Resolved, that Order 33086-LF, Item 1, of the fire commissioner be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the entrance to the basement as indicated on plans filed with this appeal, marked "Received May 18, 1945," shall be maintained and that the number of cars stored in the basement shall at no time exceed twelve (12) and that such cars shall be in dead storage only and all gasoline removed from the tanks and the plugs and filling caps of the tanks removed; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained in the cellar as the fire commissioner shall direct; and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto and maintained to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner.

THE RESOLUTION (304-45-A)

WHEREAS, Louis B. Santangelo, for B.H.L. Realty Corporation, owner, filed May 22, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 1613-1635 East 16th street, east side, 100 ft. south of Avenue P (2nd floor); (Block 6779, Lot 69), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 26, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 1109-45, reads:

"1. Means of egress from 1st and 2nd floors to comply with Section 270 of the Labor Law in all respects.

2. Comply with Section 7.3.2.3 as to required floor load capacity of 120 lbs. for factory use."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 2 stories (26 ft.) in height, 192 ft. 5½ in. by 100 ft. in area at 1st floor, 46 ft. by 100 ft. in area at 2nd floor, of Class 3 construction, erected in 1921, located in an unrestricted use, D area and class 1¼ height district and used and occupied since 1943 as follows: cellar—boiler room; 1st floor—garage for more than five cars and repair shop—2 persons; 2nd floor—manufacturing plastic novelties—20 persons; no change in use or occupancy is proposed; that the building is equipped with one 3 ft. 8 in. wide wood stairs, enclosed in fire-resisting partitions, to be equipped with fireproof, self-closing doors and leading directly to the street; that there is one fire escape proposed at the front, to extend to the street by a drop ladder in guides; that windows and doors on the course of the fire escape will be made fireproof and self-closing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the existing certificate of occupancy permits the 1st floor to be used for garage and repair shop and the 2nd floor for office; that it is proposed to use the 2nd floor for manufacturing of plastic novelties, with an occupancy of about 20 persons; that to be required to comply fully with section 270 of the Labor Law, would require two fireproof stairways leading to the roof and to the street; that the 2nd floor is now provided with a wood stairway with fire-resisting enclosure leading directly to the street; that it is proposed to install at the top of the stairway, an iron ladder to a scuttle in the roof; it is further proposed to provide a fire escape at the front of the building, as a secondary means of egress with a ladder to the sidewalk; that only about one-half of the 2nd floor will be used for manufacturing of plastic novelties, which is a light, clean business and not in any way objectionable or a hazard; that the applicant contends specifically as to objection 2, that the work carried on is only light manufacturing with small, light machinery, for which the approved 80 lb. load is more than ample and will never be exceeded; that the owner, if forced to comply with section 270 of the Labor Law, would suffer undue hardship and expense not comparable to the return on the investment; it is therefore requested that the Board accept the fire-resisting stairway and fire escape and approve the 80 lb. load, in view of the fact that the work carried on is only light manufacturing with a small occupancy.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 1109-45, Objection 1, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the exits and entrances as indicated on plans filed with this appeal on the first and second floors shall be maintained as existing and as proposed, and that in addition, there shall be a door in the first floor in the fire wall toward the rear; that such door shall be fireproof in accordance with the requirements for doors within fire walls and shall be not less than 3 ft. in width; that on the 2nd floor, the windows overlooking the adjoining neighboring roof, whether under the same ownership or not, shall be fireproof and self-closing of the double hung type, so as to be available for additional exit; that the fire escape on the East 16th street side of the building, as proposed, shall comply with the requirements of the Labor Law, except that a counterbalanced ladder of the vertical counterbalanced type may be maintained; as to Objection 2, that the approved floor load of 80 lbs. per superficial foot shall be maintained and the factory occupancy within the space toward the front as shown on plans filed with this appeal, shall not be loaded beyond such capacity; that the floor loading shall be posted; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained, within the space proposed to be occupied for factory stock and storage, as the fire commissioner requires; that this variance shall continue only so long as the premises are maintained substantially as proposed and as herein permitted.

WHEREAS, the premises were inspected by a committee of the Board and the committee recommended that in view of the fact these buildings are now being combined for the first time for a woodworking factory and in view of the type of occupancy proposed, that the buildings should comply with the requirements of the Labor Law and the Code.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 1587-45, objections 2 and 3, be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 3 stories (40 ft.) in height; 47 ft. 6 in. by 97 ft. 5 in. in area; of Class 1 construction; erected 1908; located in an unrestricted use, A area and Class 1½ height district, and used and occupied since 1941 as follows: cellar, storage; 1st floor, office, storage and manufacturing, 15 persons; 2nd and 3rd floors, manufacturing, 28 persons on 2nd floor, 30 persons on 3rd floor; that the building is equipped with an interior fire alarm system and that fire drills are maintained; that there are two 43 in. steel stairs, enclosed in brick and concrete, equipped with metal self-closing doors and leading from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building is fireproof with two interior stairways, equipped with both sliding and self-closing fireproof doors; that permission is requested to smoke in the office only, on the 1st floor, which has a direct street entrance; that customers doing business with the office insist on smoking and it will be conducive for better business relations if the customers and the officers of the company were permitted to smoke in the office only; and

WHEREAS, Joseph Lau, for Merchants Refrigerating Company, owner, filed June 15, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 500-528 West 17th street, 97-111 10th avenue and 501-521 West 16th street (Block 688, Lot 21) Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, this appeal was withdrawn on July 3, 1945, and the applicant requested a reopening and restoration to the calendar; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 5, 1945, on Drop Curb Application 950-45, reads:

"1. Obstruction to pedestrians contrary to Sec. 2.4.2.13.1 a, b. Building Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 9 stories (106 ft.) in height; 184 ft. by 197 ft. by 285 ft. by 356 ft. in area; of Class 1 construction; erected 1918; located in an unrestricted use, A area and Class 2 height district and used and occupied: cellar, engine room and cold storage, 10 persons; 1st floor, office and shipping space, 100 persons; 2nd to 9th stories, cold storage of food, 35 persons each; that building is equipped with a two source sprinkler system and interior fire alarm system and that fire drills are maintained; that there is one 4 ft. wide fireproof stairs from the roof to the street; and

WHEREAS, Certificate of Occupancy 1365, issued July 9, 1919, on N.B. Applic. 510-16, permits the present use and occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that an application was filed with the borough superintendent for 3 drop curbs, 10 ft. in width with an uncut portion of 9 ft. 6 in. between drops on 11th avenue; that there are two drop curbs which do not prove adequate for the tremendous volume of produce handled; that when the building was built, drop curbs were provided along the entire frontage east of West 17th street, West 16th street and 10th avenue, for trucks to back up to the building line loading platforms, which is the same method proposed for the new drop curbs on 11th avenue; that the building is used throughout for cold storage of foods; that at the present time, more than 70% of the volume of business handled is for the Armed Forces and for lend lease; that the owners have leased a portion of their refrigerated space to a large dealer in butter and eggs; that for his operations, it is essential there be loading facilities for three trucks; that this tenant is an essential part of the civilian food distribution in the city; that during these war times, the owners cannot afford to turn over to the tenants three of their loading doors, as it would hamper the movement of perishable goods and it is necessary that every possible truck loading space be utilized; that the neighborhood has very few pedestrians who use the sidewalk around this building; that it is practically impossible to enter the building with the trucks, as required by the borough superintendent, as the first floor is fireproof construction and is 3 ft. 6 in. above street; that to create a ramp to enter the 1st story would lose valuable space and in addition, introduce the gasoline fumes of the trucks into the food storage spaces; that the cellar on 11th avenue side contains irreplaceable mechanical equipment used for refrigerating purposes directly up to the underside of the first floor, which would prohibit the lowering of the floor.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent on D.C. Application 950-45, new objection 1, dated July 5, 1945, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that no additional curb cuts shall be installed to 11th avenue other than those now existing and as herein proposed; that such new curb cuts shall be not over 10 ft. in width as indicated on plans marked "Received July 15, 1945."

COURT DECISION

Matter of Hoffman vs. Murdock—On September 14, 1943, the Board modified a decision of the Borough Superintendent as to keeping pigeons in a residence use district by restricting the number to fifteen, confined in a coop; Cal. No. 332-43-A; premises 77-52—74th St., Glendale, Queens. Upon court review, Mr. Justice Daly, in Special Term, Supreme Court, found that, in view of the lack of evidence that the keeping of pigeons was not carried on as a business enterprise, there is no provision of law to prevent keepiing of pigeons as a hobby. The court found that there is presently no provision in the Sanitary Code under which the Health Department can regulate the keeping of pigeons as a health measure; also, that if the keeping of pigeons is to be regulated, it is a matter for legislative determination. (N.Y.L.J. July 25, 1945).

The court based the decision upon BARKMAN vs. THE TOWN OF HEMPSTEAD, in which case the court upheld the constitutionality of a regulatory provision in the Zoning Law.

THE RESOLUTION (593-30-BZ)

WHEREAS, this application, permitting in a business use district, the erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station, affecting premises 219-02 Horace Harding boulevard and 61-01 219th street, southeast corner (Block 7609, Lot 1), Bayside, Borough of Queens, was granted by the Board on May 31, 1931, on certain conditions; and

WHEREAS, time to obtain permits and complete the work, was extended from time to time, the last such extension having been granted on October 3, 1933, at which time, the resolution was amended and plans approved; and

WHEREAS, this gasoline service station was never erected; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requested a reopening of the case and restoration to the calendar, on the basis of a new proposal to permit, under section 7f of the zoning resolution, the erection and maintenance of a gasoline service station; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on June 5, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Horace Harding boulevard is in a business use, D area and Class 1 height district and 219th and 220th streets are in a residence use, D area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated April 26, 1945, re N.B. Applic. 134-45, reads:

> "Proposed use of premises located in a business district as a gasoline service station is contrary to §4-46 of the building zone resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 140.28 ft. frontage by 95.57 ft. and 104.27 ft. in depth, now vacant, on a portion of which the Board previously granted a 120 ft. by 95.37 ft. gasoline service station which was not erected and permit expired and that it is proposed to erect a gasoline service station including lubritorium and car washing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the Board granted a permit for a gasoline station for a portion of the present application under Cal. 593-30-BZ; that the portion granted without limitation as to term, other than completion, covered 120 ft. on Horace Harding boulevard and 95.35 ft. on 219th street; that the permit required all work to be completed within one year, and subsequently yearly extensions of time were granted until June 1934; that the permit then lapsed; that depression conditions at the time prohibited the building of the gasoline service station; that the owners of the premises at that time, the Civic Realty Corporation and the present owners, Hauben Realty Corporation, are the same people; that the plot is now vacant and 219th street, while legally mapped, is not open; that the proposed work consists of the erection of a two bay service center with a frontage of 47 ft. 8 in. and a depth of 30 ft. to be used as an office, rest rooms, lubritory and auto laundry; that Eight 550 gallon under ground gasoline tanks, together with six dispensing pumps, are to be installed; that the plot is to be levelled to the grade of Horace Harding boulevard and paved with colprovia where not occupied by the building and planted areas; that interior lot lines are to have a two ft. masonry wall with a 4 ft. wood picket fence on top; that new sidewalks and driveways are to be laid on both streets as indicated; that one brand sign is to be erected at the intersection; that on the southwest corner of Horace Harding boulevard and 220th street, adjoining the plot, there exists a gasoline service station which was granted by the Board, without limitation as to term, under Cal. 965-28-BZ; that Horace Harding boulevard on the south side, between 221st street and 217th street including the streets, has not been developed since the grant of 1931 and with the exception of a few homes along 220th street, the land is all vacant; that the north side of Horace Harding boulevard, which is mapped as a 160 ft. street to a depth of 100 ft., is now vacant with the exception of some homes erected to the north along 218th, 219th and 220th streets; that other than the station adjoining the plot, the only gasoline service stations nearby to the west on Horace Harding boulevard are at about 195th street and are on the north side of the street; that Horace Harding boulevard has now been classified as a principal route under the recently adopted Master Plans of Arterial Highways and is heavily trafficked and there is a need for a gasoline service station along the southerly side of the boulevard; that in view of the fact that the area under consideration is sparsely developed and that Horace Harding boulevard is a main traffic artery, it is requested that the Board consider the granting of this application under Section 7f of the zoning resolution; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no justification for the exercise of its discretion to grant a zoning variance under section 7, subdivision f of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on N.B. Applic. 134-45, be and it hereby is affirmed and that the application be and it hereby is denied.

APPLICANT—Italo Nicolai, for Xavier Kirchoffer, owner.

APPEARANCES—

For Applicant: Italo Nicolai, W. Braisted and X. Kirchoffer.

For Opposition: C. Bregoff, Helene Frederick, C. Frederick and G. A. Faller.

For Administration: Fred Dahlem, Dep't of Housing and Buildings.

THE RESOLUTION (302-44-BZ)

WHEREAS, Italo Nicolai, for Xavier Kirchoffer, owner, filed May 22, 1944, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use, E area district, the erection of an extension to a greenhouse potting room, without providing the rear yard required by the zoning resolution, affecting premises 2286 Richmond road, south side, 122 ft. east of Otis avenue (Block 3618, Lots 7 and 16), New Dorp, Borough of Richmond; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Richmond road, Otis avenue, Allison place and Bryant avenue are in a residence use, E area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated October 14, 1943, re Alt. Applic. 109-43, reads:

> "The erection of this proposed extension to the plotting room of the greenhouse is not permitted, as being contrary to Art. IV, Sec. 15 of the zoning resolution which requires a 25 ft. rear yeard in an E area district."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated May 18, 1944 re Alt. Applic. 109-43, reads:

> "Reconsideration is denied because the erection of this proposed extension to the potting room of the greenhouse is not permitted, as being contrary to Art. IV, Sec. 15 of the zoning resolution, which requires a 25 ft. rear yeard in an E area district."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 239 ft. frontage by 214 ft. and 98 ft. irregular in depth, on which is located a dwelling and hot houses and that it is proposed to erect at the rear, an extension to the potting room, the extension to be 50 ft. by 26 ft. irregular, against rear property line; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this application is based upon the fact that this building was erected in 1936, to be used as a potting room, accessory to the hot house (Green House) and was part of the original plan; that the heater room is located in the cellar of the potting room and is provided with a furnace of a size sufficient to supply heat to the adjacent hot house by means of underground pipes; that due to the increased demand for flowers and to the scientific way of running nurseries, the present potting room is too small to take care of the accelerated plant's fecundation, so it is necessary to expand it, inasmuch as there is a need for additional cellar space for coal supply, due to the fact that it is obtainable only during the summer months; that the owner started to erect the foundation walls for the expansion of the building, not knowing that it was necessary to file a plan and to go through the Building Department routine for such a small addition; that plans were filed but much difficulty was encountered, not for the building itself, but for the zoning question; that the owner was never informed or instructed of the meaning of the zoning resolution and of the time when change took effect (August 2, 1943) and did not realize the extent to which it would affect his plans; that the spacing of 25 ft. from the rear line will entirely eliminate all facilities to extend the potting room and there will be no way to connect the cellar for the coal supply and conveying; that this will be a handicap in the development of the flower production which is vital to the owner's work and will cripple part of the financial investment; it is therefore respectfully requested that the Board grant this application, as the addition is only one story high and will not obstruct the light nor air of the nearest building; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis for appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit the construction of the potting house within the required rear yard substantially as proposed and as shown on plans filed with this application, on condition that the building shall not exceed one story in height and shall not exceed the area as proposed; that the wall near the rear lot line shall be a masonry wall with a parapet not less than 3 ft. in height; that such portable fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within six (6) months from the date of this resolution.

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the site in question was purchased by the Cardinal Mfg. Co. in November, 1943 and leased to the Cardinal Engineering Company directly thereafter; that it has a frontage of 200 ft. on Hicks street and 100 ft. on Nelson and Huntington streets; that this site was formerly in a business use, C district and was changed into residence use, D area in May 1939; that during the depression years and up to 1940, this plot was used by the WPA for the storage of all kinds of building materials; that it also contained a watchman's shanty; that in acquiring this plot, the Cardinal Mfg. Co. enriched the City's treasury to the extent of $8,000 for back taxes which had accumulated over a period of over 13 years; that by reason of the work handled by the lessee and because of the stringent requirements of the Maritime Commission and Lend Lease authorities, it is essential to keep on hand and available at all times and on short notice, many cumbersome and bulky items that are essential to ship building; that these items are removed from ships in port or in dry dock and must be kept on inventory and may not be disposed of since they are the property of the Maritime Commission and subject to recall; that the items consist of gun mounts, booms, booby hatches, life boats, rafts, dunnage, deck houses, hatch covers, etc.; that in addition to the storage of these items, it is also proposed to store 75 oxygen tanks and 100 acetylene tanks and to enclose them in separate portable steel deck houses; that these tanks are used daily in connection with welding operations required in the fabrication of ship construction in the plant at 700 Hicks street, diagonally across from the site in question; that it is proposed to enclose the entire site with a wood fence 10 ft. high with openings only on Nelson and Huntington streets, thereby maintaining an unpierced fence on Hicks street, 200 ft. long; that in view of the above facts, and because of the urgency and nature of the work involved, it is requested that this application be granted; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision e, of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 7e thereof, for a term of two (2) years, to permit the premises to be occupied substantially as proposed as indicated on revised plans marked B and C, "Received, July 25, 1945" on condition that a substantial wooden fence as now existing, shall be maintained on the interior lot lines and on the street lines as indicated; that exits shall be maintained for openings to Nelson street and to Huntington street and an aisle of sufficient width shall be maintained at all times for easy access; that the existing buildings, called "deck houses" shall be moved to the west as indicated on such plans; that any acetylene and oxygen stored shall be subject to proper permits issued by the fire commissioner; that no combustible materials shall be maintained toward the interior lot line to the east and not nearer than 25 ft. thereto; that the premises shall be maintained at all times to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner; that such portable fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall require; that in all other respects, the buildings and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within three (3) months from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (96-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Lama and Proskauer, for Lorberg Realty Company, Inc., owner, filed an application under sections 7c and 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use, C area district, the extension of a woodworking factory occupying in excess of the permitted area in a C area district and omitting required rear yard; affecting premises 1552-1564 Bergen street, south side, 177 ft. West of Utica avenue (Block 1354, Lots 30, 33 and 35), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Dean street, Bergen street and St. Marks avenue are in a business use, C area and Class 1 height district, and Utica avenue is in a local retail use, C area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated February 13, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 278-45, reads:

"1. Comply with zone resolution as to permissible area of buildings. Art. IV, Sec. 13, Par. b—residential 'C' zone.

2. Provide rear yard as per Art. IV, Sec. 17 of zone resolution.

3. Woodworking factory in a residence zone is contrary to Art. II, Sect. 3 of zone resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 127 ft. frontage by 155 ft. 7 in. and 127 ft. 9½ in. in depth, on which is located a 2 story, Class 3 constructed building, two one story brick buildings, a one story frame building, the 1st story occupying practically the entire area of the plot, the 2nd story being 31 ft. by 127 ft.; that the buildings are occupied by a wood working factory and it is proposed to reconstruct the buildings to cover the entire plot in the 1st story; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises are improved with a 2-story structure, the 1st floor is used as a wood working factory, 2nd floor, offices and display; that on the easterly portion, it is proposed to build a one story extension on the northeasterly portion of the lot, approximately 39 ft. by 85 ft. 7 in. in depth and remove existing frame sheds in this area, also erect a new extension on westerly portion of plot, approximately 49 ft. by 127 ft. 9½ in. in depth; also remove existing 1st story extension in this area; that the factory use of the building originated in 1880 and the premises have been used continuously for factory purposes; that in 1916, this plot was zoned as a business district on Bergen street, and the remainder was zoned as a residence district; that under the rules then in force, the business district was 100 ft. in depth; that under the rules adopted with zoning maps of October 3, 1924, the business district was interpreted as extending to a line midway between Bergen street and St. Marks avenue, instead of to a depth of 100 ft.; that the business district was changed to its present residential designation on November 4, 1940; that the height and area designation have not been changed since 1916; that it should be noted however, that the regulation relating to height and area was amended for the entire city on December 2, 1944; that directly across the street, Block 1348, Lots 62, 72 and 78 are improved with a one story brick public garage, so that the proposed extensions will not affect the general surrounding area; that therefore, in view of the fact that the use is an existing one and that it would be a hardship to the owners not to be permitted to expand business facilities, and the fact that there are other non-conforming uses in the affected area, it is respectfully requested that this application be granted; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis for appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area and extension of use on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit the alteration and construction of an addition to the building, substantially as indicated on plans filed with this application, on condition that such building shall not exceed one (1) story in height and shall be of fireproof construction; that the entire plant, including the new addition, shall be protected with a sprinkler system; that a passage through to Bergen street shall be provided as shown, for exit to the street, for the secondary means of exit; that no windows or other openings shall be constructed in the lot line wall to the east and no openings on any interior lot line shall be constructed, other than those that may now exist; that the present building shall not be increased in height or area; that no sign shall be erected on the building, other than those now existing; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within one (1) year from the date of this resolution; that this variance is contingent upon the continuance of the present type of occupancy.

THE RESOLUTION (175-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Joseph M. Lonergan, for William Stroh, owner, filed March 19, 1945, an application under section 7c of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use district, the extension of a business use, now existing on the 1st story to the 2nd story, affecting premises 403 East Houston street and 126-128 Sheriff street, southeast corner (Block 335, Lots 10 and 11), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Sheriff and Houston streets are in a residence use D area and class 7/8 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 14, 1944, on Alt. Applic. 753-44, amendment dated March 9, 1945, reads:

(403 East Houston street and 128 Sheriff street)

"2. Plans filed show approved use of 2nd floor for business purposes. Note: reinforcing of 2nd floor by steel beams—also common opening to 126 Sheriff street, which is proposed to be used for business purposes under Alt. Applic. 754-44. Refer also to zoning violation #12 on record. Since this building is in a residence district, business use is contrary to Art. II, sec. 3 of the zoning resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 14, 1944, on Alt. Applic. 754-44, amendment dated March 9, 1945, reads:

(126 Sheriff street)

"2. Proposed use for 2nd floor for business purposes is contrary to Art. II, sec. 3 of the zoning resolution, as structure is in a residence district."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 25 ft. and 28 ft. frontage by 48 ft. and 50 ft. in depth, occupied by two and four story buildings, occupied as stores and offices; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this is an appeal from a decision of the Department of Housing and Buildings refusing approval of plans for a permit for the use of the 2nd floors of building 403 East Houston street and 126-128 Sheriff street, for business purposes; that the owner entered into possession of the stores on the first floor of these buildings about nine years ago, at that time hiring them from the Bowery Savings Bank; that he was informed that he could use these premises for business purposes and bought them from the bank with that understanding; that the stores on the 1st floor could continue to be used for business purposes, since they were so used for a great many years prior to and at the advent of zoning (1916); that this did not apply to the upper floors, which were used for dwelling purposes; that since this was a residence district when he removed the 3rd and 4th floors of 126 Sheriff street and used the 2nd floor thereof and of 128 Sheriff street for his office in conjunction with the stores on the first floor, he found that the use district restriction prohibited this occupancy; that when he attempted to use the 2nd floor of 128 Sheriff street and the corner building adjoining, 403 East Houston street, for waterclosets, shower and dressing accommodations for his help, he found that such use was prohibited; that the 3rd and 4th floors of 128 Sheriff street and 403 East Houston street have been closed up and will not be used; that there has been a change from a B area to a D area by the City Planning Commission and a 1½ height district to a 7/8 height district on March 1, 1939; that Violation #12 was issued for using the 2nd floor for business purposes and its disposition was adjourned, pending the outcome of this appeal; that the business conducted on the 1st floor is a wholesale meat and poultry business and unless this appeal is granted the owner must find additional space for his office and for accommodations for his help on the 1st floor, which is impossible or obtain such space elsewhere; that no change will be made in the external appearance of these buildings by reason of the use of the 2nd floor; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision c, of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 7c of the zoning resolution, to permit the occupancy of the second story as proposed, in conjunction with the lawful non-conforming business use on the 1st story, on condition that the second story shall be used for office work only in connection with the first story business use; that the portion of the building now four stories in height shall be reduced to two stories to the approximate height of the portion of the building to the south; that any and all extensions beyond the building line including the conveyor track and the fire escape shall be removed; that the front of the building shall be painted or stuccoed on both Sheriff and East Houston streets; that the building shall not be increased in height or area; that no signs shall be erected on the premises, except that there may be one sign near the entrance, painted on the brick wall, not exceeding 10 sq. ft. in area and all other existing signs shall be removed; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that this variance shall continue only so long as the building is occupied as proposed and as to the first floor in accordance with Certificate of Occupancy 29898-43; that a new Certificate of Occupancy shall be obtained after completion of the alteration as proposed and as herein required; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within six (6) months from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (341-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, George Boochever, for Frank J. Borrello, owner, filed June 1, 1945, an application under section 7h of the zoning resolution, to permit partly in an unrestricted use district and partly in a business use district, the parking and storage of more than five motor vehicles, affecting premises 630-638 Grand avenue, west side, 53 ft. north of Prospect place (Block 1154, Lot 24), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Grand avenue and Washington avenue are in a business and unrestricted use, B area and class 1½ height district; St. Marks place is in an unrestricted use, B area and class 1½ height district; Prospect place is in a business use, B area and Class 1½ height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 3, 1945 on B. N. Applic. 441-45 reads:

"1. Parking and storage of more than five motor vehicles in a business zone and extending into the unrestricted zone, is contrary to Art. II, Sect. 4, par. 15, of the Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 78 ft. frontage by 144 ft. 1 in. in depth, now vacant and that it is proposed to erect a one story, Class 3 office building 10 ft. by 8 ft. in area, and maintain the parking and storage of more than five motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises are divided by the restriction lines, so that a portion of the premises is in the unrestricted district, which could be used for the storage of cars; that the conditions in the neighborhood are such that facilities for parking will enable the cars to be taken off the streets and clear traffic; that the neighborhood is considerably congested and directly within a 500 ft. radius there are located several manufacturing establishments, with a great number of employees, such as Knox Hat Factory, etc.; that by providing parking facilities, these employees will have storage space available; that there is a public theatre around the corner, which will enable the visitors to have parking facilities; that this neighborhood does not warrant development with any conforming use, as a result of which the owner maintains a vacant plot with no income to meet taxes or current expenses; that the storage or parking will not hurt the neighborhood, because part of the territory is at present unrestricted; that the development in this area is for dwellings of the lower rental type, where people are not in a position to pay excessive storage charges, so that the occupants of these dwellings are afforded a means of parking their cars at a nominal rental until such time as the conditions in the neighborhood cause the redevelopment of the neighborhood; that in view of the foregoing facts, it is requested that this application be granted; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no justification for the exercise of discretion to grant a zoning variance under section 7h of the zoning resolution.

THE RESOLUTION. (343-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Allen A. Blaustein, for Jack W. Edson, owner, filed June 5, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use, E area district, the erection of a one car private garage in an embankment, the face of the garage being located on the street, affecting premises 124 85th street, south side, 180 ft. east of Colonial road (Block 6032, Lot 18), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that 85th street, 84th street, 86th street and Colonial road are in a residence use, E area and Class 1 height district and that Ridge boulevard is in a residence use, F area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 24, 1945, re N.B. Applic. 79-45, reads:

"1. Proposed garage located within 10 ft. set back from building line required within an E area, residential district, is contrary to Art. 4, Sect. 15d of the zoning resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 40 ft. frontage by 125 ft. in depth, on which is located a two story frame stucco one family dwelling, on an embankment and that it is proposed to erect a one car private garage in the embankment, with the facade on the street line, one story, 12 ft. 4 in. by 23 ft. 6 in.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this application is for relief from Section 15-d, Art. 9, of the zoning resolution, which requires a 10 ft. setback from street line for a proposed one car private garage, to be erected in an embankment at the building line at curb level, similar to present adjacent private garages on the same block between intersecting streets; that the site in question is occupied by a two story frame stucco, 1 family dwelling, erected 25 ft. back from the building line on an embankment, while at the rear on the southeasterly side of plot, is a present accessory 2 car private concrete block garage untenanted by owner because of inaccessibility for the past 11 months, ever since owner took possession of the residence on same site, due to the narrow driveway; that it is proposed to substitute therefor a one car private garage at the front of the premises at the building line at curb level in the embankment and remove the rear two car private garage, creating a garden in its place; that the proposed garage will be erected over present driveway; that at the easterly side of the site is a narrow 6 ft. 3 in. wide driveway on hilly ground between present dwelling brick chimney and adjacent easterly property high ground retaining wall leaning slightly over the site in question; that since owner purchased the premises in July, 1944 for his own residence and storage for his own and family's car, he has been unable to enjoy the use of the garage in the rear, although paying taxes on the same and paying for the storage of his automobiles elsewhere; that because the original high ground contour and topography of the site and adjacent and surrounding properties, within a few blocks, are higher than the streets said properties face, the majority of adjacent property garages were erected at the front in the embankments at curb level facing the streets, avoiding steep hazardous driveway, as confronts the owner of the site in question, even if he were able to drive up into the present vacant garages in the rear of his premises; that adjacent to the east on the south side of the site are seven private garages, while on the opposite side of the street are six similar garages, all erected at the building line of 85th street, and at curb level, in the embankments; that similar conditions with garages at the front are found on Colonial road, 84th street and 86th street; it is requested that the 10 ft. setback be waived, because the present dwelling on the site is 25 ft. back from building line, and would have to be disturbed and cut into if proposed garage were set back the required distance; that with the demolition of the rear garages, and a garden erected in its place, a more desirable yard view, more light and air would be enjoyed by all the adjacent property owners; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis for appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit the garage as proposed to be constructed as indicated on plans filed with this application, on condition that the 25 ft. front yard between the house and the street line shall be maintained except for such garage; that the existing garage at the rear of the lot shall be removed; that there may be a passage constructed from the cellar of the house to the proposed garage, provided a fireproof self-closing door is installed therein; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within one (1) year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (377-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Lama and Proskauer, for Herman J. Klinck, owner, filed June 19, 1945, an application under section 7c and 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit the extension from a business use into a residence use district, and the coverage in a C area district in excess of 60% of the lot area of a proposed extension to an existing store, affecting premises 990 Flatbush avenue, west side, 58 ft. 3 in. south of Albemarle road (Block 5125, Lot 14), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Albemarle road is in a residence and business use, C area and Class 1½ height district; Flatbush avenue is in a business use, C area and Class 1½ height district and East 21st street is in a residence use, C area and Class 1½ height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 11, 1945, and June 26, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 1721-45, reads:

"1. The extension of a building on an interior lot line in a "C" area district to exceed 60% of the area of the lot is contrary to the zoning resolution. Sec. 13(b).

"2. The construction of an extension located partly within a residence use district to be used for business purposes, is contrary to the zoning resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 22 ft. frontage by 103 ft. 3½ in. in depth, on which is located a three story, 22 ft. by 55 ft., Class 3 constructed building, occupied as a store, beauty parlor and 1 family dwelling and that it is proposed to construct a one story extension covering the entire remainder of lot in 1st story and discontinue use of upper stories; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises are improved with a three story masonry building, 20 ft. front by 55 ft. in depth (32 ft. high), occupied as a store on the 1st floor, beauty parlor on the 2nd floor and one family on the 3rd floor; that it is proposed to construct a one-story extension covering the entire lot, which is contrary to the zoning law, inasmuch as it occupies more than 60% of the area of the lot; that it is also proposed to discontinue the uses of the upper floors and construct a new front on the building; that this request is necessary owing to the high assessed valuation of the property and also it is an undue hardship on the owner, inasmuch as the building directly to the south occupies 100% of the area, and the building to the north occupies approximately 97% of the area; that directly to the east, there is a six story apartment house which occupies more than 60% of the area of the lot; that this proposal does not in any way affect the intent of the zoning law, inasmuch as the premises is entirely surrounded by buildings which occupy in excess of 60% of the area of their lots; that in view of the foregoing facts, it is respectfully requested that this application be granted; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was therefore entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship; that in view of the buildings extending on either side practically to the rear, this applicant should be permitted a similar right.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 thereof, to permit the one story extension substantially as proposed and as indicated on plans filed with this appeal except that the building shall not be erected nearer than 5 ft. to the rear lot line for the full width of the lot, on condition that such extension shall be one story in height only; that no windows shall be constructed within the side or rear lot lines; that the second and third stories of the building shall be removed; that consent to traverse the adjoining premises to the north for exit to Albemarle road shall be obtained and filed with the borough superintendent; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within one (1) year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (382-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Herman E. Horwood, for Anne Posner, owner, filed June 30, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a G area district, the erection of a porch on an existing building 15 ft. 3 in. from the street and instead of 20 ft., as required by the zoning resolution, affecting premises: 108-11 66th road, north side, 100 ft. east of 108th street (Block 2174, Lot 59), Forest Hills, Borough of Queens; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that 66th road, 66th avenue, 67th avenue and 108th street are all in a residence use, G area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated March 26, 1945 and June 14, 1945, re Misc. App. 938-45 reads:

"5. In a G area district, the minimum distance of structure from building line is 20 ft. requirement, as per Art. III, sec. 16B."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 40 ft. frontage by 100 ft. in depth, on which is located a 2-story, Class 4 constructed one family residence 23 ft. ⅛ in. by 36 ft. 1 in. in area and that it is proposed to erect an open screened porch on the 66th road front 7 ft. 9 in. by 23 ft. ⅛ in., set back 15 ft. 3 in. from the street line instead of 20 ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that at the time the building was erected it was in a residence use, D area district, but was changed to residence use, G area district on September 25, 1941, and said porch could have been erected when the balance of the structure was built; that this building is now 23 feet distant from the street building line; that photo #1 filed with this application, shows a concrete slate and brick platform which was installed when the building was built, evidently with the intention to provide for a porch; that even with the proposed porch, the building will occupy only about 30% of the area of the lot, although 35% is permitted in this area and there is no other place on this plot where the porch could be erected; that under the present restriction, the porch could extend out for a distance of 3 ft., but this would not be of practical value; that all the other houses have screened porches and it would be a great hardship if this owner were prevented from enjoying the privilege of sitting outside of his home in the evenings, which is impossible without the protection of a screened enclosure; that it is the intention that the screening shall be made in removable panels and taken down after the summer months; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis for appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit the reduction of depth of the front yard as proposed, on condition that the porch shall be constructed substantially as proposed on plans filed with this application and shall not extend into the front yard for a distance greater than shown thereon; that the entire building on the premises, including the proposed porch, shall not exceed 30 per cent of the area of the lot, inclusive of the garage; that the porch shall remain an open porch and shall not be enclosed except for fly screening during the summer; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that all permits may be obtained and all work completed within one year.

THE RESOLUTION (403-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, George Alexander, Jr., for Mock, Grossarth and Ott, owner, filed June 25, 1945, an application under section 7c of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use, C area district, the extension of an existing factory building with the omission of the required rear yard; affecting premises: 761-783 Rutland Road (777 displayed) and 542 Schenectady avenue, northeast corner (Block 4808, Lot 38), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, July 24, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Rutland Road, Schenectady avenue and East 46th street are in a residence use, C area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 18, 1945, re Alt. App. 1663-45, reads:

> "1. Proposed extension to a factory building located within a residence use district, constitutes a violation of Art. II, Sec. 3 Zoning Resolution, also Art. IV, Sec. 17, which requires a rear yard."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 230 ft. frontage by 80 ft. in depth, on which is located a one-story, Class 4 constructed building 43 ft. 8½ in. by 80 ft. and two one-story sheds, occupied as a miscellaneous iron works and that it is proposed to extend this building, by removing a shed and erecting a new 1-story concrete block building 22 ft. 1 in. by 80 ft.; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this property was purchased in 1900 for manufacturing miscellaneous iron work and in 1912 the original factory, sheds, a stable (converted into a garage for trucks and passenger cars in connection with this business in 1912) and a 2-story frame dwelling as residence for the owner, were erected near the time of purchase; that the proposed extension would be constructed between the present factory and the dwelling, taking the place of the garage and the metal shed which will be torn down for this extension; that it would be a very small increase in the plot coverage and would not extend in the direction of the adjoining property; that to restrict the extension within the boundaries of this original plot, would be a hardship and impose practical difficulties on the owners who have been entirely occupied with high priority work for the U. S. Government; that the firm's specialty is the manufacture of water-tight doors for sides of Navy and Merchant Marine vessels and they are pressed for space to carry out their contracts; that the proposed extension would in no way interfere with the light and ventilation of the abutting property on Schenectady avenue, as its rear is opposite the back yard of the abutting plot; that the Athletic Field which occupies one half of Block 4808 and the entire Block 4807, is enclosed with a masonry wall approximately 16 ft. high with an entrance on Troy avenue and two exits on Maple Street; that the north side of Rutland Road was occupied as greenhouses, covering practically an area of 206 ft. by 230 ft.; that the northerly end of Block 4825 was likewise covered with greenhouses; that the entire Block 4590 is vacant and had been used by an excavation contractor for a storage yard for large types of machines; that because of the low cost of this property, both vacant and improved, it would seem that any extensive residential development is unlikely; that it would be a great hardship for the owners of subject premises to be prevented from expanding their business after the expense of the past 45 years in taxes and assessments with steady increases in assessed valuation; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise discretion to grant under section 7, subdivision c, of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 7c thereof, to permit the extension of the building as proposed on condition that a rear yard shall be provided in accordance with the requirements; that no openings shall be erected in the easterly wall and that any openings on the street or southerly wall shall be filled with glass block with no windows therein; that no skylight shall be erected nearer than 25 ft. from the street line; that the wall between the one story shop and the proposed addition may be removed; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; that the ceiling of the proposed extension and the existing one story shop shall be sealed with fibreboard or other suitable board for the purpose of deadening sound; that all fabrication shall be carried on within lawfully permitted buildings and no fabrication shall be carried on in the storage yard; that the buildings shall not be increased in height or area; that the cement block wall to the west shall be maintained with the gates therein to enclose the space unbuilt upon; that in all other respects, the buildings and occupancy shall comply with all laws and rules applicable thereto and that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within six (6) months from the date of this resolution.

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 7, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 827-45, reads:

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 73.3 ft. frontage by 166 ft. in depth, on which is located a 10-story and penthouse (150 ft. high), Class 1 constructed, stores, offices and light manufacturing building and that it is proposed to install an elevator in the inner court, running from the basement to the 2nd floor with the top of the shaft at the 3rd floor; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that as shown by plans and photostatic copies of drawings filed with the Dept. of Housing and Buildings, under Alt. Applic. 827-45, the proposed new elevator shaft is to be for a private elevator for the Rogers Peet Co. store, which will run from the basement to the 2nd floor with landings on the basement, 1st and 2nd floors with the elevator machine at the top of the shaft at the level of the 3rd floor; that this new shaft will be entirely within the building in the basement and first floors, emerging into the existing open court at the roof over the 1st floor and continuing in this court, the height of the 2nd floor and a portion of the 3rd floor; that the encroachment on the court will be only 9 ft. by 9 ft. 6 in. or 85½ sq. ft. in area and 24 ft. 6 in. in height above the roof over the 1st floor; that the total area of the existing court at the 2nd floor level is 1445 sq. ft., which increases above the 5th floor to 1895 sq. ft.; that the encroachment of this new shaft is less than 6% of the area of the portion of the court where it occurs and exists only for the height of the 2nd floor and less than ½ of the 3rd floor; that the uncovered area of the plot occupied by the Rogers Peet Co. building, is 9¾% of the plot on the lower floors, increasing 12¼% on the upper floors (partly by ownership and partly by easement); that the uncovered area of the plot occupied by the building on 5th avenue, adjoining our property on the north, is about 11½% of the area of the lot, consisting of the court to which we have a permanent easement; and the uncovered area of the plot occupied by the building on 42nd street adjoining our building on the north and west (under the same ownership as the 5th avenue parcel), is 13% of the plot area; that the remaining building on this western end of Block 1276, that is, the 20-story building on the corner of 5th avenue and 42nd street, which covers about 90% of its plot area, cannot in any way be affected by the proposed encroachment; that as may be seen by the block diagram, practically all the properties within the area shown are now improved with modern fireproof buildings, having an uncovered plot area not exceeding 10%; that under these circumstances the latest amendments to the zoning resolution seem unjustified if applied to the subject property and would be a burden that should not be placed on the owners; that it is therefore respectfully requested the Board grant a modification, to enable the applicant to receive an approval from the Department of Housing and Building, for the construction of the new elevator; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis for appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief as to area on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district requirements of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit an extension of area as proposed only so far as is necessary to accommodate the proposed elevator construction as indicated on plans filed with this application, on condition that in all other respects, the requirements of the zoning resolution and all other laws, rules and regulations applicable to the building and occupancy shall be complied with; that all permits shall be obtained and all work completed within one (1) year from the date of this resolution.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TESTS

Subject: Haughton Type "F" Interlock

The Haughton Elevator Company of Toledo, Ohio, filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the appliance known as the Haughton Type "F" Interlock under the requirements of C26-178.0b and as complying with the test requirements of C26-912.0 Administrative Building Code.

DESCRIPTION

This elevator interlocking device is designed for use with elevator landing doors, either of the sliding or swinging type, or for interlocking similar devices. It consists of a case mounted rigidly to the frame work, a moving part in the case for making and breaking a circuit, a roller mounted to engage a retiring cam mounted on the car, a part rigidly mounted on the door for making and breaking a circuit, a part rigidly mounted on the door and arranged to engage and lock with a part and a retiring cam mounted on the car, and arranged to retire whenever the elevator is being operated by other than an automatic leveling device.

CONSTRUCTION

This interlocking device consists of a case in the side of which is an opening to allow the locking piece and contact closing piece to enter the case and close a circuit and engage and lock with the moving piece. To the back of the case, opposite the opening, are resiliently mounted two silver contacts, arranged and located so that the silver bridge will engage and close a circuit. The resilient mounting of the silver contacts is provided by the use of Beryllium copper springs.

The silver bridge is mounted on an insulator and is adjustable forward and backward to obtain setting. The insulator is rigidly mounted on the part mounted on the door.

At the bottom of the case is located a pin for a sliding door and for a swing door. These pins serve as a fulcrum for the moving part. For the slide door a pin also serves for mounting the roller arm and roller. The pin for mounting the roller on the arm is riveted in place. The roller arm is attached and held to the pins by set screws. A part is attached to the pin for the slide door and for the swing door by a self-tapping screw through either of the above pins.

To the back of the case and in the lower part are two resiliently mounted silver contacts arranged and located so the silver bridge will engage and close a circuit. The resilient mounting of these silver contacts is provided by the use of Beryllium copper springs. The silver bridge is mounted on an insulator. This insulator is rigidly mounted to the moving part.

The silver contacts are fulcrumed on pins and guided by pins. These two pins are rigidly mounted. This part is mounted on the insulator and is further insulated.

The silver contacts are fulcrumed on pins and guided by pins. These two pins are rigidly mounted on an insulator.

For the swinging door, a shaft or pin is used. The roller arm is mounted on one end and then is inserted in lock case. On the other end is a pin and a ball knob mounted so that the ball end enters a hole in the part. This gives a right angle drive and when roller arm rotates the shaft it will cause a corresponding movement of the moving part. The nameplate serves as the cover.

On the insulator is provided two terminals. These are connected to the silver contacts through pins making it unnecessary for outside wires to pass down by the moving parts.

OPERATION

Assuming the car is approaching a landing, at which it is to stop. The retiring cam is retired, the car arrives and stops at the floor landing. The instant it stops the retiring cam is denergized, it moves forward and moves the roller. This movement of the roller arm rotates the shafts. The rotation of either of these shafts moves the part away from the silver contacts. This breaks the circuit that was closed by the bridge and moves the locking part away from the part. The door is now unlocked mechanically and as it is opened the bridge breaks the circuit it closed with contacts. The opening of either of the above circuits prevents the starting or operation of the elevator.

When the door is moved toward the closed position, the bridge first closes a circuit by engaging contacts. If at this instant a call is being registered or has been registered, the closing of this circuit allows the retiring cam to be energized, the other circuit being open still prevents the elevator from starting. The energizing of the retiring cam allows the roller to move forward due to the spring. This tends to move the locking part into a position to lock the part as soon as the door has moved sufficiently to allow this to take place. It is common practice to have the circuit closed by bridge approximately ⅛" before the locking part can move into locking position. As soon as the door has moved the ⅛", the locking part moves to locking position and closes the circuit by the bridge and contacts. The car now starts and the door at the floor from which it started is mechanically locked and since the cam is retired and remains retired while the elevator is operating no door is unlocked as long as the elevator is passing the different landing doors.

FEATURES OF DESIGN

The elevator cannot be operated until all doors are closed and mechanically locked.

It is necessary for both pairs of contacts to be closed in order for the elevator to operate.

Does not allow the elevator to operate unless parts are working properly.

Does not require accurate setting, therefore functions properly, even though there is considerable sagging or sloppy operation of the doors. Also allows considerable overtravel due to failure of door stops.

Can be installed for either a sliding or swinging door.

Uses Beryllium copper contact springs in order to eliminate the use of flexible leads or sliding contacts.

Uses silver contacts to insure low contact resistance, elimination of oxidization troubles, gives long wearing life and little burning due to arcing.

Has double break to reduce arcing.

The gradual incline on the moving part that enters is such that should a service man move the elevator car away from a floor and still hold the door open, it is only necessary to release the door and it will be closed and locked by an ordinary door closer. This immediately allows the elevator to operate in a safe manner.

This appliance was tested and approved by the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., for for each of the following tests:

Endurance
Current Interruption
Test in moist atmosphere
Test without lubricant
Misalignment test

The applicant has filed a letter dated March 5, 1945, certifying that the clearances between working parts of the device are such that they will satisfactorily function within the temperature range as required by C26-1179.0.a of the Administrative Building Code.

RECOMMENDATIONS

On the basis of the foregoing data, the Committee on Tests recommends the approval of the Haughton Type "F" Interlock, as having met the requirements of Subarticle 9. Group 1, of .Artiele 14 of the Administrative Building Code, for use in New York City when installed in accordance with this report and the pertinent provisions of the Administrative Building Code provided that the appliance be marked, labelled or stamped "Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Cal. 254-42-SA."

Whereas, Pantex Pressing Machine, Inc., owner, filed on March 27, 1945, an application with the Board of Stand-

June 27, 1945.

Re: Cal. 190-45-SA.

Subject: Pan-Tex Safety Dry-Cleaning System Model CB 1 to 8, inclusive. And Model M 1 to 8, inclusive, approval of.

Pantex Pressing Machine, Inc. of Pawtucket, R. I. filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the Pan-Tex Safety Dry-Cleaning System Model 5-CB 1 to 8, inclusive, under the requirements of Title C, Fire Prevention Code, Part 1, Art. 1, Administrative Code.

DESCRIPTION

The Pan-Tex Safety Dry Cleaning Unit consists of an assembly of the following equipment—the Washer, the Extractor, Safety Tumbler Type SL Tanks, Extractor Drain Tank, Dry Cleaning Filter, Solvent Still, Button Trap, described as follows:

THE WASHER

The washer has a leak proof welded steel housing, resting on cast iron legs, and is provided with a cover door, hinged at the top, so placed as to be well above the fixed liquid level. Within the steel housing is a welded steel cylinder in which the garments being dry cleaned are agitated in a circulating bath of cleaning solvent. The cylinder is equipped with two sliding doors which may be latched open or closed for loading and unloading garments; with both doors latched open, access is had to the inside of the housing so that it may be readily cleaned if necessary. The cylinder rotates at about 22 R.P.M. and its rotation is reversed every four to five revolutions. The reversing mechanism is constructed of cast iron and is belt driven from an elevated countershaft; the countershaft also carries the filter pump drive pulley and is driven by an electric motor, through V belts, mounted at the back of the countershaft support.

The washer is filled by a manually operated, weighted, fill valve which is so arranged that it must be held open and is automatically closing. The correct liquid level is indicated by two fill marks plainly visible within the washing cylinder.

The washer is fully equipped with all necessary safety devices, the belts being guarded by suitable belt guards and the access door interlocked with the drive mechanism in such manner that it cannot be opened unless the cylinder is locked so that it cannot rotate. Two sight glasses, with wired safety glass lights, are placed in the solvent inlet and discharge lines adjacent the washer so that the operator may judge the quality of the solvent in circulation without stopping the machine and opening the washer access door.

The washer is supplied in two sizes, model UDWE-35-MS with 30″ diameter by 40″ long cylinder and of 35 lbs. capacity; and, model UDWE-45-MS, with 30″ diameter by 48″ long cylinder and of 45 lbs. capacity.

THE EXTRACTOR

The greater part of the solvent remaining in the garments after treatment in the washer is removed by centrifugal force within the extractor; this is done by transferring the garments to the rotatable basket of the extractor where they are rotated at high speed, centrifugal force throwing the solvent out through perforations in the copper basket. The outer shell of the extractor is of welded steel construction of heavy, rugged design and securely anchored to the floor. The outer casing is equipped with a cast aluminum lid, perforated to permit ventilation, which is so interlocked with the motor switch and governor mechanism on the extractor spindle that it cannot be raised while the basket is in motion.

The extractor basket is supplied in two sizes, of 20″ or 26″ diameter, and is constructed of heavy spun copper with the top curved inward to prevent escape of liquid. The sides are reinforced by steel hoops closely spaced, and a machined steel, copper covered bottom. The whole basket is heavily tinned after fabrication. Model UX-20-MS has a 20″ diameter basket that carries an 18 lb. load. Model UX-26-MS has a 26″ diameter basket and carries a 35 lb. load. The extractor is driven through V belts by a motor mounted at the rear and is equipped with a foot brake having a non-sparking brake shoe. It is also equipped with a drain line made of flexible metallic tubing, so that it cannot transmit vibrations, connected to the extractor drain tank, to be described later.

SAFETY TUMBLER, TYPE SL

The solvent remaining in the garments after centrifugal extraction is removed by agitating them in a stream of heated air in the drying tumbler, which holds a maximum load of 45 lbs. The device is of all welded steel construction. The tumbler outer casing is provided with a circular door at one end, which, aligning with a circular opening in the tumbler cylinder, is used for the introduction and removal of garments. The tumbler cylinder is rotated in a clockwise direction at about 35 R.P.M. by means of a chain drive with one sprocket on the cylinder shaft and the other, or driving sprocket, on the shaft of a gear reducer placed low down at the right hand side of the machine. This gear reducer is driven by a ½ HP motor and also carries the blower fan which operates at 1750 R.P.M. and draws air from the steam heating coils at the top of the tumbler, down through the perforated cylinder and out through a duct at the back, this duct is connected to an 8″ standard outlet duct which communicates with the outer air. The discharge duct and the tumbler outer casing are equipped with access holes to facilitate removal of lint accumulations from time to time. Steam entering the steam heating coil is controlled by a thermostatic steam valve which, by means of a fixed and sealed adjustment, keeps the temperature of the drying air below a maximum of 136° F. at all times. The circular loading door of the tumbler is latched closed by means of a bolt which, when pushed home, puts the drive and fan motor in operation. The door is unlatched by means of a push button-energized solenoid, which has a thermostatic switch in its circuit, the thermostatic switch being adjusted and sealed to open the circuit at 136° F. temperature of air passing through the tumbler. Thus if, because of a failure of the thermostatic steam valve or other controlling means, the temperature of the drying air should exceed 136° F., or if electric current supply fails, the tumbler cannot be opened. A red warning lamp on the tumbler latch box will light if this first should occur, giving indication of a hazardous condition. A weight-operated steam valve is located on the left side of the tumbler and automatically opens in case of electric current failure, and subsequent fan stoppage, at temperatures in excess of 136° F., thus flooding the interior of the tumbler, and the garments contained therein, with a fire-extinguishing steam spray in the event of current failure at elevated temperature (above 136° F.) An auxiliary, fire extinguishing, steam jet is also fitted which will open by means of fusible links in the event of fire within the tumbler or, by means of an explosion operated damper, in the event of explosion within the tumbler. During normal operation, tne tumbler may be opened and closed at will for the loading and removal of garments and it is normally impossible for the temperature of the drying air to exceed 136° F. at any time, all control devices are "failure safe". The drive motor may be either single phase or polyphase and is protected with overload relief, magnetic starter. The control circuits are fused and isolated from the motor circuit by a transformer. The magnetic starter, overload relief, transformer, and fuses, are located in a junction box at the right hand side of the machine.

TANKS

Two solvent storage tanks are supplied, one for clean solvent and the other for dirty solvent. The tanks are of all welded steel construction, with cone bottoms and stand on upright steel legs. They are designed to withstand 100 lbs. hydrostatic pressure and are tested with air at 10 lbs, per square inch. The cylindrical portion and cone bottom are made of 14 gage steel while the top is made of 12 gage with three 1½" x ¼" angle iron braces welded thereto. The cylindrical portion is 32" in diameter and 48" long, the bottom is a 90° included angle cone measuring 15⅜" deep. A ring, 1" x ½" x ⅛" channel, is set into both ends of the cylindrical portion of the tank to stiffen and support the flat top and the cone bottom. Both tanks are fitted with vent connections which join a common vent manifold running to the outer air and terminating in a return bend fitted with an anti-flash screen device. In safety dry cleaning systems equipped with a still, the dirty solvent tank feeds into the still and the clean distillate is discharged into the clean solvent storage tank.

Where still is not supplied, the dirty solvent storage tank is equipped with the necessary connections to use chemical clarification of the dirty solvent. Each tank is equipped with a liquid level gage located at the top front, so as to be readily visible from all positions when standing in front of the dry cleaning system.

EXTRACTOR DRAIN TANK

This tank is located directly behind the washing machine and is primarily intended to receive solvent extracted from the garments in the centrifugal extractor. This tank also serves as a sump in the event of accidental overflow of the washer. The tank is also equipped with a connection and valve so that the washer may be drained into it if necessary. The extractor drain tank is emptied by a separate motor-driven pump, which discharges into the dirty solvent tank, the pump motor switch being located on the countershaft support of the washing machine, adjacent the washing machine motor switch. The tank holds 45 gallons, is rectangular in shape, being 28" high and 16" wide by 38" long and is constructed of 14 gage steel and has reinforcing angle irons at the bottom corners. The tank has a removable cover for easy cleaning and is equipped with a forated screen baffle, which may also be removed, so as to prevent any foreign matter entering the pump. The tank is also equipped with a float operated liquid level gage which is readily visible while standing in front of the washing machine. A vent line connecting to the vent header, previously described under "Tanks", is also fitted.

DRY CLEANING FILTER

The solvent circulating through the garments being agitated in the washer during the dry cleaning process, is filtered in the dry cleaning filter, to remove any solid particles of soil. The body of the filter is cylindrical and is made of 10 gage steel welded throughout. The filter bottom and clamp cover are 3/16" thick. ASME dished heads. Each filter is tested at 100 lbs. gage hydrostatic pressure. The working pressure is limited to 35 lbs. per square inch by a relief valve built into the filter circulating pump. The filters are equipped with hinged covers at the top, which may be clamped pressure tight, giving access to the filtering screens; and, a hinged cleanout door at the bottom, giving access to the sludge compartment. The filters are supplied in two models, one having monel filtering screens and the other cloth covered filtering screens, the former are cleaned by opening the cover and scraping the screens manually, while the latter are cleaned by reversing, or back-washing, the solvent flow by means of a suitable valve arrangement. The filters are supplied in three different sizes: 1,000 G.P.H. capacity, UF-2-CB (M) -10; 1500 G.P.H. capacity, UF-2-CB (M) -15; 2000 G.P.H. capacity, UF-2-CB (M) -20. While they are all 56" high the diameters vary, being 20" for the 1000 gallon capacity, 24" for the 1500 gallon capacity, and 27½" for the 2000 gallon capacity.

SOLVENT STILL

The solvent still works under a vacuum so as to keep the temperature of the solvent to a minimum, with the further result that any leaks are inward and stop distillation rather than allowing vapors to escape. The vacuum is produced by a motor-driven pump equipped with a relief valve set for 5 lbs. per square inch directly behind the still assembly, discharging into a moisture separator which contains cotton rags for the purpose of absorbing any moisture which may be present in the freshly distilled solvent. The main vessel, or kettle, of the still is a cylindrical upright tank of all welded construction, the body of which is 3/16 steel and the heads of which are also 3/16 steel dished to ASME specifications. The kettle is 46" long and 16" in diameter and has a flanged opening for the steam heating tubes, which are of copper hairpin construction and are ⅝ O. D. No. 18 SWG. The still rests securely on three angle iron legs of 1½" x 1½" x ¼" section. The solvent vapors leaving the still are condensed in a condenser assembly 54" long and 6¼" in diameter of welded construction with a seamless steel outer shell 3/16" thick, containing nineteen ⅝ O.D. No. 18 SWG copper tubes 44⅛" long. The condenser water is circulated past baffles outside the tubes while the solvent vapors are condensed in their interior. The condenser is fitted with bolting flanges, top and bottom, so that the end covers may be removed for cleaning. The kettle and the condenser assemblies are designd to withstand 400 lbs. per square inch hydrostatic pressure and are tested at 100 lbs. The still is equipped with a float-valve solvent-feeder which effectively prevents the solvent rising to more than the predetermined height, about 14", within the interior of the kettle. The kettle gage glass is protected by a metal and a safety wired-glass enclosure and also by ball checks, which automatically seal in the event of gage glass breakage. Steam is admitted to the hairpin heating coil, through a reducing valve that is set at 35 lbs. per square inch pressure. The down stream side of the reducing valve is fitted with a blow down pop safety valve set for 50 lbs., which prevents the steam pressure from rising beyond this limit. The capacity of the still is rated at 50 gallons distilled solvent per hour. The still is so constructed and piped into the unit that solvent is at no time exposed to the atmosphere during the distillation process.

BUTTON TRAP

A button trap, or strainer, is fitted in the solvent line between the washer and the filter circulating pump so that any small objects, such as buttons or belt buckles, may be caught before they enter the pump mechanism or are carried into the filter. The button trap is so located as to receive solvent from the washer by gravity. The trap is an upright cylinder 38″ high by 10″ in diameter securely welded of No. 14 gage steel and has a cylindrical strainer in its interior, 36″ long by 8¼″ in diameter constructed of No. 16 gage perforated steel. The strainer is equipped with two friction fit covers held in position by a tie rod, while the button trap outer casing is equipped with a cast iron clamp cover, hinged at the rear, held in position by three hand clamps. While the assembly works under suction only, it is tested to 25 lbs. hydrostatic pressure in production and can withstand 100 lbs. hydrostatic pressure.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TESTS

July 13, 1945.

Subject: Bethlehem Open Web, Welded Steel Joists, approval of.

The Bethlehem Steel Company of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals, under the requirements of C26-178.0b, for the approval of their Open Web, Welded Steel Joists (Fig. 1), for use under C26-519.0 in classes of construction as provided under C26-240.0, C26-241.0, C26-244.0 and C26-620.0, paragraph c, item 1 (b), for loads as specified under C26-519.0b, such joists to meet the loading and bridging tests as provided in C26-519.0e, Administrative Building Code.

Fabrication:

Bethlehem welded joists are fabricated to order. Chord angles are carried in stock length, web rods are stocked in coils and bearing plates are stocked in finished pieces. Web rods are straightened and cut to length in a straightening machine. The straightened rods are fed into a semi-automatic bending machine where they are formed to the required depth and panel length. Four welding projections are then pressed into the rods at each bend. Chord angles are sheared to the required lengths and chords and web are assembled by tack welding on a roller table leading to the welding machines. The roller table is adjustable for width and contains grooved rolls which receive the out-standing leg of a top and bottom chord angle. The distance between roll grooves is regulated for each joist depth. The assembled joist is propelled through resistance welding machines which weld together the two chord angles and web rod, making four projection welds at each panel joint during each stroke. Each weld is tested and defects are repaired by electric arc welding. The joists are then placed on a welding jig where the bearing plates are electric arc welded into place. The joists are then complete and ready for inspection which consists of checks of the welding, dimensions and straightness. Joists are then tagged after which they are painted with a prime coat of stud protecting paint in a splash type painting machine. After drying a second coat of paint is applied before shipping. Each joist is tagged indicating its type.

Deflection $\Delta_1 = \frac{FX(3L^2-4x^2)}{48EI}$

It is assumed that the loaded joist and the two adjoining joists deflect equally at bridged points:

TESTS

Samples of the applicant's joists were subjected to tests at the Pottstown Plant of the Bethlehem Steel Co., Pottstown, Pa., on July 5th, 1945, as prescribed in C26-519.0e as follows:

The test panel consisted of three joists, designated hereinafter as "A", "B" & "C", "B" being the loaded middle joist. Each joist had 15 panel points, #5 & #11 being at the third points of the span and #8 being at mid-span. The joists were type SJ81, 8" in depth, mounted on a structural frame composed of 18" W.F. supporting beams, 16'0" apart in the clear, and 8" W.F. side beams. The length of bearing of the joists on the 18" beams was 4", and the joists were connected to the supports by means of welds 1" long on each side of the joist bearing plate. Bridging of the strut type was installed at the third points. Simulated bridging was provided from the side beams to the two adjacent joists. The two side beams were held in position by welding structural channels to the top and bottom flanges near the third points. These channels were shimmed out to clear the joists. A load of 844#, consisting of steel slabs welded together and hung on the top flange of the joist by means of a strap approximately ½" wide, was applied in succession to the fifteen panel points of the middle joist "B". The load was transferred from point to point by means of a block and fall. Deflection readings were taken by a surveyor's level sighted on scales set at points #5, #8, and #11. The readings for the various positions of the load were as follows:

Discussion of Results

Type SJ81 is the smallest welded joist that is produced and is more highly stressed under a concentrated load of 800# than are the larger joists. No distress was observed in any part of the joist or bridging at any time during the test.

The deflection of a single joist under a load of 844# applied at midspan will be approximately equal to:

$$\text{where } d = \frac{F \times L^3 \times 1728}{48 \times E \times I}$$

$$d = \frac{844 \times 16^3 \times 1728}{48 \times 29 \times \overline{10^6} \times 9.70} = .442'' = \frac{L}{435}$$

The observed actual deflection of the middle joist "B" at mid-span when loaded was applied at the middle amounted to $0.22'' = \frac{L}{870}$ or 49.8% of the computed deflection of an unbridged joist.

The test data also show that the bridging is capable of transferring at least 500# from the loaded joist to the two adjacent joists, as the following analysis indicates: when the load was applied at panel point #11, the average deflection of joints "A" and "C" at point #11 amounted to 0.105". This deflection of the unloaded joists resulted from a load transfer (F), solved for as follows:

$$d = \frac{F\ a^2\ b^2}{3\ E\ I\ L}\ ;\ \text{where } a = \frac{L}{3} \text{ and } b = \frac{2L}{3}$$

$$d = \frac{.0164\ F\ L^3}{E\ I}$$

$$F = \frac{d\ E\ I}{.0164\ L^3}$$

For two joists,

$$F = \frac{0.105 \times 29 \times \overline{10^6} \times 2 \times 9.7}{.0164 \times \overline{16^3} \times 1728} = 510\#$$

Conclusion: The test showed that the smallest joist, erected and bridged, was capable of sustaining a load of 800# at any panel point, and that the bridging was capable of transmitting at least 500# from the loaded joist to the adjoining joists as prescribed in C26-519.0e.

TESTS ON BRIDGING CLIPS

Tests on bridging clips used with applicant's joists to meet the requirements of C26-519.0e were made at Lehigh University on June 14, 1944, under supervision of Prof. E. H. Uhler. The clips were made of Bethanized wire and were designated as Bethlehem Bridging Clips. The measured diameter of all specimens was 0.177". A clip was hooked around a flange simulating its position on a joist flange, with a downward load applied by machine. The machine loads were recorded at an observed downward movement of the bridging strut equal to 1/16" and at the maximum load for each specimen, with results as follows:

Specimen	Load at 1/16" Movement	Max. Load
#1	1050#	1200#
#2	900#	1140#
#3	970#	1330#
#4	1050#	1240#
#5	920#	1170#

Two specimens of straight wire serving as tension coupons pulled to 4500# each or 183,000# per sq. in.

The applicant has filed with this subject application, test data of several load tests with details and results.

GENERAL

The use of steel joist construction, which renders a building fire safe, is permissible for use in Class II construction, when protected by a top slab of concrete and a ceiling of metal lath and plaster, as provided in C26-620.0, Paragraph c, item (b). In order that installations be properly made, the following requirements must be observed:

Each joist shall receive paint protection complying with C26-519.0h, and after placing in position, all abrasions and welds shall be similarly protected.

Design spacing, span and loading of steel joists shall comply with C26-519.0a, c and d.

Permissive uses of steel joists shall be as contained herein, and within load limits as prescribed in C26-519.0b.

Bridging shall be of the strut type, meeting the requirements of C26-519.0c, and tightly secured to the joist flanges by clipping, bolting or welding, before attaching the joists to the bearings. Beam bridging may be used as an alternate to strut bridging, when such bridging consists of properly proportioned hot rolled channels, is attached to the under side of the top flange, and is positioned rigidly by means of U-bolts or equivalent welding. Where the last joist parallels a structural steel beam, equivalent bridging to such beam shall be provided. The spacing of such bridging shall conform to the requirements of C26-519.0e, wherein it is provided that bridging be spaced not more than 6 feet apart and not more than 6 feet from the supports.

Bearing and anchoring of steel joists on steel supports shall meet the requirements of C26-519.0e. Before securing the joists to the supports they shall be positioned as required in the design. The joists shall then be secured by means of adequate clips, bolts or electric arc welds. When welding is used, the welds shall be not less than one inch in length, on both sides of the flange, such welding to be in accordance with the requirements of the Board's rules.

When used on masonry bearing walls each third joist shall be provided with at least a ⅜" diameter rod anchor attached to the bearing end of the joist, so as to secure the joist to the masonry. Bearing area shall be so proportioned that allowable compressive strengths of masonry under Sec. C26-356.0 and C26-362.0 are not exceeded.

All steel joists shall be fastened and permanently bridged before subjecting the panel to construction or other loads. Caution shall be exercised to prevent undue load concentrations.

Floor openings not exceeding 4 feet in a direction at right angles to joist may be framed by means of adequately proportioned header angles secured to framing joists by adequate bolts or welds, and provided the joists are designed accordingly.

Ceilings and plaster may be of the suspended type, complying with the requirements of C26-461.0, or of the contact type. Metal lath shall be rib lath weighing not less than 3# per square yard, or other types of lath which have been approved for use with 1½ hour fire resistive ceiling construction.

As the construction proceeds, no cutting away of the flanges or web sections shall be permitted.

RECOMMENDATIONS

On the basis of the foregoing data, the Committee on Tests recommends the approval of the Bethlehem Open Web, Welded Steel Joists in sizes as listed herein, under C26-191.0a as having met the requirements of C26-519.0e for use in classes of construction as provided under C26-240.0, C26-241.0, C26-244.0 and C26-620.0, paragraph c, item 1 (b) when made and installed as described herein and as required under C26-519.0, with such welding as is required performed in accordance with the rules of the Board, and provided further that each bundle of joists shall be identified as to dimensions and shall bear additional wording, reading as follows: "Approved for use in New York City by the Board of Standards and Appeals under Cal. 437-45-SM". It is also recommended that each design submitted to the Department of Housing and Buildings shall bear wording reading as follows: "Joists used in this design are made, designed and used in accordance with the provisions of the approval granted under Cal. 437-45-SM."

THE RESOLUTION (701-44-A)

Whereas, this appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 1002-1006 Beach 20th street, northeast corner of Cornaga avenue (Block 49, Lot 1), Far Rockaway, Borough of Queens, was withdrawn on June 26, 1945; and

Whereas, the applicant requested a reopening of the case and restoration to the calendar; and

Whereas, the case was reopened by vote of the Board on July 3, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

Whereas, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 27, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 331-44, reads:

> "1. Obtain acceptance of Board of Standards and Appeals for part of the one story extension on Cornaga ave. approved under Alt. 6665/31 which is within the bed of mapped street, sec. 35 Genl City Law."

and

Whereas, the applicant contends that title was acquired March 31, 1944 and title examination disclosed a violation of Section 35 of the General City Law; that the one-story extension was erected in 1931 under Alt. Applic. 6665-31; that the present owner must apparently be penalized for relying on the permit heretofore issued by the administrative official; that the new owner evaluated the worth of the structure, based on the physical facts as they existed on March 31, 1944 and must of necessity sustain a grievous loss; that should an appropriation of Cornaga avenue be directed by the city authorities to consummate the proposed widening, such a result must be a manifest injustice; and nue is proposed to be widened a distance of 10 ft. along the southerly frontage of the premises in question and that Beach 20th street is proposed to be widened 10 ft. along the westerly frontage of the building in question, and that the building is set back from Beach 20th street a distance of 10 ft.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 331-44, objection 1, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted under the powers vested in the Board under section 35 of the General City Law, to permit the building to extend into the bed of the mapped street (Cornaga avenue) for a distance of not over ten feet, as indicated on plans filed under Alt. Applic, 6665-31, on condition that in the event that land is taken for the widening of Cornaga avenue, as planned, any claim for damages for that portion of the existing building as it extends into the mapped street shall not exceed the actual cost at the time of erection of that portion required to be removed, less depreciation at four per cent. for each year since 1931 and the cost of constructing the new side closure wall.

THE RESOLUTION (744-44-A)

WHEREAS, Colonial Beacon Oil Company, lessee, for Robitzek Investing Corporation, owner, filed December 22, 1944, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting 2592 Bruckner (Eastern) Boulevard, south side, 447.84 ft. east of Brush avenue (Block 5541, Lot 61), Borough of The Bronx; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated November 27, 1944 on F.P. Applic. 70-44, reads:

"Gasoline Station including tanks and pumps permitted under C.O. 671-1939 from which all gasoline storage tanks and pumps were removed, cannot be lawfully restored under Article 2, Section 4, Subdivision 46 of the Zoning Resolution.

NOTE: C.O. 671-39 was approved May 25, 1939. This C.O. was based on N.B. 249-38 which was approved July 18, 1938. N.B. 249-38 is now missing.

Use district was changed to "Business" district by amendment dated July 24, 1938. Records are in Folder B-5541, Lots 42-44."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 72 ft. by 26 ft. in area, one story (14 ft. 6 in.) in height, Class 3 construction; erected in 1939; located in a business use, B area and Class 1½ height district and permitted to be used under Certificate of Occupancy 671-39 as a gasoline service station, auto repair shop, storage and parking of more than five motor vehicles, which use was suspended May, 1942; and

WHEREAS, it is proposed to reopen this gasoline service station and re-install six underground 550 gallon gasoline tanks and dispenser pumps, together with the necessary piping as originally permitted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this is an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, refusing permission to re-install certain underground tanks and connecting equipment; that the basis of the denial is that the gasoline service station had been abandoned in May, 1942, and could not be restored because of the provisions of Art. 2, Section 4, subdiv. 46 of the Zoning Resolution; that Certificate of Occupancy 671-39 stated that the premises were in an unrestricted use district; that the district, however, was changed July 24, 1938 to a business use district; that the borough superintendent was in error; that there never was an abandonment of the use; that at most there was merely a suspension of such use; that the applicant entered into possession of the gasoline service station in May, 1939 and remained therein until March or April, 1942, when because of the repressive effects of W.P.B. Order L70, it suspended operation of the gasoline service station and advised the owner it was no longer liable for rent; that subsequently the lessee removed the pumps and tanks; that thereafter the owner commenced an action for rent and the lessee as defendant, asserted two grounds: that the W.P.B. order constituted a restriction upon the use of the premises, and second, that Certificate of Occupancy 671-39 was invalidly issued; that subsequently Unsafe Building Violation 817-42 was placed upon the premises and the lessee boarded up the windows and other places in and about the premises and such violation was removed; that at present there still remains a gasoline service station constructed under N.B. Applic. 249-38; that the only equipment necessary to resume operation are the underground tanks and dispensing pumps; that the action of the lessee in removing the tanks in 1942, provoked by the extraordinary war conditions and as a necessary step in connection with its defense to the rent action, do not constitute an abandonment of the premises and the use thereof as a gasoline service station; and

WHEREAS, the premises have been inspected by a committee of the Board; and

WHEREAS, the Board found that the records indicate that the permit issued under N.B. 249-1938 became voided upon the taking effect of the change of use zoning on July 24, 1938; that construction work done thereafter was unlawful and should not have been permitted in the absence of a Zoning Variance; that since these facts have been brought to the attention of the Board during the consideration of this appeal, Certificate of Occupancy 671-1939, issued May 25, 1939, should be revoked; that upon taking this action the appeal to review the decision of the Borough Superintendent should be dismissed as academic.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby revoke Certificate of Occupancy 671-39 issued by the borough superintendent and it hereby dismisses that portion of the appeal relating to the review of the action of the borough superintendent, dated November 27, 1944, acting on F.P. Applic. 70-44.

THE RESOLUTION (875-41-A)

WHEREAS, this appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 134 Sterling street, south side, 143 ft. east of Bedford avenue (1st and 2nd floors); (Block 1319, Lot 13), Borough of Brooklyn, was granted by the Board on December 9, 1941, on certain conditions; and

WHEREAS, the applicant requested an amendment of the resolution; and

WHEREAS, this case was reopened by vote of the Board on April 10, 1945 and restored to the calendar, subject to usual procedure; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent acting on Alt. App. 3813-44, dated February 26, 1945, reads:

"8. Plans indicate structure is two stories and basement in height, although schedule sheet denotes cellar and two stories.

9. Application for proposed change of occupancy does not conform to requirements of Sec. 2.1.3.5 Bldg. Code in the following respects:

a. Public bldgs. of Class III construction may not exceed two stories—Sec. 4.2.1. Code.

b. 60 lb. minimum liveload capacity required. Sec. 7.3.2.2.3 Bldg. Code.

c. Two approved stairs with two hour fire resistive rating enclosures required. Sec. 6.1.2.2.3 Bldg. Code.

d. Fire retarded basement ceiling required. Sec. 10.11 Bldg. Code."

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is now proposed to be occupied as follows: Cellar, boiler room and storage; 1st floor, school 15 persons; 2nd floor, school, 15 persons; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to objection 9a, that while conceding the regulations contained in the Building Code he believes certain facts other than the regulations should be considered for the Board to reach a just and equitable decision; that the Board's attention is directed to the resolution under Cal. 875-41-A, wherein the applicant urged the point that the basement height is 7 ft. 2 in. and the front terrace and rear yard are 3 ft. 6 in. below the basement ceiling; that since the terrace is less than 2 ft. in height, this difference makes for a basement rather than a cellar on the premises; as to item 9b, that while it is conceded a 60 lb. minimum liveload is required to conform with the Building Code, the fact is that there are at all times not more than 12 children on each floor of the building, together with 3 adults; that the children range in age from 2½ to 5½ years, with an average weight of 40-50 pounds; that each group of 12 children occupies the entire floor; as to 9c, that it is submitted for the Board's approval, the present stair hall, first and second floors, be supplied with a sprinkler system; that sprinkler heads be spaced 10 feet apart and a sprinkler system to be installed throughout the entire second floor; that an enclosed covered outside iron stair from 2nd floor to the rear yard be erected; as to item 9d, the Board is respectfully referred to their resolution under Cal. 875-41-A, wherein the Board stated "that the ceiling of the cellar shall be replastered to the satisfaction of the borough superintendent"; it is suggested therefore that in view of this prior decision, that the substance thereof be reconsidered by he Board; and

WHEREAS, the applicant claims that the space referred to as a cellar is actually a basement being more than one half its height above curb.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 3813-44, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted as to objection 9a, on condition that the building shall not be increased beyond the present two-story and cellar (or basement) in height; as to 9b, that the live-load per superficial foot shall not be less than 40 pounds, except that a computation shall be filed with the borough superintendent for approval of a greater load; as to objection 9c, that the primary means of exit as shown on plans filed with this appeal shall be maintained, provided a sprinkler system is provided through the hallways throughout and also including the entire second floor; that such system may be of a type as approved for use in a converted multiple dwelling; that such sprinkler system shall also include any closets opening off the public hall, ventilating shaft and cloak rooms; that in addition, an exterior steel stair shall be provided at the rear, as indicated on plans filed with this appeal, marked "Received March 26, 1945"; as to objection 9d, withdrawn to comply; that the space over the oil burner shall be covered with incombustible material; that the stair door leading to cellar shall be tight-fitting and self closing; that at all times while the school is in session, the children shall be under the supervision and control of responsible instructors; that a fire alarm system shall be installed, if the number of children within the buildinig exceeds thirty (30); that a fire drill shall be maintained at least once every two weeks; that such additional fire-fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is two stories (23 ft.) in height; 100 ft. by 200 ft. in area at 1st floor; 25 ft. by 57 ft. in area at 2nd floor located in an unrestricted use, B area, Class 1½ height district; and erected 1924 of Class 3 construction and used and occupied since erection as follows: 1st floor, manufacturing steel sections, 40 persons; 2nd floor, offices, 10 persons, pursuant to Certificate of Occupancy 253, issued on Alt. Applic. 244-24, permitting the use of the building as an iron working shop, 14 persons; that the building is proposed to be used and occupied without change from its present use and occupancy; that the building is equipped with one 3 ft. 6 in. iron stairs, enclosed in brick partitions, equipped wth fireproof self-closing doors, and leading directly to the street and provided with a ladder and scuttle to the roof; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building fronts on two streets with a total of 20,000 sq. ft. area; that the nature of the building is such, that in installing cranes, it is advantageous to permit the cranes to travel the full length of the building without intermediate cross walls to interrupt the continuous passage of material; that the work is of a non-hazardous nature; that all machines are primarily used for the bending and shaping of various gauges of steel; that the 2nd story occupies a small area and is used exclusively for offices and has an exit directly to the street without any opening to the shop area; that on the foregoing remarks, it is therefore requested that the Board grant this appeal; and

Applic. 559-44, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 10, on condition that the building shall be arranged substantially as shown on plans filed with this appeal and as proposed as shown on corrected plan marked "Received July 19, 1945"; that the occupancy of the building shall be solely for the handling of steel products, as proposed, with no storage or processing of combustible material; that this variance shall continue only so long as the building is so occupied, in accordance with this resolution and that in all respects, other than as modified herein, the requirements of the Building Code and all other laws, rules and regulations shall be complied with; as to objection 11, that the requirements of the Labor Law and the Building Code shall be complied with as to the first floor, and that, as to the second floor, the primary means of exit leading to the street as shown, shall be maintained and in addition, there shall be a door to the roof from such second story, toward the rear, and a steel counterbalanced ladder or stairway installed leading to one of the two streets from such roof; and as to objection 12, withdrawn to comply.

a. Article 6 as to exit.

b. § 7.3.2.3 B.C. as to live loads.

c. § 4.2.1 as to construction of building required to be fireproof."

2. Construction of exterior frame wall is contrary to Sect. 3.2.3 of Bldg. Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 1 story (15 ft.) in height, 100 ft. by 100 ft. in area, of class 3 construction, erected in 1921, located in an unrestricted use, A area and class 1¼ height district and used and occupied since 1921 as follows: cellar—boiler room—1 person; 1st floor—garage for more than five cars; proposed to be used and occupied: cellar—same; 1st floor—temporary storage of ferrous and non-ferrous products—2 persons; and

THE RESOLUTION (337-45-A)

WHEREAS, the New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed May 31, 1945, an appeal from decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises blocks bounded by East Houston street, East River drive, Avenue D and East 6th Street, (Lillian Wald Houses); (Block 356, Lot 1), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated February 15, 1945, reads:

> "Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of January 31, 1945, which refers to the report by Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser on the rolled structural steel piles driven and tested at the site of the Abraham Lincoln Houses. You request this Department to approve the use of rolled structural steel piles in the foundations of the Lillian Wald Houses.
> Please be advised that this Department may not approve the use of this type of pile for this project, as Section C26-411.1, paragraph (e), of the Administrative Code does not permit their use when driven through materials of the character and thickness indicated by the borings shown on prints of the test borings made by the Raymond Concrete Pile Company and the boring logs and cross sections as shown on drawings of Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser.
>
> No data were submitted concerning subsoil conditions which might cause active rusting or other damage to the piles."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 23, 1945, on N. B. Applications 55 to 71-1945, inc., reads:

> "This letter is written in response to a request from your office for a verification of the objection by this department on February 15, 1945, to the proposed use of rolled structural steel piles in the foundations of the subject project.
> With your letter of January 31, 1945, requesting approval, you submitted a report by Moran, Proctor, Freeman & Mueser of three piles of this type driven and tested at the site of the Abraham Lincoln Houses, together with records of borings made throughout the site area.
> On the basis of the tests, it is proposed to use these piles to sustain the maximum allowable loads permitted under Administrative Code, Section C26-411.1(f) without the reduction proposed by Administrative Code Section C26-411.1(e) when such piles are driven through materials which presumably furnish no lateral support.
>
> You are advised that the Department on the basis of these tests may not grant a general approval throughout the site for the use of rolled steel piles with no reduction from the maximum allowed capacity load based on the character and thickness of the materials through which the piles are driven.
>
> The report did not include any reference to subsoil conditions which might cause active rusting or other damage to the piles."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the buildings in question will be sixteen Class 1 multiple dwellings, four to thirteen stories in height, located in a residence use, D area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that there is an apparent mis-statement in the decision of the borough superintendent, but the Code does permit the use of such piles when driven through "soft" materials, but sets up certain reductions in permissible loading where inadequate lateral support is provided; that the proposal to use rolled structural steel piles for foundations at this particular site and under the conditions to be outlined covering their use, is not a deviation from the intent of the Code provisions cited; that it is the Department's interpretation of the Code and not the intent which has raised his question; that the tests made (the results of which are submitted with this appeal) verify these contentions; that at this site, the soil does furnish continuous adequate lateral support for H-beam piles for the class proposed and when loaded to the allowable maximum capacity stated in the Code; that where H-beam or any other types of piles stand in open water or in a very soft material, the question of lateral support should be investigated and the load capacities of the piles should be checked against their strength as laterally unsupported column; that this condition does not hold at the site under discussion, where the silt beds underlying the upper sands, while compressible, do have considerable structural strength and have been consolidated for many years under the weight of fill and structures supported by them (Reference is made to the boring records of the Raymond Concrete Pile Co. for borings made at this site and copies of which are incorporated in this appeal as Exhibit A—reference is also made to a report from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, Consultant Engineers, dated April 23, 1943, regarding soil conditions at this site, a copy of which is made a part of this appeal as Exhibit B); that a safe check against pile load capacity, and the one intended to be the ultimate check on the safe capacity of any type of pile, is found in Section C26-405.0 of the Administrative Code, Paragraph "d", which provides that where any doubt exists as to the safe load capacity of piles, load tests shall be made with 150% of the proposed pile loads; that acting on this basis, the applicant, in the latter part of 1944, conducted actual load tests on piles driven at the site of Abraham Lincoln Houses, the data on which are already before the Board in another appeal (338-45-A); that the Lincoln site was chosen for the tests because the conditions were less favorable than at the Wald site; that locations were chosen, at the site, which would present the more unfavorable conditions; that three sizes of H-beam piles were driven; that these piles were loaded in two instances to 230% of the proposed load and in the third instance to 270% of the proposed load; that the pile which was loaded to 270% of the proposed load was later extracted for inspection; that there is submitted with this appeal, as Exhibit "C" a copy of a report, dated January 19, 1945, from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, Consulting Engineers, summarizing the results of these tests, which were made with the knowledge of and were witnessed by representatives from the Department of Housing and Buildings that the results of these tests verify conclusively, the contention of the applicant, and are applicable, with equal weight to both the Lincoln and the Wald sites; that in analyzing the probable intent of the Code Provision, Sec. C26-411.1 subd. e, it seems apparent that the framers of this section were fearful that the use of this type of pile would be proposed at locations where the existence of so-called Hudson river ooze would raise the question of adequacy of lateral support; that it seems doubtful, however, that the framers of this provision of the Code had in mind soil conditions inland, or of the type involved at the site covered by this appeal; that these conditions are in no way comparable to those existing at the waterfront proper—as reference to the soil sections submitted with this application, under Exhibit "B" will show; that the Board in its action on Cal. 94-39-SM, which covered the use of drilled-in caissons, recognized the principles proposed in this appeal, namely, that soils of even low stability can furnish adequate lateral support for long slender piles; that the provisions of the Code correctly assume that laterally unsupported piles act as free standing columns, a condition which is not actually the case at this site and a condition which cannot arbitrarily be assumed at any site, except where piles stand in open water, or in mud so obviously soft as to be semi-fluid in character; that in Cal. 94-39-SM, the Board also considered the tests made for the Ford Motor Company by Albert Kahn Incorporated which, in their results, corroborates the general contentions made in this appeal; that the applicant is not requesting an increase in the allowable loads permitted under the Code, even though all the evidence from the tests made indicates that this could safely be done at this site; that it is proposed to use these piles at the loads stated in the Code and under the following conditions: (1) It is not proposed to use piles smaller than 12″-53# sections. (2) It is proposed to drive these piles in accordance with the attached specification. (Exhibit "D"). (3) Tests indicated that if piles were driven, in accordance with the specifications, to a resistance of 5 blows to ¼″ of penetration, for 14″ piles and 5 blows to ½″ of penetration for 12″ piles, this would be satisfactory to drive them through all compressible strata and the disintegrated or weathered rock to solid rock with a safe load capacity of about 2 times the maximum allowable pile load as determined by the pile formula in the Code; that no reconciliation is necessary between the requirements that piles be driven to hard bed rock and the boring records indicating mica schist; that most of the caissons, pipe piles and other types of foundations carried to bed rock are supported on mica schist; that cores of the hard rock from the site show that the sound schist is hard and of adequate bearing capacity; that no provision in the Administrative Building Code raises any hard sound rock; that it is proposed to drive these piles either in a single piece or spliced in accordance with the attached drawing (Exhibit "E"); that there are filed engineering computations, showing that the welded splice proposed is stronger than the pile section itself (Exhibit "F"); that where piles are spliced, the pieces would be aligned either by clamps in the leads or by jigs in the field on the ground; that in view of the developed strength of the splice, and the fact that it is stronger than the pile section itself, the location of the splice is immaterial as far as the strength of the pile is concerned; that as to the length of piles available, it will be specified that lengths of not less than 40 ft. be used except for the top piece, which could be of a lesser dimension to make the actual driving length required; that investigation shows that piles of this type can normally be shipped in lengths up to 65 ft.; that however, if the contractor is able to handle longer single pieces, shipment can be made of piles of single lengths up to 120 ft. to 130 ft. lengths, which would be greater than any pile required at this site; that piles driven under these conditions will be safe for the life of the structures proposed; that even a disaster, such as a tidal wave in the East River, would not affect such piles, or any other type of piles, driven into the ground on land; that the report from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser recommended top lateral support for these piles where the soil at the cap level is weak; that this is not a blanket recommendation applicable throughout the site; that there are a few isolated locations at the site where the soil at top level may not provide proper lateral support; that at such locations, adequate lateral support will be provided at the tops of the piles, but this will be necessary at these locations, regardless of the type of piles used; that it is not indicative of any lesser safety in the use of the H-beam piles; that the applicant knows of no cases of foundation failure due to corrosion of steel pipes or other steel members in the ground; that all indications are that the possibility of any stray electric currents at this site, which could create electrolytic action, is so remote as not to be a factor; that there is attached a report dated March 27, 1945, from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, analyzing studies and records of the Consolidated Edison Company as to corrosion, either from electrolysis due to stray currents, or electro-galvanic action resulting from soil and duct conditions in this area (Exhibit G); that the conclusion reached is that there is little possibility, at this site, of corrosion from either sources; that as to driving equipment and procedure the specifications previously referred to as part of this appeal, cover this thoroughly; that recognizing the desirability of accurate records on the piles driven under the conditions covered by this appeal, it is proposed to record for each pile driven, the information listed on the sample field report which is made a part of this appeal, as Exhibit "H"; that the use of long piles of this type in so-called "soft" ground is not a rare occurrence; that such foundations have been used under conditions far more adverse and loadings far more severe than contemplated by this application; that it is pertinent to note that under the provisions of Sec. C26-405.0 for determination of safe loads on piles, the factor of safety might not be over 1.5, whereas under the loadings which are proposed, and on the evidence of the tests actually conducted —the 12″, 53# pile with a maximum allowable Code load of 55 tons, would have a factor of safety of not less than 2.73 while the 14" H-beams, loaded to 65 tons, would show factors of safety of not less than 2.31; that even with the test loads acutally used, there was no indication of any failure of any of the piles; that it should be noted, also, that test pile #9 at this site was driven in the worst location possible so far as lateral support is concerned and that the average condition throughout the site is better; that the evidence submitted with this appeal shows conclusively that H-beam piles can safely be used under the conditions proposed and that such use is in no way a deviation from the intent of the Code provision, cited as an objection; that the objection arises solely because of an interpretation of the Code and not because of any non-compliance with the intent of the Code, since increase in the allowable loading of the piles has been requested; that it cannot be assumed, from the wording of the Code, that "adequate" lateral support for any piles is lacking, simply because it is driven through a compressible soil; that where doubt exists as to its load-bearing capacity, the Code provision for load-testing (as has been done in this case) insures ample factor of safety in its use; that permission is requested, therefore, to use these piles in accordance with the methods and procedure proposed in this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the requirements of Section C26-411.1 should be complied with, there being no justification for substituting the results of tests for the requirements of that section, when lateral support is lacking under the Code provisions and particularly where tests have been confined to one selected area and general approval is sought, not only for an extended area adjacent, but also for other areas not in the same locality, but where conditions are assumed to be similar.

Resolved, that the decisions of the borough superintendent, dated February 15, 1945, and May 23, 1945, on N. B. Apps. 55 to 71-45, inc. be and they hereby are affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (338-45-A)

WHEREAS, New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed May 31, 1945, an appeal from decisions of the borough superintendent affecting premises blocks bounded by Park avenue, East 132nd street, Fifth avenue, East 135th street and Madison avenue (Abraham Lincoln Houses); (Block 1757, Lots 1 and 20; Block 1758, Lots 1 and 20; Block 1759, Lots 1 and 21); Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated February 15, 1945, reads:

> "Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of January 31, 1945, together with copy of report by Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser on the rolled structural steel piles driven and tested at the site of the subject project. You request this Department to approve the use of rolled structural steel piles in the foundations of the project.
> Please be advised that this Department may not approve the use of this type of pile for this project as Section C26-411.1, paragraph (e), of the Administrative Code does not permit their use when driven through materials of the character and thickness indicated by the borings.
>
> No data were submitted concerning subsoil conditions which might cause active rusting or other damage to the piles."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 23, 1945, relating to N.B. Applications 96 to 109-45, reads:

> "This letter is written in response to a request from your office for a verification of the objection by this Department on February 15, 1945, to the proposed use of rolled structural steel piles in the foundations of the subject project.

> With your letter of January 31, 1945, requesting approval, you submitted a report by Moran, Proctor, Freeman & Mueser on three piles of this type driven and tested at the site, together with records and borings made throughout the site area.

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the buildings will consist of 14 class 1 multiple dwellings, 6 and 14 stories in height, located in a business and unrestricted use, B area and Class 1½ height district; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that there is an apparent mis-statement in the decision of the borough superintendent; that the Code does not permit the use of such piles when driven through "soft" materials, but sets up certain reductions in permissible loading where inadequate lateral support is provided; that the proposal to use rolled structural steel piles for foundations of buildings at this particular site, and under the conditions to be outlined covering their use, is not a deviation from the intent of the Code provisions cited; that it is the Department's interpretation of the Code, and not the intent, which has raised this question; that the tests made verify these contentions; that at this site, the soil does furnish continuous adequate lateral support for H-beam piles for the sizes which are proposed, and when loaded to the allowable maximum capacity stated in the Code; that where H-beam or any other types of piles stand in open water or in a very soft material, the question of lateral support should be investigated and the load capacities of the piles should be checked against their strength as lateral unsupported columns; that this condition does not hold at the site under discussion, where the silt beds underlying the upper sands, while compressible, do have considerable structural strength and have been consolidated for many years under the weight of fill and structures supported by them (Reference is made to the boring records of the Giles Drilling Corporation for borings made at this site and copies of which are filed with this appeal as Exhibit A and reference is also made to a report from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, Consultant Engineers, dated January 21, 1944 and supplemented April 25, 1944 regarding soil conditions at this site, a copy of which is made a part of this appeal as Exhibit B); that a safe check against pile load capacity, and the one intended to be the ultimate check on the safe capacity of any type of pile, is found in Section C26-405.0 of the Administrative Building Code, Paragraph "d", which provides that where any doubt exists as to the safe load capacity of piles, load tests shall be made with 150 per cent of the proposed pile loads; that acting on this basis, the applicant in the latter part of 1944, conducted actual load tests on piles driven at the site; that locations were chosen at the site which would present the most unfavorable conditions and three sizes of H-beam piles were driven; that these piles were loaded in two instances to 230 percent of the proposed load; that the pile which was loaded to 270 percent of the proposed load was later extracted for inspection; that there is submitted with this appeal, Exhibit C, a copy of a report dated January 19, 1945, from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, Consulting Engineers, summarizing the results of these tests, which were made with the knowledge of and were witnessed by representatives from the Department of Housing and Buildings; that the results of these tests verify conclusively the contention of the applicant; that in analyzing the probable intent of the Code provision, Section C26-411.1, subd. e, it seems apparent that the framers of this section were fearful that the use of this type of pile would be proposed at locations where the existence of so-called Hudson River ooze would raise the question of adequacy of lateral support; that it seems doubtful, however, that the framers of this provision of the Code had in mind soil conditions inland, or of the type involved at the site covered by this appeal; that these conditions are in no way comparable to those existing at the waterfront proper, as reference to the soil sections submitted with this application under Exhibit B will show; that the Board, in its action on Cal. 94-39-SM which covered the use of drilled-in caissons, recognized the principles proposed in this appeal, namely, that soils of even low stability can furnish adequate lateral support for long slender piles; that the provisions of the Code correctly assume that laterally unsupported piles act as free standing columns, a condition which is not actually the case at this site and a condition which cannot arbitrarily be assumed at any site, except where piles stand in open water, or in mud so obviously soft as to be semi-fluid in character; that under Cal. 94-39-SM the Board also considered the tests made for the Ford Motor Company by Albert Kahn Inc. which, in their results, corroborates the general contentions made in this appeal; that this applicant is not requesting an increase in the allowable loads permitted under the Code, even though all the evidence from the tests made indicates that this could safely be done at this site; that it is proposed to use these piles at the loads stated in the Code and under the following conditions: 1. It is not proposed to use piles smaller than 12"—53# sections; 2. It is proposed to drive these piles in accordance with the specifications under Exhibit D. 3. Tests indicated that if piles were driven in accordance with the specifications, to a resistance of 5 blows to ¼" of penetration, for 14" piles and 5 blows to ½" of penetration for 12" piles, this would be satisfactory to drive them through all compressible strata and the disintegrated or weathered rock to solid rock with a safe load capacity of about 2 times the maximum allowable pile load as determined by the pile formula in the Code; that no reconciliation is necessary between the requirements that piles be driven to hard bed rock and the boring records indicating mica shist; that most of the caissons, pipe piles and other types of foundations carried to bed rock are supported on mica schist; that cores of the hard rock from the site show that the sound schist is hard and of adequate bearing capacity; that no provision in the Administrative Building Code raises any question against sound schist where foundations are required to be carried to hard sound rock; that it is proposed to drive these piles either in a single piece or spliced in accordance with the drawing filed with this appeal, exhibit E; that there are filed engineering computations, showing that the welded splice proposed is stronger than the pile section itself, Exhibit F; that where piles are spliced, the pieces would be aligned either by clamps in the leads or by jigs in the field on the ground; that in view of the developed strength of the splice, and the fact that it is stronger than the pile section itself, the applicant believes that the location of the splice is immaterial as far as the strength of the pile is concerned; that as to the length of piles available, it will be specified that lengths of not less than 40 ft. be used except for the top piece, which could be of a less dimension to make the actual driving length required; that investigation shows that piles of this type can normally be shipped in lengths up to 65 ft.; that however, if the contractor is able to handle longer single pieces, shipment can be made of piles of single lengths up to 120 ft. to 130 ft. lengths, which would be of greater than any pile required at this site; that piles driven under these conditions will be safe for the life of the structures proposed; that even a disaster, such as a tidal wave in the East River, would not affect such piles, or any other type of piles, driven into the ground on land; that the report from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser recommended top lateral support for these piles where the soil at the cap level is weak; that this is not a blanket recommendation applicable throughout the site; that there are a few isolated locations at the site where the soil at top level may not provide proper lateral support (borings #46 and #47 are typical examples); that at such locations, adequate lateral support will be provided at the tops of the piles, but this will be necessary at these locations, regardless of the type of piles used; that it is not indicative of any lesser safety in the use of the H-beam piles; that the applicant knows of no cases of foundation failure due to corrosion of steel pipes or other steel members in the ground; that all indications are that the possibility of any stray electric currents at this site, which would create electrolytic action, is so remote as not to be a factor; that there is filed with this appeal, a report dated March 27, 1945 from Moran, Proctor, Freeman and Mueser, analyzing studies and records of the Consolidated Edison Co. as to corrosion, either from electrolysis due to stray currents, or electro-galvanic action resulting from soil and duct conditions in this area (Exhibit g); that the conclusion reached is that there is little possibility, at this site, of corrosion from either source; that as to driving equipment and procedure, the specifications previously referred to as part of this appeal, cover this thoroughly; that recognizing the desirability of accurate records on the piles driven under the conditions covered by this appeal, the applicant proposes to record for each pile driven, the information listed on the sample field report which is made a part of this appeal, as Exhibit H; that the use of long piles of this type in so-called "soft" ground is not a rare occurrence; that such foundations have been used under conditions far more adverse and loadings far more severe than contemplated by this application; that it is pertinent to note that under the provisions of Section C26-405.0 for determination of safe loads on piles, the factor of safety might not be over 1.5, whereas under the loadings which are proposed, and on the evidence of the tests actually conducted, the 12", 53# pile with a maximum allowable Code load of 55 tons, would have a factor of safety of not less than 2.73 while the 14" H-beams, loaded to 65 tons, would show factors of safety of not less than 2.31; that even with the test loads actually used, there was no indication of any failure of any of the piles; that it should be noted, also, that test pile #9 at this site was driven in the worst location possible so far as lateral support is concerned and that the average condition throughout the site is better; that the evidence submitted with this appeal shows conclusively that H-beam piles can safely be used under the conditions proposed and that such use is in no way a deviation from the intent of the Code provision, cited as an objection; that it is further contended that the objection arises solely because of an interpretation of the Code and not because of any non-compliance with the intent of the Code, since the applicant is not requesting any increase in the allowable loading of the piles; that it cannot be assumed, from the wording of the Code, that "adequate" lateral support for any pile is lacking, simply because it is driven through a com-

pressible soil; that where doubt exists as to its load-bearing capacity, the Code provision for load-testing (as has been done in this case) insures ample factor of safety in its use; that permission is requested, therefore, to use these piles in accordance with the methods and procedure proposed in this appeal; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the requirements of Section C26-411.1 should be complied with, there being no justification for substituting the results of tests for the requirements of that section, when lateral support is lacking under the code provisions and particularly where tests have been confined to one selected area and general approval is sought, not only for an extended area adjacent but where conditions are assumed to be similar.

Resolved, that the decisions of the borough superintendent dated February 15, 1945 and May 23, 1945, relating to N.B. Applications 96 to 109-45, be and they hereby are affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (387-45-A)

WHEREAS, Shreve, Lamb and Harmon, for Abrast Realty Co., owner (Abraham and Straus, Inc. lessee), filed June 18, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 422-438 Fulton street, south side, 93 ft. west of Hoyt street, 14-30 Hoyt street, 177 Livingston street, and 15 Gallatin place (2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 7th and 8th floors); (Block 156, Lot 1), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent on Alt. Applic. 3483-45, dated July 18, 1945, reads:

"1. Proposed construction of unprotected steel floors for mezzanines, violating Sec. C26-239.0 Adm. Code 3 hr. fire resistive floors required in structure of Class 1 construction."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 11 stories (195 ft.) in height; 181 ft. by 305 ft. irregular in area, Class 1 construction; erected 1928; located in a business use, B area and Class 1 height district and used and occupied since 1929 as a department store under Certificate of Occupancy 58132; and

WHEREAS, it is proposed to erect steel mezzanines of approximately 700 sq. ft. each on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 7th and 8th floors in a space separated from the department store sales area by 3 hour enclosing walls and fireproof self-closing doors and that two exit stairs from each mezzanine will be provided; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that drawings filed with the borough superintendent indicate the mezzanines to be hung by steel rods from the fireproofed steel members of the building floor above and the mezzanine floor constructed of steel channels and H. H. Robertson Floor System "Q" with plate on top, finished with asphalt flooring and only locker equipment for employees will be located on each mezzanine and the mezzanines will not be structrual parts of the building as a whole; that the additional thickness of fireproof mezzanine construction required will reduce the height below and above the mezzanine to the extent that their use becomes impractical; it is therefore requested that the Board approve the construction of the mezzanine as filed without fireproofed structural members; and

WHEREAS, the H. H. Robertson Co. Floor System "Q" as proposed, has not been approved by the Board in its action under Cal. 448-40-SM; such "Q" System not having been submitted for approval.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 3483-45, objection 1, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the proposed mezzanines shall be within the stories as proposed and that each mezzanine shall not exceed an area of approximately 700 square feet and shall be used only as proposed for locker equipment for employees and shall have a floor load of not less than 75 pounds per superficial foot with the H. H. Robertson Co. Floor System "Q" type of construction, as proposed; that the sprinkler system shall be maintained throughout the building, including the spaces over and below the proposed mezzanines; that such spaces where proposed mezzanines are to be constructed, shall be separated as proposed from the sales area by 3-hour enclosing walls and fireproof, self-closing doors.

THE RESOLUTION (396-45-A)

WHEREAS, Boris W. Dorfman, for L. M. Henkin, trustee for D. M. Clements (deceased), filed June 20, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 924-926 65th street, south side, 73 ft. 6 in. west of Fort Hamilton parkway and 6512-6518 Fort Hamilton parkway (1st and 2nd floors); (Block 5750, Lots 18-23-25), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 1696-45, dated June 7, 1945, reads:

"1. 1st floor occupancy as a garage for more than 5 cars, within a business use district, is contrary to Art. 2 Sect. 4a 15 of the zoning resolution.

2. Proposed garage on 1st floor of a Class 3 structure, 2 stories in height, is contrary to 4.2.1 of the Code.

3. As there were material changes to this structure, exits to comply with Sect. 270 of the Labor Law.

4. Live load for new occupancy on 2nd floor to comply C26-345 Sect. 7.3.2.3 of the Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is one and two stories (30 ft.) in height, 61 ft. by 106 ft. in area at 1st floor, 30 ft. by 78 ft. in area at typical floor; erected prior to 1911; located in a business use, B area and Class 1¼ height district; used and occupied as follows: 1st floor, public garage automobile display and sales, motor vehicle repair shop and gasoline service station; proposed to be used and occupied as follows: 1st floor, same; 2nd floor, manufacturing, 40 persons; that Certificate of Occupancy 72404, affecting 926-65th street, issued November, 1933 on Permit 531-33, permits the first floor to be used as public garage and paint shop and the second floor as a cabaret (that the public garage and paint shop on 1st floor to remain vacant as long as the 2nd floor is to be used as a cabaret); and

WHEREAS, Certificate of Occupancy 67920 issued July, 1932 on Permit 904-32, permits the use of 6512-6518 Fort Hamilton parkway as follows: 1st floor, public garage, gasoline service station, auto display room and auto repair shop; 2nd floor, public garage for pleasure vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that Alt. 1696-45 was filed to erect a new boiler room and to occupy the first floor as a public garage, motor vehicle repair shop and gasoline station and the second floor for light manufacturing; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to objections 1 and 2, that with the exception of a few months in 1934, the building was continuously used as a public garage, etc., which continued as shown by the records of the Department from 1914 to 1934 and by the granting of an extension to the existing garage, to the front line of 6512-6516 Fort Hamilton Parkway by the Board of Standards and Appeals under Cal. 216-16-BZ, and further, that the records of the Fire Department show a continuous and uninterrupted issuance of yearly permits for the operation of a public garage, etc.; that the only change on the 2nd floor during the last 30 years, consisted of an alteration to the ramp or stairs, which ramp was located entirely outside of the wall of the building; that objection 3 issued by the borough superintendent stating that there were material changes to the structure, is not consistent with the facts and therefore the exits should be permitted to comply with Sec. 270 of Labor Law for buildings erected prior to 1913; and contends as to objection 4, that this objection should be modified for the reason the 2nd story was used from 1914 to 1933 as a public garage and repair shop and the liveload for such use was accepted by the Department and should be considered sufficient for the use of light manufacturing; that the owner surrenders the right to use the 2nd story as a public garage and repair shop and requests the Board to affirm the continuous use of the 1st floor as a public garage, repair shop and gasoline service station and the second story for factory; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states in support of his appeal, that in 1911, R. L. Williams surveyed the premises known as 924-926 65th street, and this survey (filed with this appeal) shows a 2-story brick building with an outside stairs; that in 1914, plans were filed and approved, under Alt. Permit 2591-14 for the erection of a wooden ramp instead of the stairs, with intent to occupy the 1st story as a public garage and 2nd story as garage and repair shop; that upon completion of the work, the building was so occupied; that by 1921 the wooden ramp was worn down and required an alteration and permit 4198-21 was granted for the erection of a reinforced concrete ramp in place of the wooden one; that the occupancy of the building remained substantially the same; that in 1932, plans were filed and approved under Alt. Permit 904-32 for the removal of the rear wall of 924-926 65th street, connecting it with the building known as 6512-6516 Ft. Hamilton Parkway, both buildings having the same occupancy and ownership (D. M. Clements); that upon completion of the alteration, Certificate of Occupancy 67920-32 was issued for the use of the 1st story—public garage, gasoline service station, auto display room and auto repair shop; 2nd story, public garage for pleasure vehicles; that in 1933, plan was filed for the alteration of previously mentioned ramp into a stairs and the installation of an outside counterbalanced ladder, Permit 3556-33; that upon completion of the alteration, Certificate of Occupancy 71328-33 was issued for use of 1st story as "vacant" and 2nd story as "cabaret"; that on November 20, 1933 a new Certificate of Occupancy was issued to 924-926 65th street, for use of 1st story as "vacant" and 2nd story as "cabaret"; this certificate had following note: "Public garage and paint shop on 1st story to remain vacant as long as 2nd floor is used as a cabaret"; that because the cabaret was surrounded by public garages, gasoline service stations, repair and paint shops and located almost alongside of huge illuminating gas tanks, it could not prosper and in a few months ceased to exist; that later on the 2nd story was rented to a local Athletic Club, activities of which required no license by the Fire Department.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 27, 1945, as to Alt. App. 155-45, reads:

THE RESOLUTION (420-45-A)

WHEREAS, New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed June 28, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises bounded by Park avenue to 5th avenue and between East 132nd and 135th streets (Abraham Lincoln Houses); (Block 1757, Lots 1 and 20, Block 1758, Lots 1 and 20 and Block 1759, Lots 1 and 21), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 31, 1945, on N.B. Applic. 96-45, affecting Building No. 1, southwest corner East 135th street and Park avenue, reads:

"In reply to your letter of May 23, 1945, concerning the Abraham Lincoln Houses, the Department hereby denies your request for consideration in relation to the three items which follows:

1. To permit a garage for not more than five passenger motor vehicles for the use of the manager and his staff. Garage will be located in Bldg. 1. Construction and maintenance will comply with Section 60 of the M.D.L."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated May 31, 1945, relating to N.B. Applics. 96 to 109-45, inclusive, reads:

"In reply to your letter of May 23, 1945, concerning the Abraham Lincoln Houses, the Department hereby denies your request for consideration in relation to the three items which follow:

2. To permit incinerator hopper doors to open directly into stair and public halls without an additional fireproof door and assembly. Hopper door and its assembly will meet the one hour fire test requirements."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the buildings will be fireproof, 6 and 14 stories in height; located in a business and retail use, B area and Class 1½ height district and used throughout as multiple dwellings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to the decision of the borough superintendent relating to the garage to be located in Building No. 1 (60 East 135th street), that the building will be located in a business and retail use district and occupied in the cellar for garage for not more than five cars, incinerator, craft rooms and on the 1st to 14th floors, as a Class A multiple dwelling; that the garage portion will be constructed in accordance with Section 60 of the Multiple Dwelling Law, and ventilating system will be installed, to provide at least 4 changes of air per hour, independent of any other ventilating system; that 9 one-half in. sprinkler heads will be provided, connected to the house water supply, the heads to be not more than 12 ft. on center, nor more than 6 ft. from any wall; that the garage will be used by resident members of the management staff for the storage of not more than five cars; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to the incinerator hopper doors, that the incinerators are of a nonfuel fired type and therefore not subject to the same degree of heat or fire hazard as fuel oil fired incinerators; that the incinerator openings will be provided with self-closing hopper doors and frames having a 1 hour fire test rating and therefore it is unnecessary to add any further protection; that in accordance with the Code, any hopper service door placed a foot or more off the required lines of egress travel, would be acceptable without the use of a protective door; that this could not, therefore be construed to give any more protection to the egress enclosure in which most incinerator openings are located; that in buildings where such protective doors have been installed, said doors have not only been a continual nuisance to the tenants by interfering with the convenient operation of the hopper door, but also have been the cause of people spilling refuse, thereby creating unsanitary conditions; that in general, this additional door is very impractical; that most buildings heretofore using this protective door have been of non-fireproof construction, whereas all these buildings will be Class 1 fireproof structures.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on N.B. Applic. 96-45, to 109-45, objection 2, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the hopper doors shall be of a type as tested by the Board for meeting the requirements of a one-hour test; and, withdrawn to comply, as to objection 1 of N.B. Applic. 96-45.

THE RESOLUTION (447-45-A)

WHEREAS, Ambassador Upholsery Co., Inc., lessee, for the Philbe Corp., owner, filed on July 14, 1945, an appeal from orders of the fire commissioner, affecting premises 1270 47th street, south side, 60 ft. west of 13th avenue (1st floor); (Block 5628, part of Lot 35), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, Order 15287-LF, issued by the fire commissioner, June 14, 1945, reads:

"1. Arrange all bars from all windows on 1st story so as to be readily movable from both sides, in such a manner as to afford the free and unabstructed use of such windows for the purposes of egress, as per Section 272 of the Labor Law."

and

WHEREAS, Order 15288-LF, issued by the fire commissioner, June 14, 1945, reads:

"1. Provided on 1st story a fixed fire extinguishing system or other means for the extinguishment of fire satisfactory to the Fire Commissioner. Sec. C19-161.0 Administrative Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 2 stories and attic (27 ft.) in height, 34 ft. by 93 ft. in area; of Class 3 construction; erected 1921; located in a business use, C area and Class 1 height district, and used and occupied as follows: 1st floor, upholsterer, 5 persons; 2nd floor, dwelling, one family; 3rd floor, dwelling, one family; that no change in use or occupancy is proposed; that the building is equipped with one 32 in. wide wood stair, wood enclosed, equipped with wood doors which are not self-closing and leading to the street through a yard and one fire escape extending to the yard by a sliding drop ladder with egress through the yard to the street; and

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in Order 15287-LF of the fire commissioner and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted as to Item 1, on condition that no windows shall be barred, except the windows as indicated on plans filed with this appeal marked "Received July 14, 1945", in the rear one story portion of the premises and that bars may be continued on the windows as thereon indicated, provided the exits to the outside, as shown are maintained, as well as a door to the front portion of the building which shall be a door complying with the requirements for one hour; denied as to Order 15288-LF.

THE RESOLUTION (449-45-A)

WHEREAS, Henry George Greene, Three Hundred Four Corporation. owner, filed an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 304-306 East 44th street, south side, 100 ft. east of 2nd avenue (Block 1336, Lot 47), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated F.P. Applic. 810-45, reads:

"Request permission to install a two source sprinkler system in building, with city connection and gravity tank.

"1. Disapproved as contrary to C26-1376.0 Adm. Code."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 4 stories and pent house (65 ft.) in height; 50 ft. by 100 ft. in area at 1st floor, 50 ft. by 90 ft. in area, at typical floor, of Class 1 construction; erected 1928; located in an unrestricted use, B area, and Class 1½ height district and used and occupied since 1938 as follows: kitchen and private dining room in the cellar, 3 persons; 1st floor and balcony, exhibitions and executive offices, 70 persons; 2nd floor, classrooms, 50 persons; 3rd floor, studios, 35 persons; 4th floor, studios, 35 persons, pent house, caretakers apartment; proposed to be used and occupied: cellar, boiler room, storage, 3 persons; 1st floor, sound stage, 10 persons; balcony, control room, 5 persons; 2nd floor, sound studio, 30 persons; 3rd floor, offices and recording studios, 20 persons; 4th floor, offices and sound studios, 20 persons; pent house, lounge and office, 5 persons; that the building is equipped with two 3 ft. 8 in. steel stairs, enclosed in terra cotta blocks, equipped with fireproof, self-closing doors and leading from the roof bulkhead, directly to the street; and

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on F. P. Applic. 810-45, objection 1, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the two sources of supply for the required sprinkler system shall be maintained as proposed, namely, direct connection to the city main and a connection from an approved gravity tank on the roof; that in all other respects, the sprinkler system shall comply with the requirements therefor and that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

WHEREAS, the applicant contends as to Objection 1a, that the width of the existing stairs is 3 ft. 6 in., only 2 in. short of the required width; that these stairs are adequate for the number of occupants; as to 1b, the rear stair is enclosed in brick; that this objection refers only to the front stairways enclosed in 4 in. terra cotta blocks, plastered on both sides; that this enclosure is far greater protection than that allowed under Section 271 of the Labor Law, which permits a fire resistance partition in buildings erected before 1913; as to Objection 1c, that the actual stair door conditions vary from those shown on the plans of the original building; that the door to the front stair on each floor is fireproof, self-closing, 3 ft. 6 in. wide, swinging outwardly; that the floor landing is 5 ft. wide; that there is no obstruction to free passage, as the direction of passage is such that it tends to open the stair door; that the doors to the rear stairs consist of two 2 ft. 6 in. fireproof, self-closing doors, which will be arranged so as not to obstruct the passage, by installing a chain to prevent full opening of easterly leaf and yet providing a total of over 4 ft. wide opening; as to Objection 1d, the Board is requested to waive the requirement and accept the existing stairs with the following improvements: (A) The open grille enclosure around the elevator within the rear stairway to be covered on both sides with ½ inch transite. (B) A duct to be installed within the rear stairway, (which is brick enclosed) with a vent grille at each floor. This duct is to be extended to the roof and will be mechanically ventilated; and contends as to Objection 2a, that the present windows are of wood, glazed with ⅛ in. thick glass and not self closing; that it is requested the Board accept these windows, as with the exception of the windows on the 1st story street front, all other windows are provided with panes less than 720 sq. in.; that there are no buildings opposite the building in question, within 30 ft.; that all lot line windows, located within 50 ft. vertically above the roof of adjoining building, are equipped with shutters; that the building is fully sprinklered with heads located 5 ft. 2 in. from the windows on the north and south walls and 3 ft. 6 in. from the windows on the east and west walls; that the present height of the building is 97 ft. 10 in. and the proposed height will be 144 ft. 10 in., which is less than the 150 ft., which is the limit for buildings erected prior to 1913 and contends as to Objection 2b, that the front elevator shaft enclosure consists of 4 in. terra cotta blocks, plastered on both sides, which the Board is requested to accept; that one of the elevator shafts at the rear is enclosed in brick and the other which is now enclosed with a wire screen, is proposed to be enclosed with ½ inch transite on both sides of the screen; that this construction is proposed so as not to encroach on the stairway.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the requirements of the Labor Law, as cited in a decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 1191-45, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted as to objections 1a, b, c and d, on condition that the existing building shall comply in all respects with the requirements of the building code and the Labor Law for a factory erected prior to 1913; and that the proposed extension in height shall comply with the requirements of the Building Code and the Labor Law for a new building; as to objection 2a, that the existing windows, where more than 30 feet away horizontally from any adjoining building and more than 50 feet above any adjoining building, may have wood sash, glazed with double thick glass with no light of glass exceeding 720 square inches, provided that the two-source sprinkler system is maintained throughout the entire building, with a sprinkler head opposite each window and not over 5 feet therefrom; and that in addition, all lot line windows, located within 50 feet vertically from the roof of the adjoining buildings, shall be equipped with shutters; as to objection 2b, that the existing elevator shaft, within the rear stair enclosure shall be protected as herein proposed; that in all other respects the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto, including the zoning resolution; that the building shall not be increased further in height or area; that the sprinkler and standpipe systems shall be maintained in accordance with the requirements therefor and to the satisfaction of the fire commissioner.

THE RESOLUTION (474-45-A)

WHEREAS, Paul Friedman, for Bella Heimowitz, owner (Monroe Self-Service Laundry, lessee), filed July 26, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 311 Madison street, north side, 111 ft. 5½ in. west of Gouverneur street (1st floor); (Block 268, Lot 42), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 19, 1945, on amendment to N. B. Applic. 274-44, reads:

"4. Repeat. Steam or wet wash laundry is not a permitted use in a Retail District, Sec. 4A of Zoning Resolution. Note that above machines constitute a steam laundry as defined by department memorandum.

5. Repeat. No manufacturing permitted in a retail district other than manufacturing incidental to conduct of a retail business and such manufacturing as permitted in a business district, provided such manufacturing does not exceed more than 5% of floor area of bldg. Sec. 4A of Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the amendment to N. B. Applic. 274-44, filed with the borough superintendent July 18, 1945, upon which such decision was based reads as follows:

"It is intended to install four washing machines: two of 250 pounds and two of 35 pound capacity.

It is further intended to occupy more than 25% of area of building for manufacturing. Occupancy on first floor only. Manufacturing in connection with conduct of retail laundry."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the proposed building will be one story (13 ft.) in heigiht, 26.6 ft. by 89 ft. 1 in. in area; Class 3 construction; located in a retail use, D area and Class 1 height district; used as a retail laundry and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the proposed building will be used as a retail (self-service) laundry; that the Board has jurisdiction to grant the relief sought herein under Section 666, paragraph 6 of the New York Charter; that on January 19, 1945, the Borough Superintendent approved the following amendment to Alt. Applic. 274-44:

"4. It is intended to establish a retail laundry and not a 'steam' laundry as defined in Article 2, Sec. 4a, sub. 51 B.Z: Steam boiler below 15 lb. pressure; No supervision of licensed engineer required.

No washing machine over 35 lb. and not more than four washing machines will be installed.

Total power for operating all washers, extractors, and tumblers not over ten Horse Power and Power for operating any washing machine less than 3 H. P.

No arrangements made to allow drain water for any machine to pass over the floor before entering house drain."

and

WHEREAS, thereafter, on July 18, 1945, an amendment was filed to said application, proposing to install four washing machines; two of 250 pound capacity and two of 35 pound capacity; that this application was denied by the borough superintendent on July 19, 1945, for the reason that a steam or wet wash laundry is not a permitted use in a Retail District, Sec. 4A of Zoning Resolution, noting that 'above machines constitute a steam laundry as defined by department memorandum'; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the proposed substitution of two 250 pound capacity washing machines for two 35-pound capacity machines does not change the character of the occupancy from a permitted use to a prohibited use in a retail use district; that the distinction made by the borough superintendent between the two types of machines has no basis in law; that the Borough Superintendent has no legislative power with respect to the Zoning Resolution and specifically that the Borough Superintendent, under the guise of issuing memorandum interpretations, has no power to create distinctions which are legislative in character; that the applicant submits that the owner proposes to use the two 250 pound capacity machines, because she now owns them at another location from which she is being forced to move, because the landlord wants the space for his own business; that the operation of the larger machines is more efficient, economically and substantially no different from that of the smaller machines from the standpoint of noise, odor, dust, vibration, smoke, fire-hazard or any other factor which distiuguishes a permitted use from a prohibited use in a business or retail district; it is therefore submitted that there is no basis either in the letter or spirit of the law for the distinction made by the Borough Superintendent, under which a laundry using 35 lb. capacity washing machines is a permitted use in a retail district (as per approval dated January 19, 1945), while a laundry using more than 35 lb. capacity washing machines is a prohibited use in a retail district; that the applicant further contends that the proposed use will be a retail self-service business, serving only individual customers who bring in and carry out their own washables; that the proposed occupancy is neither a wholesale nor an industrial laundry; that no washables are picked up or delivered by truck; that the proposed occupancy will be a convenience to residents in the neighborhood; will safeguard the public health and welfare, and will be so operated as to be a benefit, rather than a detriment to the community; and

WHEREAS, the departmental memorandum referred to in the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 19, 1945, reads:

"At the joint meeting of the Superintendents, Chief Inspectors of Housing and Administrative Assistants, held on March 7, 1941, the following interpretation of the term 'Steam Laundry' was adopted.

For the purpose of Art. 2, Sec. 4 (a) Subdivision 51 of the Zone Resolution, a 'Steam Laundry' is defined as an establishment that contains any one of the following features:

1. A steam boiler requiring the supervision of a licensed operating engineer under Section C26-213.0 of the Admin. Code.

2. A washing machine the capacity of which exceeds 35 pounds, or more than four (4) such machines, each not exceeding 35 pounds capacity.

3. Total power required for the operation of the washing machines in excess of three horsepower, or more than ten horsepower for all washers, extractors and tumblers.

4. An arrangement whereby the drain-water from any of the washers, extractors or tumblers is allowed to pass over the floor before entering the house drain.

Bernard J. Gillroy
First Deputy Commissioner."

and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Board, the memorandum adopted by the Department of Housing and Buildings under date of April 1, 1941, purporting to interpret the zoning resolution so as to indicate that a steam or wet wash laundry may be permitted in a business use district, provided certain requirements are met, including that washing machines shall not exceed 35 pounds, has no legal force and effect, in view of the wording of the prohibition of the zoning resolution, Art. II, Section 4, paragraph 51; and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Board, such memorandum of interpretation should be rescinded.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent acting on N. B. App. 274-44, objections 4 and 5, be and it hereby is affirmed and that the appeal be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (595-44-BZ)

WHEREAS, Thirty Central Park South, Inc., owner, filed October 19, 1944, an application under sections 7d, 7e and 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a residence use district, the maintenance of doctors' and dentists' offices in a residence building, some of whom do not reside on the immediate premises; affecting premises: 30 Central Park South, south side, 320 ft. east of Sixth avenue (Block 1274, Lot 60), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, March 6, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Central Park South is in a residence use, B area and Class 2 height district; West 58th Street is in a retail use, B area and Class 2 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated September 19, 1944, re Alt. Applic 538-43 reads:

"A 13. Repeat. Arrangement and occupancy including affidavits are not acceptable. Doctor's offices in a Residential District are contrary to Section 3 of Article 2 of the Zoning Resolution of the City of New York. Plans not further considered at this time."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 50 ft. frontage by 100.5 ft. in depth, on which is located a 14-story and penthouse residence and professional building (doctors' and dentists' offices) and that it is proposed to maintain this use; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that this is an appeal for a variation of Section 3 of Art. 2 of the zoning resolution, as applied to the above premises, arising from a decision of the Borough Superintendent of Buildings in connection with Alt. Applic. 538-43; that the alteration application among other matters, was filed to provide for the removal of Violation 13 in Superintendent's decision is a restatement of said violation, the subject matter being . . . "In that of changing approximately 50% of the building from use as a Hotel (residential) to use as Offices for doctors who do not reside on the premises (commercial office building use) this change of use is contrary to Certificate of Occupancy 3156. This building is located in a residence district."; that this building was constructed in 1919; that the original approved plans now on file in the Building Department show two doctors' offices with laboratories on the first floor and also a large restaurant on the first floor, with a basement kitchen; that there also appears on the front of the 7th floor, a large doctor's office and that these plans were approved; that the present owner took control of these premises in 1925, at a time when the plans indicated that six other apartments in use as joint offices and apartments, were occupied by doctors who might or might not make their residence on these premises; that this building outside of its own office, has 45 tenants; that there are 29 apartments occupied by 39 doctors; that as this is a residentially zoned district, occupants must use the same as a residence and can carry on only such personal professional business as a doctor might carry on in his own residence; that the present Certificate of Occupancy specifies the use of this building for residence and hotel purposes; that medical offices have been in it since its construction, without any violation having been filed by the city authorities, up to current violation; that it appears that business as such in this zone has not been strictly enforced and many medical offices exist between Fifth Avenue and Columbus Circle on Central Park South; that there are 27 names of doctors in front of various buildings in said section, while there are no names whatever on the front of this building; that in the block between Sixth and Seventh avenues on Central Park South, are the names of 24 doctors, and between Seventh avenue and Columbus Circle, are many more; that there are three stores between 5th and 6th Avenues, with entrances from the sidewalk and with windows for display of goods; there are also two hotels on this block, the Plaza and St. Moritz; that apparently because of the lack of objection thereto, many doctors sought space in this building and their occupancy has been altogether unobjectionable; that the hardship accruing to these 39 doctors by the enforcement of this zoning ordinance at this time after its violation had been known and approved for years by the Department of Housing and

Buildings, would be unconscionable; that the Department of Housing and Buildings has condemned this building for non-compliance with the zoning ordinance, claiming that the exercise of the medical profession is business within the meaning of the ordinance and 39 doctors must forthwith remove from these premises; that the records here will show that in 1921, the department specifically authorized changes necessary to accommodate Dr. John M. Wheeler and others, and for the past 24 years no objection has been raised to their occupancy; that Certificate of Occupancy 19676 was issued for the building in 1934, at which time 44 out of 56 apartments were occupied by doctors; that to condemn these doctors as violating this zoning ordinance at this late day after they have established their practices, particularly at a time when they cannot obtain space elsewhere, would make them the victims of the laches of the Dept. of Housing and Buildings and cause irreparable damage; that the operation of this ordinance against them will bring up the general question of whether any doctor may maintain an office in a residence structure and will have a serious effect upon the whole medical profession; that it appears in the leases signed by these doctors, that the premises are limited to use as residence and medical office and it further appears that for the convenience of medical men, alterations in the original construction have been made in 20 apartments in the last twenty years; that to comply with the zoning ordinance, it would be necessary to restore the said 20 apartments to their original construction and would mean complete loss of revenue from them while alterations are in progress, as well as time lost in securing new tenants; that the cost of such alteration has been estimated at $30,000; that the removal of the doctors' offices would be of no benefit to the public and would be unfair to these doctors that when in 1934, a certificate of occupancy was granted for this building, 44 out of 56 apartments were being occupied by doctors and the owner was confirmed in his understanding, that their presence in the building was not a violation of the zoning ordinance; that an inspection of the building will disclose that their existence in the building is practically unknown, as there are no signs on the outside and nothing whatever offensive in their occupancy; and

WHEREAS, the premises and surrounding area were inspected by a committee of the Board, report of which reads as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

RE: Cal. No. 595-44-BZ
Cal. No. 596-44-A
Premises 30 Central Park South, July 25, 1945
MANHATTAN.

An application for a zoning variance and an appeal from the provisions of the Building Code have been filed and public hearing thereon held.

The building is a fourteen-story and pent-house residence building, on a plot 50′ by 100.5′, erected under N.B. Application 227 of 1919. Plans were filed for approval under the requirements of the Building Code then in force—as a "hotel arranged in suites of two rooms". The building was described as 50′ x 78′5″, 14 stories, 150 feet in height, with a floor load throughout of 40 lbs. (per superficial foot).

After the approval of the plans and application on November 18, 1919, which included a pent-house to be used "exclusively as a sun parlor", new plans were filed and later approved on May 4, 1921, which, while not changing the general proposed use of the building, did include some basic changes, such as eliminating one of the two enclosed stairs for the full height of the building and including a restaurant on the first floor, rear.

The Code required at that time two stairways when the area of the building exceeded 2,500 square feet. This building has a gross area per floor of, approximately, 3,900 square feet. The requirement for the second stair was waived by the Building Superintendent, who also approved a 40-lb. floor load for the first-floor restaurant, instead of 100 lb. as required by the Code, on the ground that the restaurant "will not be a public restaurant but a private dining room for the people living in the building". Certificate of Occupancy #3516 was issued in 1921 as a hotel. This was superseded by Certificate of Occupancy #19676 in 1934, which changed the use of the pent-house to a "restaurant accessory to hotel", with a live load of 40 lbs. (instead of 100 lbs.) and an occupancy of 50. This was in addition to the restaurant and kitchen permitted on the 1st story.

There was permitted by the Superintendent of Buildings, Doctors' offices in several spaces in the building, apparently upon the mistaken interpretation of a General Resolution adopted December 5, 1916, by this Board under Cal. No. 262 of 1916, which was later rescinded on June 5, 1928, due to "the misapprehension and unwarranted interpretation between a doctor's personal practice and an office building for doctors."

At the present time, this building has more than half of the apartments throughout the building occupied as doctors' offices without the usual living accommodations and furniture which would generally be found in the residence of a doctor who also maintained his professional office in his home, as permitted under the Zoning Resolution. The Zoning Resolution has at no time permitted a doctors' office building in a residence district, nor a doctor's office, except such as may be within the premises in which he resides. The provision as presently worded permits in a residence use district "the practice of a profession within the premises in which the practitioner resides"—Art. II, Section 3, paragraph 9(c).

This building in 1929, upon the adoption by the State Legislature of the Multiple Dwelling Law, became a Class A Heretofore Erected Multiple Dwelling. The lot upon which the building is erected has been within a residence use district since July 25, 1916.

The decision appealed from in the application for a zoning variance is that "Doctors' offices in a residential district are contrary to Section 3 of Article 2 of the Zoning Resolution". The Board can find no fault with this objection, but the applicant claims (1) that plans for several of the doctors' offices were approved by the Building Department and (2) that the doctors' offices are the "residences" of the doctors and that when Certificate of Occupancy #19676 was issued in 1934, 44 out of 56 apartments were occupied by doctors. It should be noted that this Certificate makes no mention of doctors' offices but instead refers to the use as a Hotel with restaurant accessory to a hotel in the pent-house. This Certificate of Occupancy is, of course, incorrect. The building has never been a hotel. It was erected under the Building Code as a so-called "apartment hotel" with not more than two families maintaining cooking accommodations, so as to avoid the terms of the Tenement House Law, and since 1929 classed as a Class A Multiple Dwelling, in which cooking is permitted if in compliance with Section 33 of that law, and in which business is also permitted provided separate stairs are provided and the Zoning requirements do not prohibit such use.

A careful inspection has been made of every apartment in the building and the furniture contained in each noted. While for the purpose of a "voting" residence, the law may be complied with, there can be no question that the spaces occupied by doctors are offices and not living apartments. The use as doctors' offices must be considered as a business use and not a residence use.

The restaurant in the pent-house is occupying more than the pent-house and storage space in the cellar as apartments on the top floor have been added to the restaurant space. A new second means of exit has been provided, with the approval of the Department, from the pent-house floor to the top floor corridor, but this leads at the top floor only to the single enclosed stairway in the building. The restaurant is admittedly a public restaurant and is not confined to serving only the occupants of the building.

If this building were used throughout as a doctors' office building, with no other tenants occupying living apartments, there might be presented a new application for a zoning variance, but as occupied, the Board is estopped from considering a variance because of the provisions of the Multiple Dwelling Law, which the Board has no power to vary.

It is recognized that the establishment of doctors' offices, without bona-fide living quarters connected therewith, in apartment houses in residence use districts has spread unduly throughout the city and should be regulated for the benefit and health of residents, who should not be subjected to having sick persons and others needing medical attention circulating throughout the building in which they have their homes. These conditions exist in this building and others nearby, as to which violations may not have been issued as has been in this case (Violation 3067-1944—"changing approximately 50% of the building from the use as a hotel residential) to use as offices for doctors who do not reside on the premises . . . change of occupancy contrary to C.O. 3156." (This C. of O. 3156 was superseded by C.O. 19676 in 1934).

The Committee recommends that the application for a zoning variance be denied for the reasons set forth above and that, if this action is taken by the Board, the appeal from the requirements of the Building Code be dismissed as academic at this time.

(Sgd.) HARRIS H. MURDOCK,
Chairman,
BERNARD A. SAVAGE
CHARLES M. BLUM
JOHN E. GUNN

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there is no basis for the claim of laches; that the owner had constructive notice of the provisions of law, as to the lawful occupancy of the building and that no lawful rights can ensue from unlawfully issued permits; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that there was no justification for the use of its discretion under the provisions of Sections 7d and 7e of the zoning resolution and that the applicant failed to substantiate a basis of appeal under Section 21 thereof and was, therefore, not entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 538-43, objection A13, be and it hereby is affirmed and that the application be and it hereby is denied.

THE RESOLUTION (112-45-SM)

WHEREAS, George E. Strehan, for Lastik Products Co., Inc., owner, filed on March 5, 1945, an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the material known as Lastik Precast Channel Slabs; and

WHEREAS, this material was referred to the Committee on Tests of the Board for test and report; and

Report of Committee on Tests

Cal. 112-45-SM

Subject: Lastik Precast Channel Slabs. Approval of.

George E. Strehan, Consulting Engineer for Lastik Products Co., Inc., filed an application with the Board of Standards for approval of Lastik Precast Channel Slab for floor and roof construction under the provisions of C26-618.0—C26-625.0 and C26-626.0 Administrative Building Code. (See Fig. 1).

Description

Lastik Precast Channel Slabs are manufactured of concrete, consisting of 1 part Portland Cement and 3¾ parts of aggregate, in equal proportions of Haydite and sand cast in vibrated metal forms.

Standard BX Haydite graded to ½ in. maximum size is mixed with well graded Ohio Lake sand meeting B.C. specifications. (See attached Report of Rubber City Sand and Gravel Company). The mix is turned over for two minutes in a 2 yard rotary batch mixer with sufficient water added to make a viscous mix capable of being worked in the forms.

The channel slabs are either 3½ or 2¾ inches deep, 24 inches wide, with 1 inch thick webs and 2 inch thick flanges reinforced with either one ⅜ or one ½ inch deformed rod in each flange protected by ½ inch of concrete and with a 4 inch by 4 inch welded mesh reinforcement in the web of No. 12 and No. 14 gauge wires.

The 3½" slabs are reinforced with two ½ in. rods for spans up to 8 ft. 4 in. and with two ⅜ in. rods for spans up to 7 ft. 0 in. The 2¾ in. slabs are reinforced with two 7/16 in. rods for spans up to 6 ft. 6 in. and with two ⅜ in. rods for spans up to 6 ft. 0 in. All slabs are cured in air a minimum of 10 days before shipment. The original approval under Cal. No. 578-39-SM was based on tests of slabs made at the Lincoln, N. J. plant of the Federal-American Cement Tile Co. On April 13, 1945, a Committee of the Board witnessed the manufacture of the slabs at the Wampum, Pa. plant, checked the process of manufacture and quality of the materials used which conformed with the original test. Samples of the specimens were marked for identification and shipped to the Board for record.

The deformed steel bar reinforcement is bent on the ends over the daps in the forms to insure ½" protection from the lower side of the channel flange and approximately 1 inch on either side of the legs. To insure proper placement of the mesh in the web, an indented bar is used to locate the mesh at the center of the web thickness and the reinforcement is tamped in place.

To prevent breakage in handling the 8 ft. 4 in. span is reinforced with two ⅛ in. top rods and two No. 8 transverse rods each end; the 7 ft. 0 in. span has two No. 8 transverse rods each end; the 6 ft. 6 in. and the 6 ft. 0 in. spans have one No. 8 transverse rod each end.

TESTS

The test loads applied through 2 inch bearings at the Third Points resulted in the following averages:

TYPE-1: 3½ in. Channel Slab, reinforced with ½ in. round rods and 4 in. by 4 in. rectangular mesh Nos. 14 and 12 gauge wires with 2⅛" Top Longitudinals and 2 No. 8 transverse rods for handling each end, for use on spans of 8 ft. 4 in. center to center of steel supports, 8 ft. 0 in. clear span, safe superimposed load 55 lbs./ sq. ft.

TYPE-2: 3½ in. Channel Slab, reinforced with ⅜ in. round rods and 4 in. by 4 in. rectangular mesh Nos. 14 and 12 gauge wires, for use on spans of 7 ft. 0 in. center to center of steel supports, 6 ft. 8 in. clear span, safe superimposed load 58 lbs./ sq. ft.

TYPE-3: 2¾ in. Channel Slab, reinforced with 7/16 in. round rods and 4 in. by 4 in. rectangular mesh, Nos. 14 and 12 gauge wires, for use on spans of 6 ft. 6 in. center to center of steel supports, 6 ft. 2 in. clear span, safe superimposed load 72 lbs./ sq. ft.

TYPE-4: 2¾ in. Channel Slab, reinforced ⅜ in. round rods and 5 in. by 4 in. rectangular mesh, Nos. 14 and 12 gauge wires, for use in spans of 6 ft. 0 in. center to center of steel supports, 5 ft. 8 in. clear span, safe superimposed load 58 lbs./ sq. ft.

NOTE: The safe superimposed load noted above is obtained by applying a factor of 4 to the ULTIMATE THIRD POINT test load and dividing by the area of slab, center to center of supports of test load.

Three (3) cylinders of the Standard Mixture were made for test and tested at the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory at the age of 28 days with an average strength of 4261 lbs. sq. in. The Laboratory Report No. 363 383 is attached hereto.

Analysis of the sand used in the Wampum Plant was furnished by the Rubber City Sand and Gravel Co. and complies with the Building Code specifications.

RECOMMENDATION

On the basis of these tests and the report of inspection, the Committee recommends the approval of the slabs as listed below as meeting the requirements of C-26-619.0 Administrative Code (10.3.1.B.C.) for roofs of Class 1 and Class 2 construction where the fire protection covering is omitted from the roof trusses as provided in C26-618.0 Administrative Code (10.2.8.B.C.) under C26-620.0 Administrative Code (10.3.2.3 subdiv. 2 B.C.) as the concrete top slab provided for therein, under C26-670.0 Administrative Code (10.12.1 B.C.) as a floor or roof slab as provided for therein, and under C26-626.0 Administrative Code (10.3.8 B.C.) for use on simple spans under the following building conditions:

1—3½ in. channel with ½ in. rods Max. Span 8 ft. 4 in. Superimposed Load 55 lbs. sq. ft.

2—3½ in. channel with ⅜ in. rods Max. Span 7 ft. 0 in. Superimposed Load 57 lbs. sq. ft.

3—2¾ in. channel with 7/16 in. rods Max. Span 6 ft. 6 in. Superimposed Load 58 lbs. sq. ft.

4—2¾ in. channel with ⅜ in. rods Max. Span 6 ft. 0 in. Superimposed Load 58 lbs. sq. ft.

The span herein specified is measured center to center of steel supporting beams. When concrete channel slabs are shipped at an age of 10 days or less, approved high early strength Portland Cement shall be used; and in all cases cylinders of the standard Haydite Concrete mix shall develop a compressive strength of a least 3000 lbs. sq. in. at end of 28 days.

The Committee recommends further that care shall be exercised to avoid undue concentration of loads; that precaution shall be taken to provide at least 2 inches bearing on the steel supports; that all structural steel beams or purlins supporting these slabs shall be properly aligned; and that each slab made for use under this approval shall be marked as follows:

"Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Cal. 112-45-SM."

Or in lieu thereof, a stamp bearing the following inscription within a circle: around the periphery at the top, the word "APP'V'D"; along the bottom, "B.S & A"; and in the center, two lines, upper line reading "N.Y.C." and lower line reading "112-45-SM."

Haydite and sand, and with a 1¼ inch top layer of 1 part of Portland Cement and 2 parts of cork and 3 parts of Haydite poured with an internal vibrator to secure a dense homogeneous mix.

Standard ½ in. BX Haydite is used and the mixture made sufficiently dry to prevent segregation and floating of the cork. The slabs are cast 24 in. wide upside down and the base coat incorporated in intimate contact with the topping, throroughly tamped and vibrated with a pneumatic hammer, 3 in. thick for a span 6 ft. 4 in. center to center and 2½ inches thick for a span 5 ft. 4 in. center to center of supporting beams. The 3 inch slab is reinforced with 18 #10 gauge longitudinal wires with ⅜ inch protection and #17 gauge tie wires at 12 inches on centers—The 2½ inch slab is reinforced with 18 number 11 gauge longitudinal wires also with ⅜ inch protection and #17 gauge cross wires at 12 inches on centers. To prevent breaking in handling two additional #4 wires are installed ¾ inch from the top about 4 feet long and 3 number 8 longitudinal wires at the bottom for the full length of the 3 inch slab. To provide quick setting and hardening, ¾ gallon of calcium chloride solution is added per bag of cement to the mix, using 2 lbs of the salt to a gallon of water.

The slabs are stripped after 24 hrs. and kept damp in stock piles for 10 days before shipment. The reinforcement is located in the steel forms at the proper height by means of a notched placement bar, and the reinforcing rods for handling insurance by means of a wood yoke to insure uniformity of spacing and protection. The original approval under Cal. No. 1170-39-SM was based on test of slabs made at the Lincoln, N. J. plant of the Federal American Cement Tile Company. On April 13, 1945, a Committee of the Board inspected the Wampum, Pa. plant and checked the manufacture and the quality of the materials used which conformed with the original test samples and the process of manufacture. Samples of the specimens were marked for identification and shipped to the Board for record, and test cylinders of the concrete mixes were cast for test at the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories.

TESTS

The test loads applied through 2 in. bearings at the Third Points resulted in the following averages:

   Superimposed Load 59 lbs. sq. ft.

Span herein specified is measured center to center of supporting beams. When nailing concrete roof slabs are shipped at an age of 10 days or less, approved high early strength Portland Cement shall be used; and that in all cases cylinders of the standard Haydite concrete mix shall develop a compressive strength of at least 3000 lbs. sq. in. at the age of 28 days.

RECOMMENDATION

The Committee recommends further that care should be exercised to avoid undue concentration of loads; that precaution shall be taken to provide at least 2 inches bearing on the steel supports; and that all structural beams or purlins supporting these slabs shall be properly aligned; and that each slab made for use under this approval shall be marked as follows:

"Approved by the Board of Standards and Appeals for use in New York City under Cal. 113-45-SM."

THE RESOLUTION (114-45-SM)

WHEREAS, George E. Strehan, for Lastik Products Co., Inc., owner, filed on March 5, 1945, an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the material known as Lastik Red Interlocking Roof Slabs; and

WHEREAS, this material was referred to the Committee on Tests of the Board for test and report; and

WHEREAS, the report of the Committee on Tests reads:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TESTS

Cal. 114-45-SM.

Subject: Lastik Red Interlocking Roof Slab. Approval of.

George E. Strehan, Consulting Engineer, for Lastik Products, Inc., filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval of the material known as Lastik Red Interlocking Reinforced Concrete Roof Slabs under the provisions of the Administrative Building Code as hereinafter provided, in accordance with the requirement of C26-178.0,b and under Sec. C26-619.0, C26-618.0, C26-626.0 and C26-670.0, Administrative Building Code. (See Fig. 1).

DESCRIPTION

These slabs are manufactured of a 1:3½ mixture of washed, well-graded sand and approved Portland Cement in metal forms, a one-half inch layer of the mix being first deposited, screeded and tamped and the reinforcement placed in position with a formed bar to insure uniformity in placing of the mesh. The tile are cast 24 ins. in width and in two lengths, 52 in. and 64 in. for use on spans of 4 ft. and 5 ft. respectively b. to b. of supporting channels. The washed lake sand complies with the provisions of the Building Code (See report on tests of sand attached hereto) and turned over 2 minutes in the batch mixer with sufficient water to make a dry comprehensible mix, easily handled in the forms. The 52 in. are 1⅛ in. thick reinforced with 1⅜ in. by 2 in. mesh No. 12½ and No. 17 gauge wires and the 64 in. tile are 1⅛ in. thick reinforced with 1⅜ in. by 2 in. mesh No. 11 and No. 17 gauge wires, all with a minimum of ⅜ in. covering. The tile are further strengthened with ribs formed by a patterned screed, 2⅝ in. and 2⅛ in. in height. The top layer of concrete is partially colored with red oxide and a finish coat of cement, sand and red oxide is sprinklered on the top surface. The wet tile are allowed to set 2 days on the wood pallets and then stored damp in the stock pile for at least 10 days.

One extra No. 4 longitudinal is placed in the 64 in. tile for safeguarding against breakage.

TESTS

The test specimens were manufactured at Wampum, Pa., and marked for identification on April 13, 1945. Three specimens of each span were tested to failure at the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory with THIRD POINT LOADS, applied through 2 inch bearings on a simple span at an age of 28 days (see Report No. 362216 Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory). For requirements of ventilation of storage rooms see Rule 4.4.1.

3.2 Air shall be admitted to the spraying, dipping or immersing spaces in an amount equal to the capacity of the fan or fans and in such a manner as to avoid short-circuiting the path of air in the working zone of such spaces. Exhaust fans shall be kept running constantly while spraying, mixing or dipping. Exhaust fan control shall be interconnected with spray gun so as to operate simultaneously. Exhaust fans shall, in addition, be arranged to operate independently of spray gun. Ventilation Equipment shall be kept in operation for a sufficient length of time thereafter to exhaust all vapors, fumes or residues of spraying materials from the .spray booth, dip space or drying room. Air admitted to the spraying, dipping, immersing drying spaces or storage rooms shall be fresh air taken from the outside of the building.

3.3 EQUIPMENT. Motors shall be located outside of spraying, dipping or immersing spaces except as provided in Rule 4.

Rule 4. Specifications for Spray Booths, Spray Rooms, Dip and Immersing Rooms, Drying Equipment and Material Storage Rooms.

Where such rooms are located over wooden floors, such wooden floors shall be surfaced with 1" of grout adequately reinforced or a mixture of Portland cement, asphalt and sand similarly reinforced. Ceilings over such rooms shall be protected by 5/8" unsanded gypsum plaster or 7/8" of cement or sanded gypsum plaster on approved 3.0 lb. metal lath or other equivalent fire-resisting ceiling protection. Ventilation, lighting and heating for these rooms shall comply with the requirements of these rules. Where additional fire fighting equipment is necessary, such equipment shall be furnished in accordance with the direction of the Fire Commissioner. Floor drains leading to the house draining system or the public sewer, shall not be permitted. All dip tanks shall be provided with hinged metal covers held open by a fusible link, such covers to be equipped with an opening to permit automatic flooding of the tank with fire extinguishing media of a type and so located as the Fire Commissioner shall direct.

4.1.2 Panels of polished wired glass or plate-glass at least one-quarter (1/4) of an inch thick, not exceeding seven hundred and twenty (720) square inches in area and not more than forty-eight (48") inches in any linear dimension may be used in the sides of a spray booth or room.

4.1.3 The inner sides of walls, ceilings and the floors of all spraying or dipping spaces shall have a smooth surface.

4.1.4 All openings in spray, dip or immersing rooms shall be protected by fireproof opening protective assemblies. Windows opening on a street may be used to provide ventilation but no window on a lot line or less than 20 ft. from any opening in a wall of an adjacent building shall be permitted except when the subject room is more than 20 ft., in the horizontal plane, above an adjoining building.

4.1.5 Ferrous metals used in the construction of spraying, dipping or immersing spaces shall be thoroughly painted on the inside or be galvanized.

4.1.6 All spraying, dipping or immersing spaces shall be so constructed that at least three (3) feet of clear working space shall always be maintained for each operator spraying, dipping or immersing the material being processed.

4.2 STORAGE ROOMS.

4.2.1 Storage rooms shall be constructed of fireproof or fire resisting material and shall have a window opening to the outer air but such window shall not be on a lot line, enclosed court, nor opposite within twenty feet of windows of adjacent buildings nor part of the same premises, such window openings to be fireproofed and lower half provided with open louvers or ventilated by metal duct or fan at least 8 inches in diameter. The floors of all storage rooms shall be of incombustible non-ferrous materials. The sill of the door shall be at least 6 inches above the finished floor. All doors to be tin-clad, approved, fireproof and self-opening.

The lighting equipment shall comply with rule 4.5.2.2 and shall have an electric switch located outside the room. Immediately adjacent to such room shall be provided such portable fire extinguishing equipment for use within the storage room as the fire commissioner shall direct.

4.3 DRYING EQUIPMENT.

4.3.1 Gas Fired Drying Ovens. Gas fired drying ovens shall be of a type as approved by the Board. Such ovens shall be constructed of metal and incombustible materials so designed as to preclude the direct application of flame to the material in process. The exhausts from both the heating compartment and the drying compartment shall be individually equipped with adequate fans and exhaust piping connected directly to the outer air. The controls for the fans shall be so interlocked with the gas supply line that when the gas is flowing the fans are in operation. An extra switch shall be provided to permit the operation of the fans when the gas supply is off. Each oven shall be equipped with approved gas burning equipment with electrical controls so arranged as to shut off the gas valve when ignition fails or the gas supply pressure drops to 2 inches of water.

The use of a continuous gas pilot light is prohibited unless an automatic gas shut off valve is provided, which will shut the gas off at the pilot light when the flame is extinguished or the supply of gas cut off. Electrical pilot ignition shall be of the continuous type, or equal in performance, designed for use in high temperatures, with controls so interlocked as to shut off the gas supply when current is interrupted. An auxiliary manually operated gas shut off valve shall be located not nearer than 25 feet from the oven so as to control the gas supply in the event of an emergency. Such ovens shall be adequately insulated on all sides, including the base, which shall have the equivalent of a double thickness of such insulation, unless the floor is protected by a 3 in. mat of reinforced concrete placed over and bonded into the existing concrete floor and projecting not less than 6 inches outside the projected area of the equipment, or unless an unenclosed clear air space not less than 4 inches above the floor is maintained between the floor and the underside of the oven.

4.3.1.1 Gas fired drying ovens shall not be located nearer than 25 feet from spraying or dipping spaces unless such oven is approved for use in explosive atmospheres.

4.3.2 Electric Infra Red Ray Drying Ovens.

4.3.2.1 Electric Infra Red Ray Drying Ovens shall be of a type as approved by the Board. Such ovens shall be constructed of electric equipment installed in accordance with the National Electric Code and the requirements of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity. Ovens when erected shall be placed on concrete floors without any additional protection, provided that at least 12 inches of clear space above the floor is provided to permit adequate ventilation.

4.3.2.1.1 In drying processed material, involving the evaporation of considerable amounts of flammable solvents by infra-red lamps, such installations shall not be confined in small rooms unless such rooms are thoroughly ventilated by a power driven ventilation system of sufficient capacity to provide 100 linear feet of air per minute; the controls of the ventilation system to be so interlocked with the Infra-Red Ray System that the latter cannot function unless the ventilating system is in operation. When equipped with duct ventilating system, the Infra-Red Ray Oven shall be adequately secured so as to prevent moving.

4.3.2.1.2 Where the evaporation of a considerable amount of flammable vapors are involved, ventilated hoods located as near to the floor as practicable or enclosures shall be provided at the initial stage of the process with adequate exhaust system to discharge the primary evaporation from the solvents to the outer air, so that when the processed material progresses through the lamp drying tunnels only a comparatively small amount of solvent is left for evaporation. A space between such ventilating section and the drying section shall be maintained.

4.3.2.1.3 Lamps and other electrical equipment shall be kept free from flammable deposits and adequate cleaning shall be maintained.

4.3.2.1.4 Lamp drying units shall be separated from spraying and dipping processes complying with these rules, by a distance of at least 15 feet or shall be installed in a separate fireproof room.

4.3.2.1.5 Controls shall be arranged so that the lamps in the tunnels will be shut off automatically if and when the conveyor stops.

4.3.2.1.6 Where there are no conveyors and the material being processed is left stationary in the dryer, there shall be an excessive temperature switch to shut off the lamps to avoid overheating the material being processed if it is not removed from the dryer in time.

4.3.2.1.7 Material to be processed on the conveyors shall be rigidly supported so as not to be liable to displacement and cause lamp breakage and short circuits. Where there are no conveyors, materials should be fixed on dollies running on tracks or other equivalent method to accomplish the same result.

4.3.3 The use of these processes shall be limited to metal or other incombustible material requiring paint processing.

4.3.4 Such fire fighting equipment suitable for electrical and solvent vapor fires shall be provided as the fire commissioner may direct.

4.4. SPECIFICATIONS FOR DUCTS, PIPES AND FANS

4.4.1 All ducts used for ventilating spray, dip or immersing spaces shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials or metal of not less than the following gauges of metal.

4.4.4 Where a duct passes through a non-fireproof floor or roof, the duct shall be protected at such point by an outer pipe or sleeve with an air space of at least one (1") inch between the sleeve and pipe protected from the woodwork by at least a 1" blanket of asbestos, compressed rockwool or glasswool, or equivalent fire-resistive material extending through the entire depth of the ceiling construction and adequately secured to the outer pipe. The outer pipe shall be not less than two (2") inches from any woodwork and such woodwork shall be covered with at least 26 gauge metal or other incombustible material.

4.4.5 Ventilating ducts shall not terminate within ten (10) feet measured horizontally of any chimney outlet, unprotected air intakes or within twenty (20) feet of any exit or any opening in an adjoining building.

4.4.6 If induced draft is used to create an air movement, the air shall be supplied from a point outside the spray or dip or immersing space. Fans and motor must be located outside the spray, or dip space, except approved explosion-proof motor and non-ferrous blade fans which, however, are not to be located where residues of spraying material may collect on such equipment.

4.4.7 The exhaust system from any spray, dip or immersing space shall not be connected to any other ventilating system or be discharged into a chimney or flue used for the purpose of conveying gases of combustion.

4.4.8 Exhaust fan blades shall be constructed of non-ferrous metal. All exhaust and ventilating fans to be permanently connected to their source of power, using metallic conduit. Rheostats in fan bases not permitted. Fan blades not coming in direct contact, with spraying fumes, need not comply with this requirement.

Except that alternating current induction motors of the totally enclosed type, having no brushes, make and break contacts, collectors or other arcing or sparking parts may be located within ten (10') feet of a spray booth, spray compartment or dipping space when approved by the administrative official having jurisdiction. No open flame shall be used within 25 ft. of spray, dip or coating space or paint storage room or cabinet except when separated by fireproof construction, except as provided in Rule 4.3.1. Gas Fired Drying Ovens and 4.3.2.1.4 Electric Infra Red Dry Ovens.

4.5.2. Lighting Fixtures.

4.5.2.1 Artificial lighting shall be only by means of electricity.

4.5.2.2 When lighting fixtures are located within 10 feet of a spray booth, spraying space, dipping space or within a storage room they shall be of the rigid stem type, enclosing all wiring and be equipped with keyless sockets having vapor proof globes. Where exposed to breakage, globes shall be adequately protected by substantial metal guards or equivalent means. Fluorescent tube type lighting fixtures when used in spray booths or in spray and dip spaces or in storage rooms or rooms containing inflammable vapors, shall be of a type approved for use in explosive atmospheres. The auxiliaries of mercury vapor lamps shall be offset at least ten (10) feet from spray booth, spray or dip spaces unless enclosed in explosion-proof protection.

4.5.2.3 All electrical equipment shall be installed and grounded as provided by the Administrative Code covering electrical equipment and permanently connected to their source of current supply, using metallic conduit.

4.5.2.4 No pin plug receptacles shall be used except when the use of receptacles and attachment plugs become necessary they shall be so connected to form a part of a unit device with explosion-proof interlocking switch precluding the removal of the plug when the switch is in the "on" position or by an approved explosion-proof enclosure which can seal the arc when the current is interrupted. Such receptacles and plugs shall be of the polarized type providing a connection for the grounding wire of the portable cords.

4.5.2.5 All electric wiring shall be enclosed in rigid standard weight metallic conduits with explosion proof joints and fittings. Joints in metallic conduit having threaded couplings shall not have less than five (5) fully engaged threads. Where flexible connections are required a flexible fitting approved for explosive atmospheres shall be used.

4.5.2.6 The use of portable cords or trailer lights are prohibited, except when flexible cord approved for hard usage containing one (1) extra insulated conductor properly connected to form a grounding connection for metal lamp guards, motor frames and all other exposed metal portions of such portable lamps and devices may be used. When portable lamps are used they shall be enclosed in a manner approved for explosive atmospheres and with substantial guards of metal to prevent breakage. Sockets shall be of the keyless moulded composition type with no exposed metal parts.

Rule 5. Maintenance and Operation.

5.1 Every premises wherein a spraying, dipping, or immersing space is maintained and operated shall be continuously under the charge and supervision of one or more persons holding a certificate of fitness, whose duty shall be to see that the spray, dipping and immersing space comply with the rules and the terms of the permit are not violated. No other duties shall interfere with the enforcement of these rules while the work is in process. A copy of these rules shall be available near the space where these rules apply.

5.2 Smoking or the carrying of lighted cigars, cigarettes, matches or pipes in spray, dipping or immersing space is prohibited.

5.3 No person shall be permitted within a spray space between the spray gun and the exhaust outlet while the spray gun is in use.

PETITIONS FOR CERTIORARI ORDERS SERVED ON THE BOARD OF STANDARDS AND APPEALS

On August 9, 1945, copy of petition and order of certiorari was served on this Board by Bond & Babson, attorneys, on behalf of Atlantic Leasing Co., Inc., owner, in re decision of the Board on July 3, 1945, denying extension of sign beyond street building line in a retail-1 district; Cal. No. 345-45-A; premises 1580-1590 Broadway, east side, 710-720 Seventh Avenue and 200 West 48th Street, Borough of Manhattan.

On August 21, 1945, copy of petition and order of certiorari was served on the Board by Hartman & Hartman, attorneys, on behalf of Helen Hartman, objector in the application granted by the Board on July 10, 1945, under section 21 of the building zone resolution, to permit in a business use, C area district the extension in area of a bank building; Cal. No. 43-45-BZ; premises 1269—48th Street, Borough of Brooklyn.

On August 29, 1945, copy of petition and order of certiorari was served on the Board by Chambers & Chambers, attorneys for Robitzek, Inc., Corp., owner, and Colonial Beacon Oil Co., lessee, in re decision of Board on July 24, 1945, revoking Certificate of Occupancy and dismissing that part of appeal relating to review of action of Borough Superintendent on F.P.App. 70-44; Cal. No. 744-44-A; premises 2592 Bruckner Boulevard (1st floor), 447 ft. east of Brush Ave., Borough of The Bronx.

COURT DECISION

Matter of Hoffman vs. Murdock—On September 14, 1943, the Board modified a decision of the Borough Superintendent as to keeping pigeons in a residence use district by restricting the number to fifteen, confined in a coop; Cal. No. 332-43-A; premises 77-52—74th St., Glendale, Queens. Upon court review, Mr. Justice Daly, in Special Term, Supreme Court, found that, in view of the lack of evidence that the keeping of pigeons was carried on as a business enterprise, there is no provision of law to prevent keeping of pigeons as a hobby. The court found that there is presently no provision in the Sanitary Code under which the Health Department can regulate the keeping of pigeons as a health measure; also, that if the keeping of pigeons is to be regulated, it is a matter for legislative determination. (N.Y.L.J. July 25, 1945).

The court based the decision upon BARKMAN vs. THE TOWN OF HEMPSTEAD, in which case the court upheld the constitutionality of a regulatory provision in the Zoning Law.

Correction: Word "not" as it appeared on the eighth line, page 717, Bulletin No. 31, Vol. XXX, dated July 31, 1945, omitted.

Rule 5. Material and Construction of Tanks.

5.1 Cylindrical Tanks (except vertical tanks located outside of buildings above ground).

5.1.1 All tanks for the storage of fuel oil shall be built of steel plates made by the open hearth process and known to the trade as "tank steel." Such plate shall be free from physical imperfections, such as laminations, cracks, mill scale, etc. All steel must be new in good condition and free from rust. the thickness of steel required and the size and spacing of rivets shall be as stated in the table given below.

5.1.2 All tanks shall be welded or riveted and caulked, or riveted and welded. Flanges or other pipe connections may be welded. All caulking shall be done with round nose tools and without injury to the plates. Filler of any kind between plates is prohibited.

5.1.3 Thickness of cylindrical tanks, except tanks of 275 gallons capacity or less·

Tanks 36 in. in diameter and less—¼ in. shell, ¼ in. heads.

Tanks 37 to 72 in. in diameter—¼ in. shell, 5/16 in. heads.

Tanks 73 to 120 in. in diameter—5/16 in. shell, ⅜ in. heads.

Tanks over 120 in in. diameter to be of ⅜ in. steel and to be stiffened by angle rings or equivalent members so as to retain their cylindrical form.

5.1.4 All cylindrical, oval or obround storage tanks shall have dished heads with a curvature the radius of which is not greater than the diameter of the tank. Dished heads shall be formed with an adequate cylindrical extension rim to provide welding or riveting surface. Should flat heads be used they shall be braced in the same manner as described for the bracing of flat sides of rectangular tanks.

5.1.5 Diameter and spacing of rivets:

Riveting in single lap seams shall not exceed a pitch as follows:

In shell ¼ in. thick, ⅝ in. in diameter rivets 2¼ in. pitch.

In shell 5/16 in. thick, ⅝ in. in diameter rivets 2⅜ in. pitch.

In shell ⅜ in. thick, ¾ in. in diameter rivets 2½ in. pitch.

5.2 Rectangular Tanks.

5.2.1 All rectangular tanks shall be built of steel plates of the quality required for cylindrical tanks, and of a thickness of not less than 5/16 of an inch.

5.2.2 Corners may be made up by bending the plates or by use of angles.

5.2.3 Rivets in seams shall be ⅝ of an inch in diameter and spaced not more than 2¼ inches center to center.

5.2.4 All flat surfaces of rectangular tanks are to be braced. Bracing shall be done either by using structural steel members which will act as girders and which will safely carry the load with a factor of safety of five (5), or by using bars from side to side, end to end and top to bottom of the tanks as the case may be.

5.2.5 When structural steel members are used such as angle, channels or beams, etc., the distance from center to center of the rivet lines on these members must not be in excess of twenty-four inches, and the rivet spacing must be such that it will develop the full strength of the members. In no case shall the rivets be in excess of six (6) inches center to center on these members.

5.2.6 When structural steel reinforcing members are tied together with braces in order to reduce the effective length, the braces shall not be stressed higher than nine thousand (9,000) pounds per square inch taken in the minimum net section.

5.2.7 If structural steel members are omitted and the sides of the tank are braced by means of rods or bars, these members should not be spaced farther apart than twenty-four (24) inches center to center in all directions. The unit stress permitted in these members shall not· be in excess of nine thousand (9,000) pounds per square inch on the minimum net section.

5.2.8 The connection between these members and the sides of the tank must in all cases be such that it will develop the full net sections of the bars so that the bar will break before the connection will let go.

5.3 All Tanks Except Vertical Above-Ground Storage Tanks.

5.3.1 All storage tanks for oil of two hundred and seventy-five (275) gallons' capacity or less, except buried tanks, shall have a minimum thickness of shell and head plates of manufacturers Standard 10 gauge (.134″). Auxiliary storage tanks of 60 gallons or less shall be similarly constructed but need not be of a gauge thicker than U. S. Standard No. 14.

5.3.2 At time of installation all storage tanks shall bear a permanently fixed plate, spot-welded or equivalent, bearing the name of tank manufacture, the gauge of material and capacity of tank. All shop fabricated storage tanks shall be installed without structural alteration.

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot, 100 ft. frontage by 100⅔ ft. in depth, on which is located a 2 story Class 3 constructed building, located partly in the residence use and partly in the unrestricted use district, occupied as a garage for more than 5 motor vehicles and that it is proposed to add an additional story covering entire plot; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the premises are already being used as a public garage, so that a grant will not be an intrusion of a new use in the neighborhood; that the wall facing the East River drive and in the residential zone is and will remain, unpierced; that a grant will not adversely affect the neighborhood, since this use is an established one; that the property in question having a frontage of 100 ft., lies wholly within an unrestricted district and only a portion of this building lies within the newly created residential district and the Board has the power to grant this application, since the framers of the law intended to give relief to just such cases; and

WHEREAS, the resolution of the Board of October 3, 1944, extended the time to obtain permits and complete the work for one year; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated August 18, 1944 on B.N. Applic. 296-44 reads:

Frey; that the general usage has been the same since 1892; that most of the property owners within the affected area, if not all of them, became the owners with knowledge that the premises was being used for the purposes set forth; that although the premises are in a residence use district, in view of the long existence of said buildings which were always used for the uses described, a variation is requested; that the original building antedated the enactment of the zoning resolution; that the present owner purchased the premises under the belief that the use of same for the facilities contained therein was proper and authorized; that considering the investment, great damage will be done with very little, if any, relative benefit to anyone else concerned, if the variation is not granted; and

THE RESOLUTION (179-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, James F. Connell, for Dominick Fontano, owner, filed March 28, 1945, an application under section 7c of the zoning resolution, to permit in a business use district, the erection of a concrete block storage shed for waste paper bailing and storage; affecting premises: 15-17 Smith street, northeast side, 153.83 ft. northwest of St. Mary's avenue (Block 2969, Lots 16 and 17), Rosebank, Borough of Richmond; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, September 11, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Smith street, Bell avenue and St. Mary's avenue are in a business use, D area and Class 1 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated February 28, 1945, re N.B. App. 25-45, reads:

> "1. The erection of this proposed nonfireproof storage shed for the baling of waste paper, constitutes the extension of a junk yard in a business use district is denied, as being contrary to Zoning resolution Art. II. Sec. 4(a)-(20)."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 50 ft. frontage by 100 ft. in depth on which is located a one-story frame shed, 21 ft. 5 in. by 62 ft. 5 in., the plot being used in conjunction with the building as a junk yard and baling of waste paper and it is proposed to demolish a portion of the building and reconstruct of concrete block; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that it is requested that permission be granted to rebuild part of present frame shed being used for baling paper stock in conjunction with existing junk yard, as a Class 3 cinder concrete block shed on a masonry foundation; that the owner has been operating it as a junk yard and paper baling for 22 years, as it was in an unrestricted use district until January 21, 1942, at which time it was changed to a business use district; that the war caused a demand for waste paper and the owner received a W.P.B. priority for a new steel baling machine to replace his obsolete baling equipment; that the roof of the old shed leaked, the frame sidewalls were rotted and the open joints required attention to protect the new costly machine which was delivered and set on a concrete foundation; that the paper stock was continually getting wet, causing rejection, and it was impossible to work during wet weather; that the owner was pressed by the paper mill dealer for rapid operation of the machine and paper baling and he gradually replaced the wood side walls with masonry blocks on a concrete foundation, feeling that the Dept. of Housing and Buildings would grant a permit; however, that department stopped construction before fully completed and permission is requested to legalize and complete the work outlined on plans filed with this application; and

WHEREAS, the applicant has filed affidavits as to the use of the plot as a junk yard for 20 to 22 years; and

WHEREAS, it appears that Building Notice 779-40 was approved on November 7, 1940, to permit junk yard use on Lot 17, provided no building was erected thereon; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that this was a proper case in which to exercise its discretion to grant a variance under section 7c of the zoning resolution.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the use district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted, under section 7c thereof, to permit the replacing of the existing frame building by a Class 3 building, as proposed, on condition that the building and the use as a junk yard and baling of waste paper shall be confined to Lot 16, except that Lot 17 may be used for the passage of trucks in conjunction with the junk business maintained on Lot 16, provided such lot is not built upon or the junk business further extended and that no material is stored thereon; that the wall between the proposed Class 3 building and the existing frame building shall be fire-stopped to the satisfaction of the borough superintendent and all doors therein shall be protected by 3-hour fireproof, self-closing assemblies; that such portable fire fighting appliances shall be maintained as the fire commissioner shall direct; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws and rules applicable thereto, and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within six months from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (435-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, Samuel Rosenblum, for Millinery Center Synagogue, owner, filed July 12, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a retail use, B area district, the erection of an extension at the rear 2nd story in excess of the area requirment of a B area district, affecting premises 1025 Sixth avenue, west side, 41 ft. 9 in. north of West 38th street (Block 814, Lot 36), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals, at its regular meeting, September 11, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that Sixth avenue is in a retail use, B area and Class 2 height district; Broadway is in a retail 1 use, B area and Class 2 height district; West 38th street and West 39th street are in a retail 1 and retail use, B area and Class 2 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 11, 1945 on Alt. Applic. 440-45 reads:

> "5. Proposed vertical extension contrary to Art. IV, Section 12b, as structure is not permitted to exceed 65% of area of lot, since building is in an area B retail district."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the premises consist of a plot, 19 ft. frontage by 60 ft. in depth, on which is located a 4 story Class 3 constructed building, 19 ft. by 60 ft. in area at 1st story and 19 ft. by 42 ft. in area above occupied as stores and salesroom; that it is proposed to erect an extension at the rear 2nd story 18 ft. in depth so that the 2nd story will be 60 ft. in depth, covering the entire lot and to occupy the building as a synagogue, the 4th story to be removed; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building is a 4 story brick structure with a frontage of 19 ft. and built for the full depth of the lot on 1st story, used for store, offices and dwellings and proposed to be occupied by the Millinery Center Synagogue for the conduct of religious services; that it is proposed to remove the 4th floor, eliminating 8778 cu. ft. of the existing structure so that the height as completed will be the equivalent of the 3 story portion; that the 2nd floor is also to be removed in the rear, so as to have a proper auditorium and the old 2nd floor will be used for a small balcony; that to carry out this effect and to make provision for the ark of the synagogue, it is necessary to extend the rear for a depth of 18 ft. and a height of 10 ft. 4 in.; that while the zoning law states that the structure is not to exceed 65% of the area of the lot, actually this building now covers on the 1st story the entire lot, so that as far as the 1st story is concerned, there is no extension, as the lot is presently fully covered; that the net cubical content of the building is reduced by at least 5000 cu. ft. by the removal of the 4th story, so that the altered structure will have a cubic content of 5000 cu. ft. less than the existing structure; that to eliminate any extension or to limit the area to 65% of the area of the lot, makes this lot which is only 19 ft. wide and 60 ft. deep, practically useless; that even in the present code, no rear yard is required when the lots are not more than 55 ft. back from the nearest street and while the entire lot is only 60 ft. or 5 ft. more than this 55 ft. requirement, the entire lot is only 31 ft. back from 38th street and the lot abuts the property at 103 West 38th street, which is perpendicular to the present site, so that from its position as it affects 38th street, there should be no rear yard of any kind provided, and if no rear yard was required, there would be no necessity for providing any through ventilation; that this square block is already so built up that any attempt to protect light and air and through ventilation is nullified, inasmuch as here is erected on this square block, a 35 story structure which goes through solidly from 38th to 39th streets, plus two other structures to the east of 16 and 12 stories in height; that the proposed small extension therefore cannot affect the through ventilation, and the structures to the rear are benefited by the fact that one story, the top story, will be removed leaving the building 33 ft. in height; that the owners purchased the property long before the new amendment went into effect and contemplated the improvement for some time, but when ready to submit plans, the zoning resolution had been amended; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district regulations of the zoning resolution, and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 thereof, to permit the rear extension in height as proposed on the building now covering the entire lot, provided the existing fourth floor shall be removed as proposed and a portion of the 2nd floor framing removed, as indicated on plans filed with this application, marked "Received July 12, 1945" and the proposed roof extension shall not be over 23 feet above grade; that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; and that all permits required obtained and all work completed within one year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (497-45-BZ)

WHEREAS, George E. Strehan, for Fairchild Press, Inc., owner, filed August 10, 1945, an application under section 21 of the zoning resolution, to permit in a retail use, B area district, the erection of a covered bridge in the rear yard at 3rd story; affecting premises: 3 East 12th street, north side, 150 ft. east of 5th avenue (Block 570, Lot 44), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Board of Standards and Appeals at its regular meeting, September 11, 1945, after due notice by publication in the Bulletin of the Board of Standards and Appeals; and

WHEREAS, the district maps accompanying the zoning resolution show that East 12th street is in a retail use, B area and Class 2 height district; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 13, 1945, re Alt. Applic. 1098-45 reads:

"1. Proposed new bridge at 3rd story in rear yard not permitted being contrary to Sec. 19 Article IV Zoning Resolution."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the premises consist of a plot 25 ft. frontage by 103 ft. 3 in. in depth, on which is located a 4-story, Class 3 constructed building, 25 ft. by 81 ft. 8 in. in area on 1st story and 25 ft. by 48 ft. 4 in. in area above, occupied as offices and printing establishment and that it is proposed to erect a covered bridge at the 3rd story, leading to a 6-story building on East 13th street; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that it is proposed to raise the rear extension one-story in height and connect the new 3d story by a bridge 4 ft. in width and 33 ft. 7 in. in length to building 6-10 East 13th street in the same ownership; that subject premises is used as an office and accessory to the printing and publication of a trade magazine conducted in the East 12th street building; that buildings 5, 7 and 9 East 12th street are also in the same ownership and used in conjunction with the business of the Fairchild Press, Inc.; that at the time of filing application for the erection of the connecting bridge on July 2, 1945, both East 12th and East 13th streets were designated as business districts and there was no knowledge by the applicant on pending change in use; that on July 12, 1945, the change to retail use became effective, including both sides of East 12th street, the northeast and northwest corners, but not the southeast and southwest corners; that the plan on file was amended so that the additional story did not cover on the aggregate with the balance of the building more than 65% of the lot area; there is more uncovered area than required for legal yard and side court for a building in a B area district and if the two connected buildings were considered as one extending through from street to street, all legal requirements for uncovered area would be complied with; that the proposed bridge is an additional means of access, facilitating the conduct of business and improving the means of egress from both buildings involved in case of emergency; that it will be of incombustible construction, complying with all requirements of the Building Code; that premises 6-10 East 13th street was acquired in 1916 and 3 East 12th Street in 1926; that the proposed structure does not interfere with the light and ventilation of either buildings on this or adjoining premises; and

WHEREAS, the Board deemed that the applicant had substantiated a basis of appeal under section 21 of the zoning resolution and was, therefore, entitled to relief on the grounds of practical difficulty and unnecessary hardship.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby make a variation in the application of the area district regulations of the zoning resolution and that the application be and it hereby is granted under section 21 thereof, to permit the one-story rear extension as proposed and the connecting bridge between the buildings, as indicated on plans filed with this application, marked "Received August 10, 1945", on condition that in all other respects, the building and occupancy shall comply with the requirements of the zoning resolution and all other laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto; that this bridge shall be continued only so long as the buildings are under one ownership and occupied by the concern proposed or its successors in the same line of business; and that all permits required shall be obtained and all work completed within one year from the date of this resolution.

THE RESOLUTION (523-43-A)

WHEREAS, Edwin W. Kleinert, for Mary E. Godley, James E. Hopkins, Minerva Homes, Incorporated, Webell Realty Corporation and Jakob Wilbert, owners (Wheeler Shipbuilding Corporation, lessee), filed on November 1, 1943, an application pursuant to Section 35 of the General City Law and an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises 152-02 to 153-10 10th avenue, and 10-01 to 11-29 152nd street, southeast corner and 10-34 154th street, (Block 4536, Lots 17, 32, 33, 42, 44, 47 and 68, Block 4538, Lots 1 to 18 and Block 4539, Lots 1, 18, 19, 30, 32), Whitestone, Borough of Queens; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated September 29, 1943, on N. B. Applic., 228-43, reads:

"2. Proposed use of premises in the bed of mapped street must be submitted to the Board of Standards and Appeals for approval. Article 3-Para. 35 General City Laws.

3. Area of proposed building is excessive both for a Class 3 and Class 4 building. Note part of walls are frame.

4. Part of walls of frame construction is contrary to §4.1.3 B.C.

5. Yard hydrant system is required §16.1.1.4d.

6. Gutter and leaders must be provided as required by §14.9.2 B.C."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building will be one story, 22 ft. in height; 152 ft. by 201 ft. in area; of Class 4 construction; located in a residence use, D area and Class 1 height district and used for U.S. Army equipment lumber storage with an occupancy of 20 persons; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building will be so constructed as to be easily removed and reassembled inside of the limits of the shipyard after the present emergency; that the lumber storage and auto parking lots surrounding the building will be graded practically level and paved with cinders; that the use proposed is for a period of two years; that the beds of streets will not be affected, as there will be no construction of buildings in the beds of such streets; that the grades of streets will not be adversely affected; that all areas within the lines of the streets involved are privately owned and that the city has not commenced condemnation proceedings; that to comply with objections 3, 4, 5 and 6, of the borough superintendent's decision would require the use of materials essential to the war effort and for which the Federal agencies involved refuse to certify the necessity, on the ground that the type of construction proposed is ample for a temporary building for the duration of the war.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent dated September 29, 1943 on N.B. Applic. 228-43 be and it hereby is modified as to objection 2, and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted under the powers vested in the Board under section 35 of the General City Law, to permit the use of the bed of the mapped street, namely, the bed of 11th avenue between 152nd and 154th streets and 153rd street and between 12th and 10th avenues, as indicated on plans filed with Cal. 522-43-BZ, on condition that the requirements of the resolution adopted this day under Cal. 522-43-BZ shall be complied with; that no other use shall be made of the mapped street during the term of this variance and no building shall be erected therein; withdrawn as to objections 3, 4, 5 and 6.

THE RESOLUTION (483-45-A)

WHEREAS, New York City Housing Authority, owner, filed August 3, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting premises bounded by Third avenue to Morris avenue and from East 139th street to East 145th street (Block 2321, Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4; Block 2322, Lots 1 and 2; Block 2323, Lots 1 and 2; Block 2324, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7), Morrisania Houses, Borough of The Bronx; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated July 30, 1945, on N.B. Applications 103 to 117-44, reads:

"Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of June 18, requesting the approval of Item 39 on your list of details for the construction of the Morrisania Housing Project, New Building Applications Nos. 103-1944 to 117-1944 both inclusive, which calls for the installation of an approved type, self-closing hopper door at incinerators on each floor, so constructed that the chute is closed while hopper is being charged so that no part of hopper will project into the chute or flue, no additional door on hall side to be provided.

The installation of hopper doors for incinerators without additional fireproof doors on the hall side is not acceptable to this Department."

WHEREAS, the proposed buildings will be 6 and 13 stories in height, of class 1 construction, located in an unrestricted use, B area and class 1½ height district, occupied as class A multiple dwellings; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the incinerators are of a non-fuel fired type and therefore not subject to the same degree of heat or fire hazard as fuel oil fired incinerators; that the incinerator openings will be provided with self-closing hopper doors and frames having a one hour fire test rating and therefore it is unnecessary to add any further protection; that in accordance with the code, any hopper service door placed a foot or more off the required lines of egress travel would be acceptable without the use of a protective door; that this could not therefore be construed to give any more protection to the egress enclosure in which most incinerator openings are located; that in buildings where such protective doors have been installed, said doors have not only been a continual nuisance to the tenants by interfering with the convenient operation of the hopper door, but also have been the cause of people spilling refuse, thereby creating an unsanitary condition; that people's clothes become soiled every time they use the incinerator, as they must lean again the protective door to hold it open; that in general, this additional door is very impractical; that most buildings heretofore using this protective door have been of non-fireproof construction, whereas all these buildings will be class 1 fireproof structures.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent acting on N.B. Applications 103 to 117-44, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the proposed incinerator hopper door assembly shall be of a type as approved by the Board, as meeting the test requirements for one hour rating.

The Roberts and Schaefer Company of Chicago, Illinois, filed an application with the Board of Standards and Appeals for the approval of their design method of barrel shell construction (fig. a) known as the Z-D System of Reinforced Concrete under the requirements of C26-178.0,b, designs to be based on accepted theory of flexure as is permissively allowed under C26-468.0 with flexural resistance of slabs to be designed as provided in C26-471.0 and moments, shear and points of inflection for the proposed type of design to be in accordance with the limitations of C26-481.0,a,b, and c.

General Considerations

The Administrative Building Code provides for the design of reinforced concrete structures, predicated on the application of the generally accepted theory of flexure (C26-468.0) for allowable loads and within the stresses provided elsewhere in the Code title.

The strict applications of the theory of elasticity to the design of reinforced concrete structures requires exhaustive and complex structural analysis taxing the best structrual and mathematical ingenuity of the engineering profession.

Through research, theoretical and experimental, empirical formulae have been established for the design of slabs, beams, columns, flat slabs, two way slabs, footings which within limits produced structures which have functioned satisfactorily. The status of these empirical rules and their limitations at the time the code was written were accepted by the administrative authorities and form the basis of our present code. These rules are not however, fundamental, and as additional knowledge and experience is acquired, improvements in the empirical methods are brought about and their application broadened beyond the original narrow limits so that desirable structures heretofore considered beyond the scope of the rules become possibilities. Such improvements deserve recognition in order to give the building public the benefit of the advancement of the art. The early concept of reinforced concrete design was to analyse slabs, beams, girders, columns, individually, disregarding completely the monolithic characteristics of the assembly. The unsatisfactory behavior of such structures led to the development of special provisions to compensate for continuity of slabs across beam, beam across girders and girders across columns in the form of arbitrary bending resistance across supports. Refinement was further introduced through the development and the application of the principles of continuity, thus recognizing the monolithic properties at least in one direction. The further development of flat slabs and two way slabs marked the application of the concept of plate action to reinforced concrete thus taking advantage of the biaxial resistance of monolithic structures. These types of structures first appeared in the form of proprietary systems which later were generalized through the development of empirical formulae for their design.

These methods which at first were limited in scope have and still are being improved and broadened through the efforts of research men and far seeing engineers.

A more recent concept for the utilization of the full potential possiblities of monolithic structures is that of curved or warped surfaces for use in long span construction. Such structures first made their appearance some 15 years ago in response to the demand of large column free areas. The introduction of these structures followed in the foot steps of the flat slabs and two way slabs in that they were introduced by pioneers in the form of proprietary systems, with one exception however, namely, that whereas the early systems of flat slabs and two way slabs were conceived instinctively without much theoretical background, curved or warped surface structures generally known as shells are essentially the product of mathematical developments of the highest order, the correctness of which was demonstrated by the behavior of actual structures in service.

Briefly stated, shell structures consist of comparatively thin plates curved in one or two directions stiffened by curvature and edge members. Egg shells, walnuts, soap bubbles are familiar examples created by nature. Automobile fenders, paper dishes and spoons, airplane bodies and wings and others too numerous to mention are familiar applications of shell structures in which the principle of curving thin plates to produce rigidity and reduce weight has been used in industrial fields. The rigidity and strength of such structures is explained by the fact that loads on such curved plates are transmitted largely by three dimensional stress action their ultimate resistance being limited by buckling and not by bending. The same principle is used in the design of constructions such as large pipe lines, self-supporting flumes, section gates and barrel type roof structures, the calculations of which involve triaxial solutions and correlated action of stiffening members with shells of various character. In the shell type of construction, advantage is taken of the well known diaphragm action in all load transfers, in fact of all resisting elements generally disregarded for the sake of simplicity.

Concrete shell roofs of the type submitted by the applicant for consideration are an established form of long span roof construction. Examples are to be found all over the world. This system had its origin in Europe as the outgrowth of a semispherical reinforced concrete dome designed for use in connection with the Zeiss planetarium. The shell roof construction was introduced in this country about 12 years ago by the applicant who has since then designed and supervised the construction of some 45 projects spread over 18 states aggregating 7,500,000 square feet. No structural deficiencies or failure were reported in the data filed notwithstanding and numerous load tests and strain measurements attest to the adequacy of the design methods used in the proportioning of these structures. Although there are a great many varieties of shell structures the most useful types may be classified into two groups, namely, the cross barrel type, which consists of cylindrical reinforced concrete segments spanning along their axis anywhere from 35 to 150 ft. with corresponding cross spans of 20 to 50 ft. and the longitudinal barrel type in which cylindrical segments are supported and stiffened by arches spaced some 25 to 50 ft. along the axis of the segment and the arch or segments spanning from 40 to 300 ft. in the other direction. In either case, the structures are comparable to flat structures of similar dimension. Fig. 1-a, shows a cross barrel roof in which the curved membrane together with the edge members may be considerd to act like a very large tee beam with curved flanges spanning from column to column in the same manner as the flat slab and edge beams of the corresponding flat section shown in Fig. 1-b. Fig. 2-a, shows a longitudinal barrel in which the curved member or shell together with the supporting arch and the columns may be considered to act as a rigid frame in the same manner as the slab, girder and column of the corresponding flat section shown in Fig. 2-b. In any case if the slabs or membranes straight or curved are assumed to be made self-sustaining by means of ties or ribs, these structures can be proportioned within and in conformity with the requirements of the Administrative Building Code. They however, would prove not only uneconomical but structurally unsound in comparison with the shell structures since such design method would fail to take into account definite resistance in the form of two way action of the shells which resistance is susceptible to accurate analysis within the province of mechanics. Fundamentally, the regulations of the Administrative Building Code with reference to the design of reinforced concrete provide that moments and shears be determined in continuous and restrained structures on the basis of recognized principles of mechanics (see C26-481.0c) and that the flexural resistance of the component parts be based on the generally accepted theory of flexure as it applies to reinforced concrete C26-468.0 and 471.0, and that the stresses thus determined be not in excess of the values specified in C26-364.0, Table 1 for controlled concrete. In addition the Code title prescribes detailed methods of design and limitations for some specific parts such as flat slabs, two way slabs, columns, footings, etc. which represented the best knowledge of the art at the time it was written. These methods and limitations are subject to modifications and new ones may be added from time to time in order to keep pace with the advancement of the science so long as they remain within the fundamental requirements of conformity with applicable recognized principles of mechanics and theory of flexure.

The shell structure design methods are divided into two categories, namely,

(a) That part which deals with the design of the shells themselves which involves the application of three dimensional stress analysis.

(b) That part dealing with the design of the shell supports in the form of arches which can be solved by any one of the numerous applicable universally known methods of analysing continuous or rigid frame structures such as:

The slope deflection method
The method of least work
The moment distribution method and many others all of which can be found in relevant literature published since the inception of the basic principles first established by Castigliano in 1879.

The design of these supporting members therefore may be considered wholly within the legal limitations of the code title and can be checked by an examiner without supplemental information. With reference to the design of the shells proper the analysis involves certain principles of mechanics and the solution of differential equations of high order the application of which are of more recent origin. While the principles themselves and the mathematical solutions can be found in standard texts dealing with the Theory of Elasticity, their application to the design of reinforced concrete shells originated some 30 years ago and gradually was developed until today, the theories, the solution and application of the theories have become generally accepted and are being taught in colleges and universities as a part of the advanced structural engineering courses. Although more or less standardized, the actual designing work is involved and complicated and requires a technique which can be dealt with comprehensively only by stress analysts particularly well informed structurally and mathematically and possessing data in the form of tables and graphs not to be found in the standard literature, therefore it is important that designs of shell structures be restricted to engineers who are fully versed in this branch of mechanics. The fundamental determination of stress interrelation within the shells are functions of shape, loading, continuity, restraint, etc. and involves intricate and extensive computations and graphical superposition of the various effects which while in accordance with the fundamental theory of mechanics and flexure are beyond the narrow scope of arbitrary structural analysis. Although these methods of stress determination of shells can be found in a number of text books such as, S. Timoshenko Books on Theory of Elasticity and Theory of Plates and Shells, their values as determined by competent designers may be assumed as correct since they represent but intermediary steps of the complete design and are verified automatically by the final check of static equilibrium. It is suggested as a method to verify the sufficiency of shell designs by the Department of Housing and Buildings that the applicant plans on submitting for each shell, graphs or tables listing the stress intensities at critical points for loads to be carried for use in equating the internal and external forces in accordance with equations such that when satisfied:

1. The correctness of the submitted stress data is verified,
2. The stability of the structure is insured,
3. The working stresses are established for checking against Administrative Building Code requirements.

Theoretical Analysis of Cylindrical Barrel Shells

Cylindrical arches, shaped so as to follow the line of thrust, have been used for many years, the thrust at the springing lines being taken up by abutments or series of tie rods. Where unsymmetrical loading caused bending, heavy sections have to be resorted to compensate for the bending stresses.

In contrast with such arched vaults or barrels, the shells of the applicant's type of structure are so proportioned as to render available three dimensional distribution of stresses wherein the cylindrical shell is held rigidly by stiffening members. The cross sectional curve of the cylindrical shell lies above the lines of thrust and the interaction of the shell and the stiffening member is such that the shell is kept free from bending moments and that loads and thrust are transferred to the stiffening members by tangential shear—see Fig. 3.

The resulting action of the shell in transverse and in longitudinal direction can be visualized by analysing the generally valid differential equation of the system, introducing the equation of the cross sectional curve expressed as a function of the central angle.

In Figure 3 a small element of the cylindrical barrel shell is shown. Considering the equilibrium of membrane forces acting on the element Fig. 4 the following unit stress components act in the plane of the element:

T_1 ..... direct stress component in the longitudinal direction (compressive or tensile)

T_2 ..... direct stress component acting in the transverse direction

S ..... shearing stress component acting in pairs of equal magnitude on all four sides of the element

X,Y,Z .. resultant components of the external loads in the tangential plane and perpendicular to the shell surface.

R ..... radius of the curvature of the shell.

a.) In the direction perpendicular to the small element the load "Z" acts on the area $R d\phi\, dx$. The two internal forces $T_2 dx$ have also a component in the direction of "Z" because of enclosing an angle $d\phi$ . . Therefore $$Z R\, d\phi\, dx = T_2\, dx\, d\phi$$ and reduces to: $T_2 = RZ$

b.) In the direction of the tangent to the curve the load Y acts on the area $R\,d\phi\,dx$. In the same direction acts further the difference of the internal forces $T_2\,dx$ along the arch element $R\,d\phi$ and the difference of forces $SR\,d\phi$ along dx . Therefore which reduces to: $$\frac{\delta S}{\delta x} = -\frac{\delta T_2}{R\delta\phi} - Y$$

c.) In the longitudinal direction of the barrel shell the following forces are acting:- the difference of $S\,dx$ along the arc $R\,d\phi$, the difference of $T\,R\,d\phi$ along dx and besides a component X of the external load. Therefore which reduces to: $$\frac{\delta T_1}{\delta x} = -\frac{\delta S}{R\,\delta\phi} - X$$

1)
$$\text{a)} \quad T_2 = +RZ$$
$$\text{b)} \quad S = -\int \frac{\delta T_2}{R\delta\phi} dx - \int Y\,dx + f_1(\phi)$$ $$\text{c)} \quad T_1 = -\int \frac{\delta S}{R\delta\phi} dx - \int X\,dx + f_2(\phi)$$

$f_1(\phi)$ and $f_2(\phi)$ are functions depending on the edge conditions and on the choice of the system of coordinates.

The stress conditions of the shell are usually complicated in the vicinity of its edges where the flexible shell is connected to comparatively stiff and heavier sections, so called edge members (tension members). Secondary stresses are produced at such intersection of members influencing the stress distribution within the flexible barrel shell. These stresses usually are confined to a narrow edge zone.

In the case of a barrel shell under its dead load (p - per unit area of surface):

$$Y = p\sin\phi$$
$$X = 0$$

The stress resultants then would be

$$a) \quad T_2 = -pR\cos\phi$$

$$R = R_o\cos^n\phi$$

where R_o is the radius of curvature at the crown. In this equation n is introduced for the following different values:

$n = -3$, a parabola will result.

$n = -2$, a catenary will result.

Considering first the catenary, which is an arch formed according to the line of thrust, the above equation reads

$$R = R_o\cos^{-2}\phi$$

Introduced in equation (2) $\quad T_2 = -pR_o\cos^{-1}\phi$

It follows then that the horizontal thrust of a vault which is shaped according to a catenary is always constant. The shear stress S becomes 0 when $f_1(\phi)$ equals 0. In the case where there is no shear also T_1 must be 0.
Therefore a distribution of stresses in space does not exist.

MINUTES

In the barrel shaped according to the catenary, the stresses due to dead load are only in cross sectional planes of the shell. The stiffening members of the shell do not come into action because there are no shear stresses which could transfer loads in longitudinal direction. The statical problem is two dimensional. It is pointed out that there is still a difference, however, between an arch formed according to the catenary and a barrel shell formed according to the catenary; if loaded unsymmetrically by snow or wind loads, an arch will be subjected to bending whereas the barrel shell will be free of bending stresses.

The action of the barrel shell is basically different. Here the cross sectional curve lies above the thrust line as in the case of $n > (-2)$. Then R equals $R_o \cos^n \phi$, where $n > (-2)$.

$$T_2 = -pR\cos\phi = -pR_o\cos^{n+1}\phi$$ and the horizontal thrust

$$T_{2\cdot H} = T_{2\text{-HORIZONTAL}} = T_2\cos\phi = -pR_o\cos^{n+2}\phi$$

For all values of $n > (-2)$ the horizontal thrust $T_{2\cdot H}$ decreases with increasing central angle ϕ and becomes 0 when ϕ equals 90 degrees. The ellipse and the cycloid, for which curves n is larger than 0, are especially effective.

The reduction of thrust from the crown to the springing line is accomplished by tangential shear forces which gradually transfer the arch thrust to the stiffening members. The size of the shear S is given (See equation 2b) by the change of thrust $\frac{\delta T_2}{R\delta\phi}$ within the arch element plus the load component $p\sin\phi$ in the direction of the cross sectional tangent. The shear S increases proportionally with the distance x and therefore is largest where the shell connects to the stiffening members. The longitudinal forces T_1 depend (see equation 2c) on the change of shear within an arch element $\frac{\delta S}{R\delta\phi}$. They are of parabolic distribution between the stiffening members. For $\phi = 90°$ the arch thrust T_2 becomes 0; the shear forces S, however will be of considerable size (see equation 2b) and therefore S equals $(-2px)$.

The resultant stress components, T_1, T_2 and S may be combined for each point of the barrel shell. The resultant principal stress is obtained for each point of the shell as well as the angle of this stress. The complete stress pattern of the shell could be condensed into the diagram of stress trajectories as indicated in Fig. 5. At the springing line (edge member) ϕ equals 90°. Both T_1 and T_2 equal 0 and only the shear forces S (equaling $-2\rho x$) remain. The principal stresses therefore include an angle of 45° with the springing line of the barrel. The shear forces acting along the springing line develop tension along the edge which must be taken care of by a tension member receiving the force

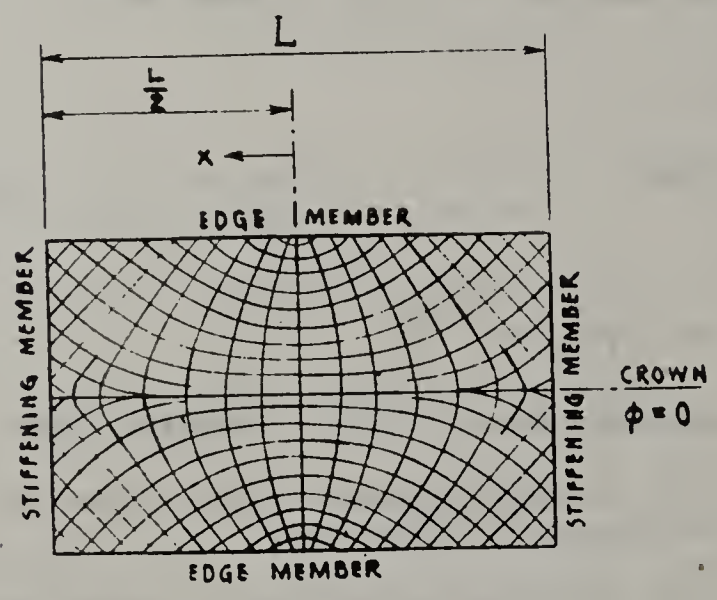

Fig. 5

Showing developed plan of Barrel.
Indicating stress trajectories in Shell.

The tensile force F_T similar as the T_1 forces is distributed in the shape of a parabola over the distance between the stiffening members. The tensile force in the edge member (tension member) is in equilibrium with the compressive forces T_1 of the shell; both form a couple which must resist the moment of the external loads. The tensile forces in the two tension members equal the sum of all T_1 forces in each cross section through the entire barrel shell.

This explains the longitudinal action of the barrel shell between its supporting stiffening members. The action in the cylindrical shell may be compared to the action of a T-beam, the flange of which is represented by the curved shell. The section modulus of the barrel shell is large on account of the considerable depth of the section. Whereas the compression flange of the conventional T-beam is limited by its effective width, the barrel shell is throughout subjected to forces which are distributed in accord with the laws of stress analysis.

A similar beam action exists in the transverse direction of the barrel. In a longitudinal section along the crown line of the barrel it may be recognized that in this section of the shell a total compressive force $F_c = LT_2 = Lp R_o$ is acting. This arch force is transferred by shear action to the stiffening members where a tensile force develops. For reasons of equilibrium the sum of the tensile forces in both stiffening members must equal the total compressive force F_c in the barrel shell. These internal forces form a couple which must be in equilibrium with the external moment of the loads. The distribution of compressive forces in the slab is uniform in spite of the ratio of slab thickness to effective slab width up to 1/600. The double beam action in the space is the characteristic feature of the cylindrical barrel shells. The three-dimensional stress analysis has been checked by a great number of tests on actual structures which prove the correctness of the method of analysis presented herewith.

Small secondary bending stresses exist in the shell and are due largely to the change of direct stresses within the shell. The deformation in the shell by the action of the direct stresses is very small and therefore the deformations caused by the change of such direct stresses can only be of secondary nature. The applicant's experience has shown that loads are carried by direct stresses only and not by bending action. Shell structures with a ratio of slab thickness to span of about 1/400 showed no measureable deflection whereas a load transfer by means of bending stresses would have necessitated deflections of several inches. The structure could not have taken such settlements without failure and the load transfer by bending stresses is therefore out of the question.

Cylindrical barrel shells are statically indeterminate structures and therefore have various possibilities of carrying the loads to the supports. The stresses are transferred in the direction of most resistance according to the law of least deformation. The edge members of the shell are usually flexible in horizontal direction and do not give resistance to arch thrusts; therefore no arch action can develop in the shell which must find a different way to carry the loads. The stiffening members of the shell system which are more resistive than the edge members will be the supports for a new carrying action. As the arch shell finds no substantial support at its springing lines it will support itself like a beam between its stiffening members. The three-dimensional stress action with load transfer to the stiffening members will go into effect as long as proper reinforcing is provided in the correct directions to take care of the developing principal stresses.

MINUTES

CALCULATION OF THE REINFORCING FOR THE SHELL

After computing the stresses on the transverse cross section of the shell, the variation of these stresses in longitudinal direction is evaluated.

T_2 values are constant for all transverse cross sections of the barrel.

T_1 stresses change in longitudinal direction like the ordinates of a parabola, because they are in direct proportion to the beam moments of the load.

The reinforcing is placed in the direction of the principal tension stress.

The computation is given by the following formulae for the principal stress T_A and the angle α which gives the direction of this principal stress:

$$\tan 2\alpha = \frac{-2 S_x}{T_{1x} - T_{2x}}$$

Wherever the barrel shell spans are not simple beam spans between stiffening members, an adjustment is made to extend the analysis to the type and continuity condition of the barrel shell unit used. The following diagrams show the shear and moment diagrams for loaded spans. The values k_1, k_2 can for all points be calculated according to the existing continuity conditions: (as shown in Fig.7)

Computation of Stresses for Shell Structure

The applicant has submitted approximate and accurate methods of calculation to be applied to their form of construction. This covers only the latter method as it is the more important because of the lack of experience that most designers have with respect to the proposed design and it is concluded that the accurate method of calculation will better substantiate the application of tried methods of mechanics and mathematics familiarly used by design engineers in accordance with stresses obtained as follows:

1. Description of charts and tables.

A transverse cross section through the shell is shown in Fig. 8 and its shape properties given in Table 1. This shell in longitudinal direction is assumed to be freely supported on arch ribs at 25 ft. ctrs. Fig. 9 shows the three main stress resultants plotted over the cross section curve of the shell. A stress resultant is the stress per unit area multiplied with the shell thickness.

Fig. 9a shows the ring stress resultants in kips per foot.
Fig. 9b shows the unit changes of shear stress resultants in kips per sq. ft.
Fig. 9c shows the longitudinal stress resultants in kips per foot.
The magnitude of these stress resultants is tabulated in columns 3 to 5 incl. of Table 2.

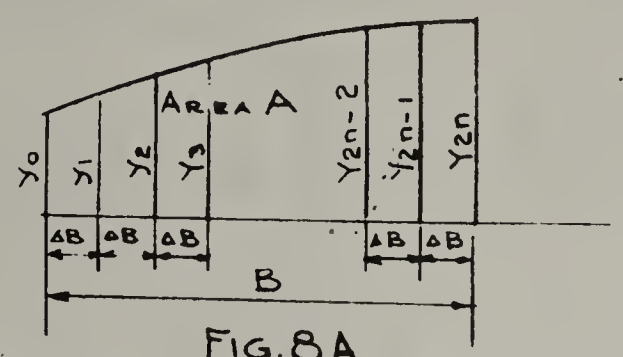

FIG. 8A

2. Verification of results.

The following equations of equilibrium must be satisfied if the results of the accurate analysis are correct:

a. The sum of the vertical components of the shear must equal the vertical load per unit length.

b. The moments due to the external loads must equal the resisting moments of the internal forces.

c. The sum of all longitudinal forces within one cross section must be zero.

Equation a:

L is the transverse span of the barrel shell, L_1 is the longitudinal span of the shell.
B is the width of a beam, (B is the arc of the shell curve in the case of the beam-like barrel shell), p' is the sum of all vertical loads on the beam per unit area, p'_v is the vertical load on the shell per unit area,

Σp_v is the sum of all vertical loads on the shell per unit length,

$p_{H,E}$ and $p_{V,E}$ are horizontal and vertical forces respectively acting along the springing line between shell and edgemember, dS is the shear differential per unit width

Fig. 10 shows the simple beam of rectangular cross section. The equilibrium condition (a) is expressed in the following fundamental equation:

$$\frac{\partial S}{\partial x} dx\, B + \Sigma p' B\, dx = 0 \qquad \frac{\partial S}{\partial x} = -\Sigma p'$$

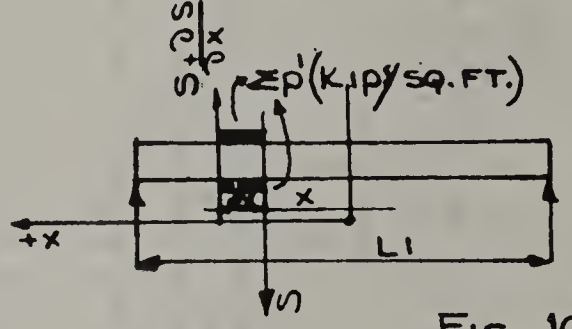

FIG. 10

The similar equation for the beam-like shell of curved cross section is derived as follows: (see Figs. 11, 12, and 13)

Equation c:

R is the radius of curvature of the shell,

The shell is assumed to be cut loose from the edgemember along the springing line.

The internal shear forces along the springing line must then be applied as external forces for this condition. These shear forces add up to a value Z at the center of span L_1 where equation (c) is checked.

Z is therefore the maximum longitudinal force in the springing line obtained by a summation of shear forces along the springing line.

The diagram of T_1 forces is obtained from Fig. 9c. The shear stress values at the springing line are obtained from Fig. 9b and from Table 2 (see points 0 and 16).

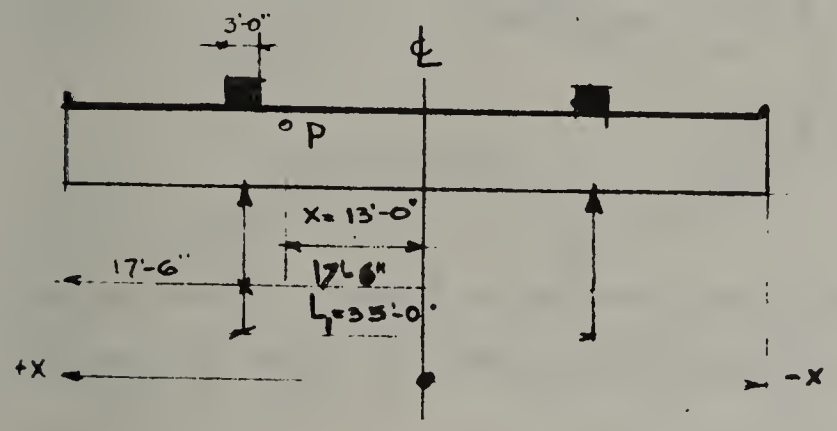
NUMERICAL EXAMPLE for the dimensioning of the shell.

Point P is a typical point for which the reinforcing is calculated. A point P with the following ordinates is chosen for this example. P is located at point 5, 13 feet longitudinally from the center line of the interior unit, it is located transversely by the angle Φ = 16° 6' 42" (see Figure 19).



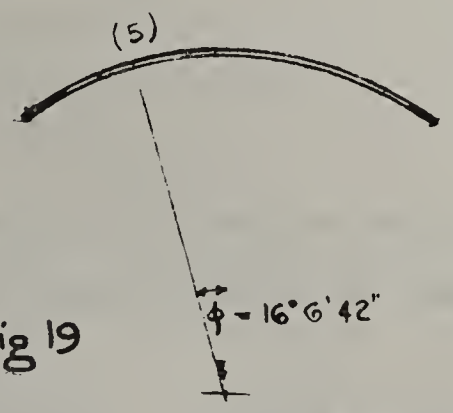


Fig 19

Calculation of stress resultants at Point 5.
The following values are taken from Fig. 8 and Tables 1 and 2.

T_2 = -1.297 Kips/ft.

$\frac{dS}{dx}$ = 0.122 Kips/sq. ft.

T_1 = -3.70 Kips/ft.

Stress resultants for Point 5 are modified as shown in Fig. 7(using coefficients K_1 , K_2). Point P is substituted for point X of Fig. 7.

$T_{2p} = T_2 = -1.297$ Kips/ft

$S_p = K_1 S$ $\quad S = \frac{\partial S}{\partial x}\frac{L}{2} = 0.122 \cdot 17.5 = 2.14$ $\quad K_1 = \frac{V_x}{V} = \frac{2x}{L_1} = \frac{26}{35} = 0.743$, $S_p = 0.743 \times 2.14 = 1.59$ Kips/ft.

$T_{1p} = K_2 T_1$ $\quad K_2 = \frac{M_x}{M} = \frac{26^2}{35^2} = -0.55$ $\quad T_{1p} = (-0.55)(-3.7) = +2.042$ Kips/ft.

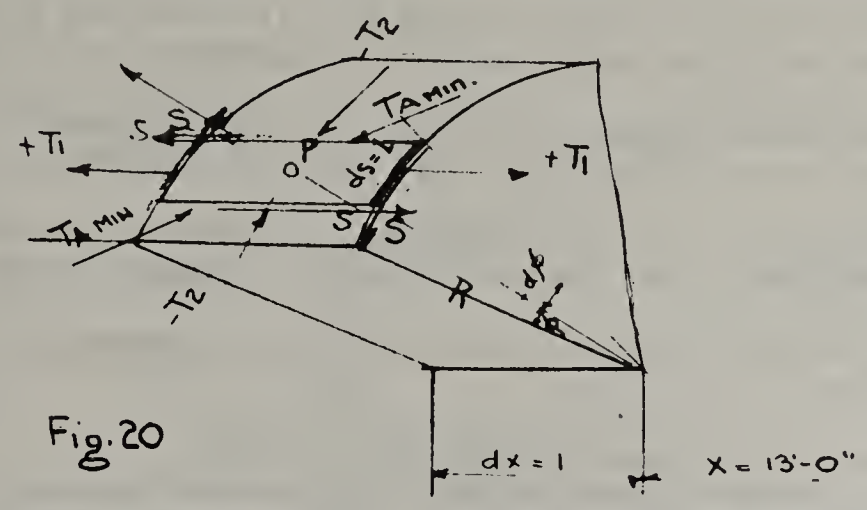

Fig. 20

$T_{A\,max\,min} = \frac{T_{1p}+T_{2p}}{2} \pm \sqrt{\left(\frac{T_{1p}-T_{2p}}{2}\right)^2 + S_p^2} = 0.373 \pm 2.30$ $\quad T_{A\,max} = +2.673$ Kips/ft

$T_{A\,min} = -1.927$ Kips/ft.

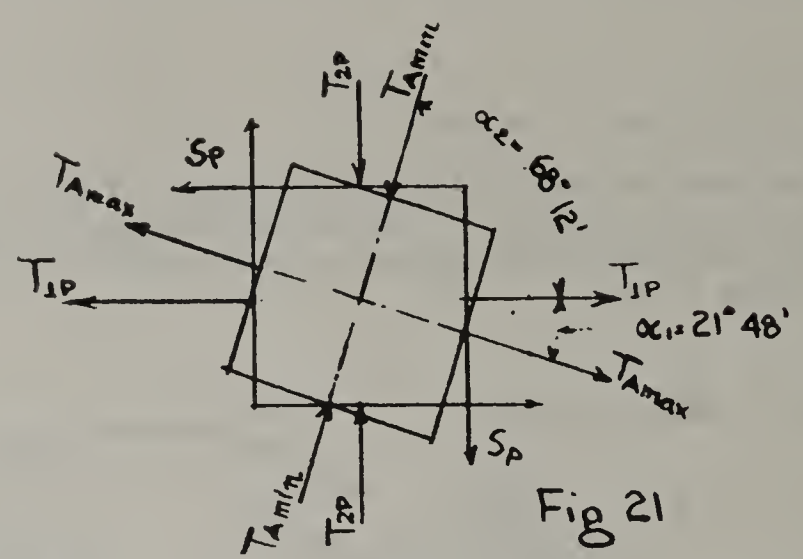

Fig 21

The amount of the reinforcing to be placed in the direction of T_A max. is given by the area A, whereby the allowable stress f_s in the reinforcing steel is 20,000 lbs. sq. in.

$$A \text{ required} = \frac{T_A \text{ max}}{f_s} = \frac{2.673 \text{ K/ft.}}{20.0 \text{ K/sq.in.}} = 0.134 \text{ sq.in/ft.}$$

METHOD OF PROCEDURE FOR CHECKING DESIGNS OF SHELL STRUCTURES

Reinforced concrete shells shall consist of curved concrete slabs bounded by stiffening members and reinforced with steel elements following the trajectories of principal tension stress.

The curvature of the slab shall be such that its axis lies above the force polygons of an imaginary three hinged arch loaded uniformly.

The resulting forces acting on the shell shall be considered as two direct forces acting normal to each other in the mid plane of the shell.

Figures 23 and 24 give a graphic illustration of the meaning of the ring and longitudinal stresses.

Theses forces shall be used as follows in equating,

(a) the total vertical shear against total vertical external loads and

(b) the resisting moment of the shell to the bending moment of the external loads and

(c) The total compression forces at the critical section to the total tensile forces at the same section.

These equations shall be as follows:

(a) $\Sigma S_\Delta \cdot \sin\phi \; a\beta = \omega$

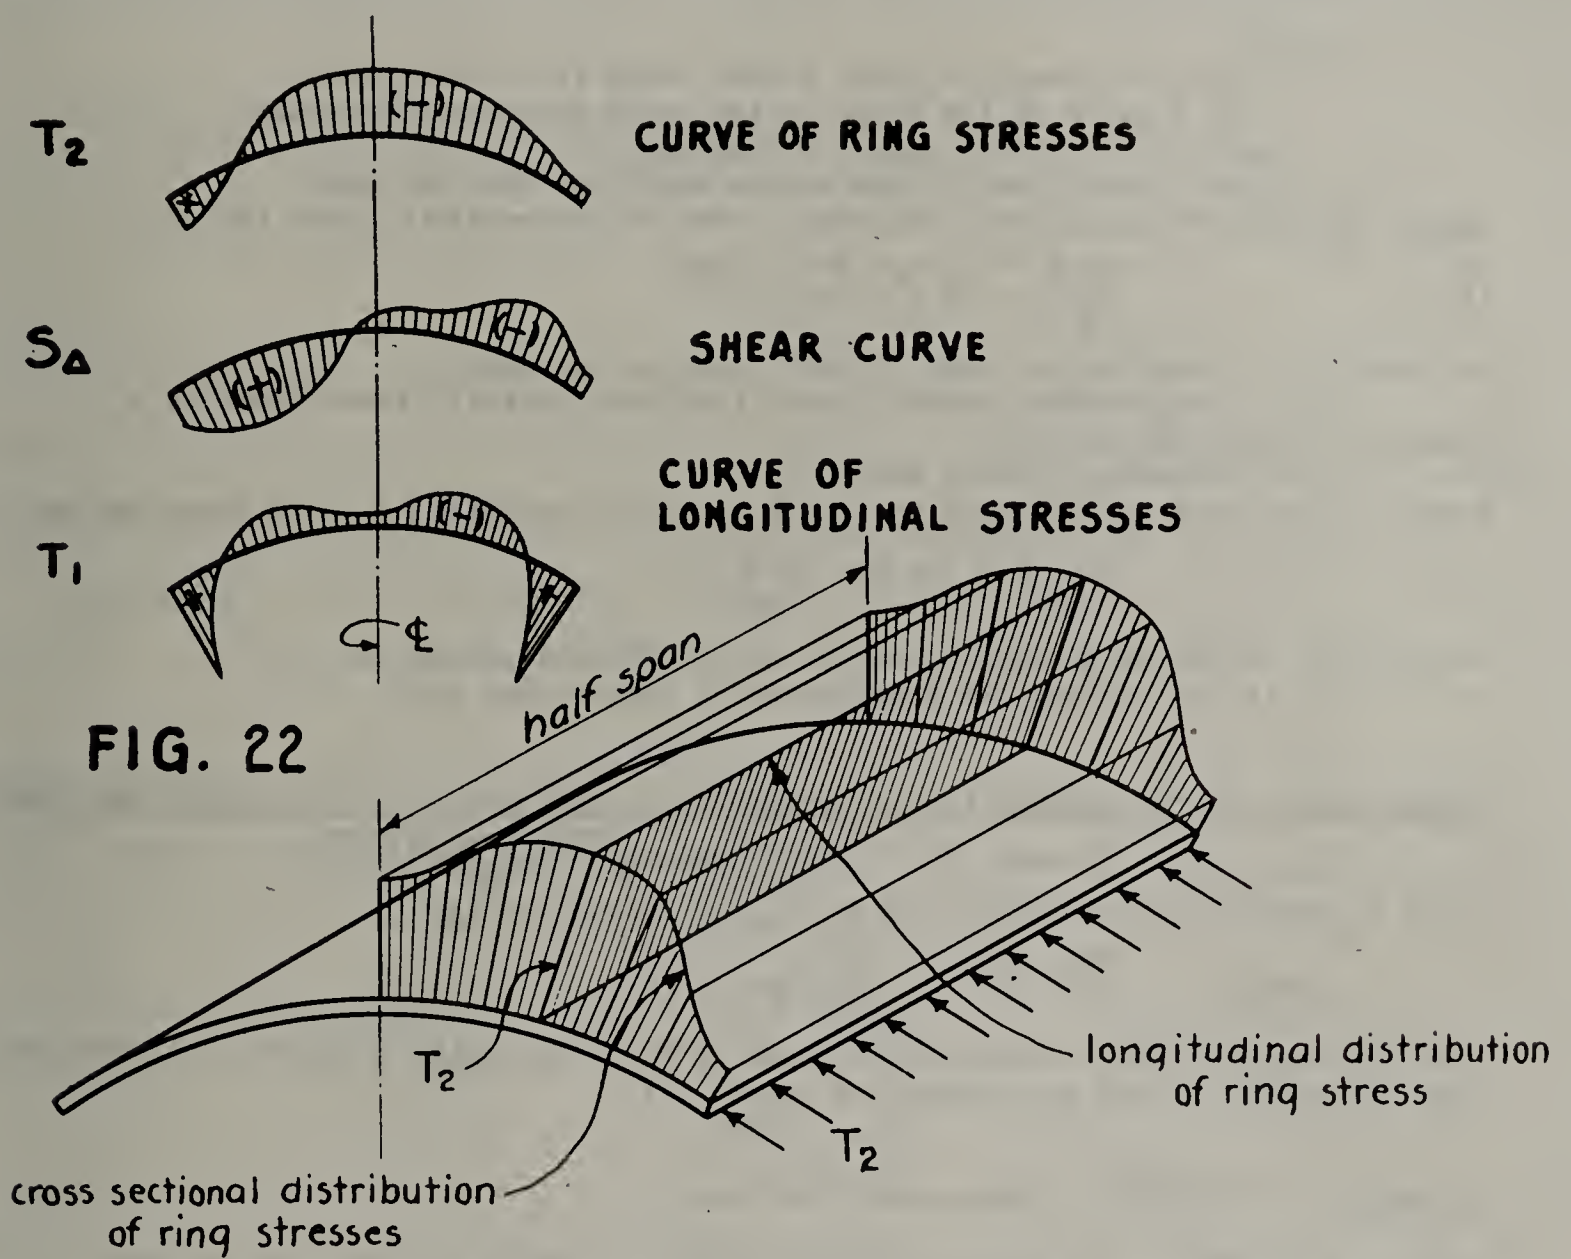

FIG. 22

FIG. 23 - RING STRESSES

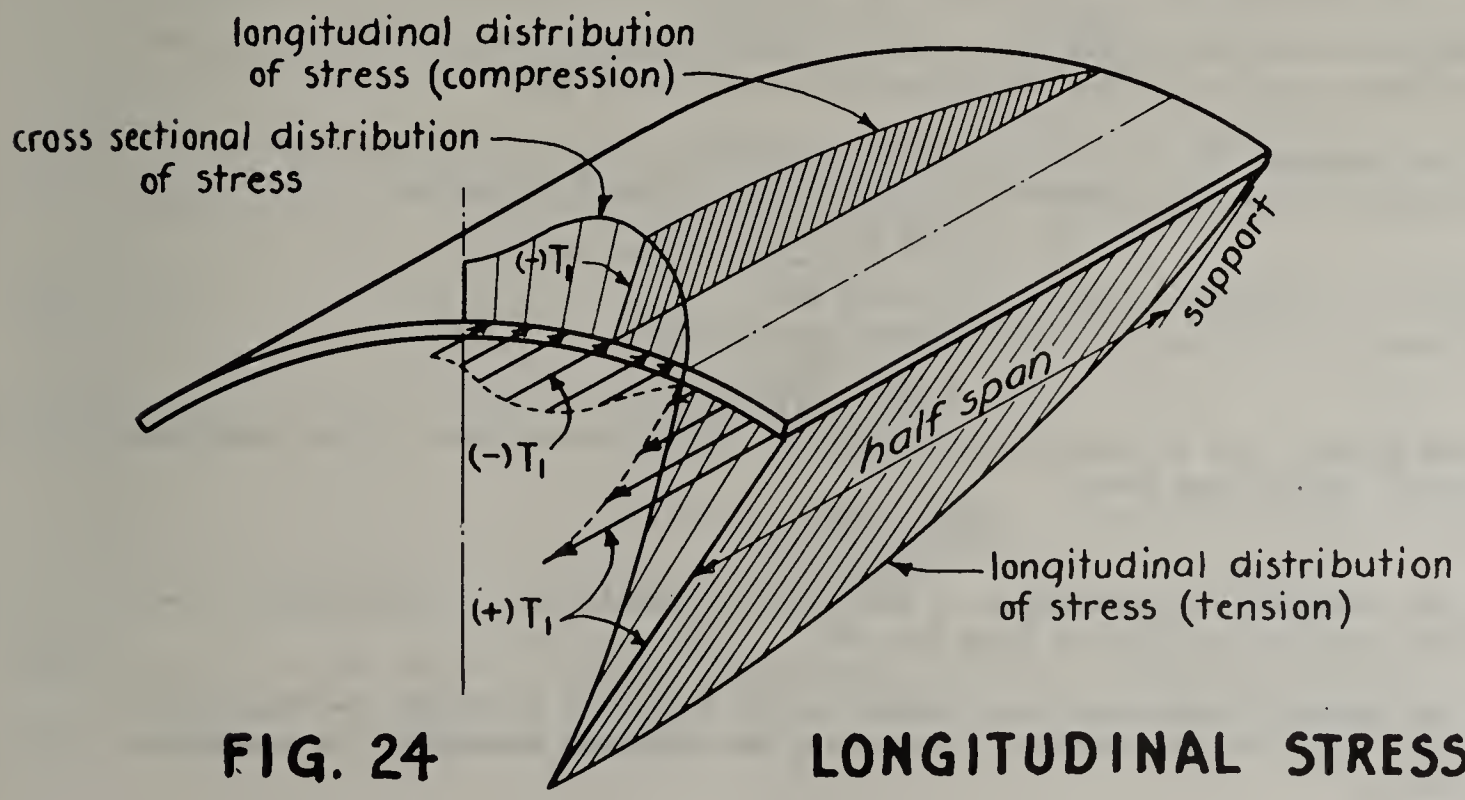

FIG. 24 LONGITUDINAL STRESSES

ϕ = angle of the slope of the shell with the horizontal.
ΔB = fractional length of the arc.
w = total load of the entire shell per foot of span.

Note: S_Δ shall be scaled from the shear curve at intervals ΔB along the arc.

(b) $$\frac{\omega L_1^2}{8} = \Sigma (\pm T_1)_y \Delta B$$ in which L_1 = longitudinal span of shell between supports.

T_1 = longitudinal stress scaled from longitudinal stress curve in a direction normal to the arc.

Note: Values of y and T_1 shall be scaled at points selected ΔB apart along the arc.

(c) $$\Sigma (\pm T_1) \Delta B \pm \frac{S_\Delta L^2}{8} = 0$$ in which T_1 is scaled normal to the arc at ΔB intervals along the arc.

S_Δ is scaled from the shear curve at edge values only.

DETERMINATION OF THE MAXIMUM PRINCIPAL STRESS T_A AND T_B AT ANY POINT WITHIN THE SHELL.

$$T_A \text{ and } T_B = \frac{T_{1x} + T_{2x}}{2} \pm \sqrt{\left(\frac{T_{1x} - T_{2x}}{2}\right)^2 + S_x^2}$$ where T_A acts in the direction of α and T_B acts normal to T_A and $$\text{Tan } 2\alpha = \frac{2S_x}{T_{1x} - T_{2x}}$$

$$T_{1x} = T_1 C$$

in which $C = 1 - \left(\frac{2x}{L_1}\right)^2$ for freely supported shell and $C = \frac{1}{3} - \left(\frac{2x}{L}\right)^2$ for fully restrained shell. C being interpolated between the above values for intermediate degrees of restraint.

α = angle between the direction of the principal maximum stress at any point of the developed surface of the shell and the longitudinal axis.

The stresses T_A, T_B result in kips per lineal foot of shell and can be transformed into working stresses in lbs. per sq. inch f_c as follows:

$$f_c = \frac{(-T_B)\,1000}{12t} \text{ in compression.}$$ in which t = thickness of shell in inches and where tension is indicated by a positive value of TA

$$f_t = \frac{(T_A)\,1000}{12t + A_s(n-1)}$$

in which f_t shall not be greater than $.6 f_c$ and A_s the steel area in the direction of α shall not be less than

$$\frac{(T_A)\,1000}{20000}$$

The equality of equations a, b and c may be considered satisfactory if the deviation from exact value is less than 5%.

The degree of accuracy will depend on the number of sections the shell is subdivided into for the purpose of computing the required summations in equations a, b, and c.

MINUTES

Numerical Example illustrating the procedure for the checking of shell designs submitted by Roberts and Schaefer Co.

A transverse cross section through the shell is shown in Fig. 3. This shell is assumed to be freely supported on arch ribs spaced 35 ft.ctrs. longitudinally. The diagrams of stresses are presented as required (see Fig. ..) and the stress values are further tabulated and summarized in Table 3.

Equation (a) $\Sigma S_L \sin\phi \Delta E = w$

The left side of the equation as summarized in Table 3 equals 3.78 kips/ft.

The right side of the equation is figured as follows:

weight of 3½ " shell	0.29 x 0.15	=	0.044 kips/sq.ft.
roofing			0.005 " "
live load		=	0.040 " "
	Total	=	0.089 kips/ sq.ft.

0.089 is multiplied by the length of the arc B and the loads at edges (point 0 and 16 of Fig. 25) are added :

0.089 x B	= 0.089 x 41.99	=	3.737 kips/ ft
			0.499 "
			- 0.378 "
	Total		3.858 kips/ft.

3.78 nearly equals 3.858 and the equation checks within 2 %.

Equation (b) $\frac{w L_1^2}{8} = \Sigma (\pm T_1) y \Delta B$

$\frac{3.858 \times 35^2}{8} = 591$ ft kips

The summation on the right side of the equation is obtained from Table . and equals 616.14

Comparison of 591 with 616.14 indicates that the equation checks within 4 ½ % .

TESTS

The applicant has furnished data pertaining to tests on finished structures as follows:

Brook Hill Farm Building, Chicago, Ill.

At the Century of Progressive Exhibition, the applicant's type of construction was used on a dairy building and prior to its demolition in 1934, it was subjected to a load test to compare the computations used against stresses resulting from applied loads. The details and results of this test, witnessed by the applicant's engineers with details and results as follows: The construction consisted of five barrels of 14 ft. width and 36 ft. length constructed on an all-Haydite concrete proportioned 1:2-1/2:2-1/2 with about 6 gal. of mixing water and high-early strength cement. Five days after the concrete for the first two barrels was placed, test cylinders showed a strength of 4,000 lb. per sq. in., and the concrete had an apparent specific gravity of 1.66. Because of the high strength of the concrete in the first section the forms for the remaining barrels were stripped after three days. The compressive strength of 3-day test cylinders made from the concrete in the second section was 1,860 lb. per sq. in., and the modulus of rupture was 350 lbs. per sq. in. The lower strength of cylinders from the second placement compared with the first was attributed not only to the shorter elapsed time before testing but also to a temperature range between 34 and 40 deg. after the second pour, as compared with 70 deg. during the curing time of the first pour. At the time of the load test on the finished structure the concrete was eight months old and showed an average compressive cylinder strength of 5,500 lbs. per sq. in. One-half the width of one full barrel was loaded with cement in bags, care being taken to prevent arching. The resulting unsymmetrical live load, 200 lb. per sq. ft., was ten times the live load for which the roof was designed, or five times the sum of the dead load plus 20 lb. live load. Berry strain gages, Ames dials, and Wissler dials were used, and readings were taken at twenty different points at various stages of the test.

The data filed indicated that the structure showed good elastic behavior, the deformations almost fully recovering after the load was removed. Only small hair cracks occured in the valley at mid-span, where the tensile stress in the concrete was a maximum. Due to the use of a large number of small rods instead of a few heavy reinforcing bars the cracks remained small. Fig. 27 illustrates the elongation of the concrete and steel in the tension zone of the loaded barrel which is a characteristic load-strain diagram of a beam. Steel and concrete deformed uniformly up to a steel stress of 7,500 lb. per sq. in.

Deflections Along Crown and Valley

Fig. 28

The maximum deflection, Fig. 28, in the center of the loaded valley was 0.195 in. under maximum test load, or a ratio of 1:2200 of the barrel length of 36 ft. The horizontal spread at the center of the loaded barrel was 0.027 in., or a ratio of 1:6200 of the barrel width of 14 ft. The indicated stresses showed that the main carrying action of the roof is somewhat like the action of a beam over a span of 36 ft. The stresses in the plane of the cross-sectional curve of the roof are secondary. The deformation of this curve reconstructed from deflection and strain-gage measurements is shown in Fig. 29. The changed curvature of the arch gives the distribution of secondary moments over the cross-section. Point A in Fig. 29 acts like a support, the loads being carried at this point by interaction of the adjacent intersecting shell. The negative bending moment of the shell at Point A corresponds to the restraining action at this support. The negative moment in mid-span near the crown of the barrel is a restraining moment at some ideal crown support. The load-carrying capacity of the curved slab at the crown being much greater than the imposed load, the shell slab at this point has a tendency to carry loads from other portions of the shell. For the secondary bending action the shell seems therefore to be supported at Point A and at the crown in mid-span, at short intervals, and moments consequently will remain small as compared with those under an arch action over the full span.

Since the observed deformations under unsymmetrical loads were of the same order as the calculated deflections under corresponding symmetrical loads, it can be concluded that the arch section along the cross-sectional curve of the roof must have been negligible. The membranous stresses in the roof slab, characteristic of a shell, kept the system in equilibrium. The main carrying action checked by strain-gage measurements can therefore be compared to the action of a beam with curved cross-section, 14 ft. wide, carrying over 36 ft. between the walls of the building.

Budd Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Tests were conducted at the above plant on the applicant's construction to further check the validity of the design procedure predicated on three dimensional shell action.

Object of Investigation—Z-D Monolithic Concrete Construction is a rather recent addition to the various systems of building construction. Its 3-dimensional carrying action is sometime confusing to 2-dimension minded engineers. For small spans its carrying action is very often attributed to arch action. For large spans it is obvious to even the most skeptical engineer that arch action is impossible. One object of these tests is to determine the validity of the design procedure based on 3-dimensional shell action.

The roof spans tested are built with intermediate stiffening ribs from which a suspended crane system of 10-ton capacity will operate. The interaction of these ribs, built without any support except that they are monolithic members of the shell and the shell reactions to the ground introducing the question of just how these reactions come into the arch.

This test was made on a section of the new plant built for the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company under the authorization of the Defense Plant Corporation. The Wark Construction Company, General Contractors, placed the boxes for gauge stations. The field measurements were made by Mr. R. Zaborowski, assisted by R. Wagner and E. Klyco.

Description of Specimen and Apparatus

Description of Specimen—The specimen was a standard unit (40 feet between arches with 20 foot cantilevers), 2-bay (122 feet springing to springing of each bay), reinforced concrete shell roof. The shell has a minimum thickness of 4 inches. The cross-section of the expansion joint ribs at the ends of each cantilever is 12 inches by 24 inches. The arch cross-section at the crown is 24 inches by 73 inches. The mix used provided a concrete of a 7-day compressive strength of 3,690 lbs. per square inch and a modulus of elasticity measured by beam deflection test of 3,400,000 lbs. per square inch. (The tests, however, were made when the concrete was about 18 days old.) Deformed reinforcing bars of intermediate and hard steel were used as reinforcing. For an assumed steel modulus of 30,000,000 psi, the modular ratio "n" for the test specimen was assumed to be 8.3.

Description of Apparatus—The load applied to the structure was only its own static dead load. During the pouring operation certain areas of the roof were filled with sand to prevent coverage by concrete. These areas were boxed holes approximately 1 foot by 1 foot. After the concrete set, these holes were cleaned and prepared for the setting of strain gauge reference points. An eight inch Metzger type strain gauge was used to make the readings. The reference points were made by drilling 1/16 inch diameter holes into the reinforcing rod. The instrument has a multiplication ratio of 10. The 1/16 inch diameter reference points change this ratio to approximately 11. The initial readings were made with the roof centering in place and the final readings with the roof centering lowered to allow free action of the structure. The only requirement of the test was to determine dead load stresses in the reinforcing bars.

The only problems involved in the test were those of technique resulting from the curvature of the roof which made the setting of points and gauge readings rather difficult, requiring at least two successive readings checked within 1 dial division (.001 inch). The air temperature during the readings varied from 22 deg. F. to 48 deg. F. It is apparent that temperature stresses somewhat influence test results which, however, could not be evaluated. The concrete unit tested was poured on November 12, 1942. The initial readings were made on November 27 and 28. The final readings were made on December 8, 1942. Although the air temperature was low during the final readings, the sun warmed the exterior shell causing a temperature difference of about 15 deg. F.

The load on a shell structure is transferred by direct stress to the arches. Using the severest probable combination of loads, the maximum tensile (principal tension) stresses and their directions are computed for a system of point coordinates covering the shell. The design of the reinforcing steel is then based on these values and directions without taking the tensile resistance of the concrete into account.

A comparison of measured and computed stress values is listed below for typical points:

Station	Measured	Computed
A Tensile Force	4200 lbs. per ft.	5,950 lbs. per ft.
Compressive Force	2700 lbs. per ft.	5,830 lbs. per ft.
Angle	42 degress	45 degress
B Tensile Force	2760 lbs. per ft.	7,120 lbs. per ft.
V Tensile Force	5050 lbs. per ft.	5,810 lbs. per ft.
Compressive Force	3500 lbs. per ft.	5,190 lbs. per ft.
Angle	42 degress	37 degress
W Tensile Force	3200 lbs. per ft.	6,190 lbs. per ft.

The calculations made no allowance for the tensile strength of the concrete and are therefore on the safe side. Theoretical distribution of forces in the ring direction and of transverse bending moments applied to the analysis of certain sections gives reinforcing bar stresses remarkably close to those measured. The tensile steel stresses in the stiffening rib and expansion joint rib varied between 2360 lbs. per square inch and 8950 lbs. per square inch, while the concrete extreme fiber stress varied between 460 lbs. per square inch and 740 lbs. per square inch. The computations for these sections were based on a cracked rectangular section. Test results at shell points adjacent to the main arch were of interest since these points give a check on the assumed manner in which the shell loads are transferred onto the arch. Stresses were measured in the main compression steel as well as the main tensile steel Because of the low tensile stress the section was assumed uncracked. The theoretical stress in the tensile reinforcement was 2350 lbs. per square inch, and the average measured stress was 2360 lbs. per square inch. The theoretical compressive reinforcement stress is 4000 lbs. per square inch, and the average measured stress is 5560 lbs. per square inch. This value is indicative of non-linear stress distribution. It has been shown in other investigations that extreme compressive fiber stresses are less than those derived by the straight line theory while higher values exist away from the face. A different state of stress will exist in a shell when the properties of one of its boundaries are changed. Theoretical analysis shows the effect of the discontinuity to be a wave of decreasing amplitude; hence the greatest differences occur in the vicinity of the discontinuity. The field test results support this theoretical assumption.

The test results interpreted in the light of the facts that the measurements were made on a full sized structure of complicated nature, with the greatest possible care taken with field measurements, there was still the possibility of error, influence of temperature stresses was not considered, the concrete in the structure is naturally less uniform than the ideal concrete material assumed in the calculations lead to the following conclusions:

The monolithic concrete shells carry load by direct stress action.

Transverse moment action of a thin shell is a secondary action for which provision must be made but upon which the load carrying ability of the shell is not dependent.

The stiffening rib and expansion joint rib decrease the transverse strains in the shell.

Strain gauge readings under load at Signal Corps Hangar—Wright Field, Ohio, 1942. (Satisfactory results of strain gauge and deflection measurements)*

Electrical strain gauge readings under varying loads in connection with Hangar for U.S. Naval Air Station—Norfolk, Va., 1943. Satisfactory results)*.

* These tests were made in connection with structures for the U.S. Army or Navy. The structures are in full use, but test results cannot be published as they are considered confidential Government property.

Construction

The details pertaining to the construction differ but little from the usual methods in so far as the contractor is concerned. Installation may vary as to physical proportions and the number of sections and inquiry has resulted in the conclusion that concrete contractors have no difficulty in erecting these structures in accordance with the procedures developed by the applicant. The floor slabs are usually poured first to provide adequate foundations for the scaffolding and roof forms.

These structures are designed as a series of identical units built end to end and so proportioned as to reduce the cost of form work through a maximum number of reuses of a complete assembly.

This false work assembly is mounted on rollers and screw jacks to give it vertical and horizontal mobility to permit raising it to proper level, lowering it from the set concrete and moving it to the next location. After the forms are centered, the reinforcing steel is placed as required by the design and the concrete poured continuously and monlithically between expansion points, arch haunches or columns having previously been built to the elevation of lean to roofs or edge beams, see fig. 30.

The form surfaces upon which the concrete is poured are generally constructed of ply wood panels shaped to the required curvature; before and after the steel is installed, and during pouring operations the curvature, the profiles and the lines and levels of the forms are checked by a survey party and maintained by a crew of carpenters.

The reinforcing steel of the shells consists of bars usually 3/8″ to 5/8″ diameter positioned on chair bars and secured in place by wiring or tack welding and checked for positioning during the pouring. The first two layers are placed at right angles to each other and normal to the axis of the shell followed by the finishing layers which are draped diagonally following the stress pattern.

The concrete is composed generally of ordinary High Early Strength Portland cement, concrete sand and 3/4" maximum size coarse aggregate in the shells of as low a specific gravity as is available consistent with economy. The concrete is proportioned to attain a compression resistance of at least 3,000 psi at 28 days when ordinary cement is used or 7 days for High Early cement with a slump varying from 2" to 6" depending on the inclination of the sections to be poured. When the inclination is too steep, outside or top forms are provided.

As soon as possible after pouring, the concrete surface is screeded to a smooth and true surface suitable to receive the insulating material and roofing.

Test specimens of the concrete are taken from the fresh concrete in the form of beams which are broken at intervals to determine the safe stripping time.

In structures in which the thrust of the arched ribs carrying the shells is resisted by steel ties, a part of their elastic stretch is induced prior to decentering by prestressing them with special jacks against the foundations.

These structures consist of units built end to end and separated completely from each other by a space of about 1" in width thereby eliminating any accumulation of stresses due to expansion or shrinkage. This space is covered over with a flexible joint of suitable weathering material to ensure weather tightness.

The shells are made weather tight by applying on the exterior surface of the concrete or insulation such approved materials as metal roofing, weatherproof coatings, tile or built-up roofing.

The weather surfacing of the shells are treated in several ways depending upon the usage of the building. Where temperature or accoustical insulation is required insulation materials of approved type are applied to the top or bottom surface of the shell as required by the design.

In hangars where large doors are depending on the roof structure for their stability, suitable provision is made through the use of double ribs, extending brackets or independent rigid frames designed to resist the verticle or horizontal forces from dead load and wind.

General

Buildings designed and constructed on the foregoing basis have been erected in this country as well as abroad and are rendering satisfactory service. The applicant has furnished a list of some 47 American installations, some of them erected since 1932, many of them for military and war purposes, others for peacetime uses. These buildings thoroughly substantiate the adequacy of their designs and the applicant advised that since the erection of these structures, there have been no complaints made to them regarding the integrity of any structure designed and supervised by them. The theory of elasticity and the theory of thin shells as contained herein are established courses in the engineering colleges of America, and the applicant has filed data extracted from the curricula in substantiation thereof. Included also are letters from many practicing engineers stating that they are thoroughly familiar with the analysis of such structures and that they have already constructed or designed buildings of the applicant's types. The applicant proposes to furnish competent corroboration to the Department of Housing and Buildings that all designs be checked by a competent professional engineer acceptable to the Borough Superintendent and who, along with the applicant will assume the responsibility for the integrity of the structure and the adequacy and accuracy of each design submitted. The professional engineer will also certify to the Borough Superintendent that he will supervise in collaboration with the applicant the erection of each structure for full compliance with detailed plans and specifications as may be approved by the Borough Superintendent.

To meet the fire resistance requirements for the proposed construction, the applicant will comply with all the requirements of the Administrative Building Code, C26-509.0, as to protection of steel reinforcing materials. As a practical measure of the degree to fire resistance afforded by the applicant's structures, a fire broke out on March 6, 1945 at Wright Field in a Z-D type concrete hangar having a span of 160 ft., 45 ft. high and 200 ft. long. Stored in the hangar were many planes including the largest in use at that time. A transport plane in taking off developed trouble which resulted in its diving into the main door of this hangar where it exploded and set fire to all the planes in the hangar causing damage of 3-3/4 million dollars. The temporary end wall of the affected hangar and a partition wall in the adjacent hangar were blown out by the explosion and the steel doors and door guides were twisted by the heat. The heat was so intense that the glass portions of lighting fixtures softened and dropped. The underside of the concrete roof appeared spalled in about 5% of its area and a few cracks appeared in the concrete shell. The draft of flames and smoke, rising 300 feet, had lifted 10" pieces of broken asbestos cement siding from the temporary end wall and had dropped them on the roof. The asphalt roofing was blistered. The structural concrete shell roof did not fail and preliminary inspection indicated that the roof has not been seriously damaged by the heat. Although a load test has not yet been made, it is expected that the concrete shells can be completely repaired by minor gunite operations. The doors, temporary walls and the roofing will, of course, have to be replaced.

The applicant further proposes that he will use only approved materials and that all concrete used will be controlled concrete complying with C26-497.0, C26-500.0 when made, mixed, controlled, and designed in accordance with C26-364.0 and that in all other respects, the requirements of Sub-Article 5 "Reinforced Concrete Construction" of Article 9 "Construction" will be complied with.

Recommendation

On the basis of the foregoing data, the Committee on Tests recommends the approval under C26-191.0.a, Administrative Building Code, of the Roberts and Schaefer Company's Z-D System of Reinforced Concrete (Shell construction) when designed as provided herein and in accordance with the theory of flexure under C26-468.0, with flexural resistance of slabs meeting the requirements of C26-471.0 and the moments, shear and points of inflection to be in accordance with the provisions of C26-481.0,a,b,c, with the stresses as provided in C26-364.0, and that the concrete used shall be of controlled concrete of the proper water cement ratios complying with C26-38.0,c, C26-364.0, C26-26.0, through C26-329.0 and C26-497.0 and that the coarse aggregate be of approved type and be not larger than 3/4 in. in its largest dimension; that all materials be approved, and that each design submitted to the Borough Superintendent by the applicant be checked by a licensed professional engineer acceptable to the Borough Superintendent; that the applicant and the licensed professional engineer be held responsible for the design and that they both shall be responsible for the field inspection of the construction to insure compliance with the design details. All inserts in the roof construction for supporting under-hung loads, such as sprinkler systems, etc., shall be installed in roofs of adequate thickness and to the satisfaction of the Borough Superintendent. All openings in the roof shall be reinforced in such a manner as the Borough Superintendent shall require. Adequate prestressing of reinforcement ties between adjacent foundation shall be provided to control deformations.

It is further recommended that each design submitted to the Borough Superintendent shall bear a stamp or lettering reading as follows: "This design is exactly in accordance with the provisions of the approval granted by the Board of Standards and Appeals under Cal. 717-44-SM."

and

WHEREAS, this report recommended the approval of this material.

Resolved, that the Board of Standards and Appeals does hereby approve the material known as the Z. D. System of Reinforced Concrete (Shell Construction) on condition that the design, supervision and construction shall be in accordance with the above report.

have been approved prior to 1916 by the Board of Standards of the Fire Department or the several Superintendents of the Department of Buildings even though such approvals were certified by the Corporation Counsel as automatically becoming approvals of the Board. The reason for their non-inclusion is that due to subsequent changes in the law, practically none of the approvals given prior to 1916 have any present application.

Any such materials, appliances or methods of construction, which have been accepted for general use prior to or since 1916 should be submitted to the Board for test and approval under the present requirements of law, so that they may be included in the published list when next issued. Due to improvements in construction methods and design of materials and appliances, as well as amendments to the law, some materials and appliances herein listed may no longer meet the terms of their approval or the present law. In these instances, such materials and appliances should be resubmitted so as to keep the approvals abreast of the latest designs and methods.

It has been the intention of the Board in publishing the list to make it complete, and if any approvals are omitted it has been by inadvertence. At most, this list is merely a synopsis and index. Reference in each case should be made to the resolution of approval itself. For convenience, the index includes under each item the Calendar number of the application and the issue of the Bulletin in which the resolution of approval appeared. In such resolutions, the record of tests, the description of the material, appliance or method of construction is set forth, as well as the basis of the approval and the extent of the permitted use.

THE RESOLUTION (498-45-A)

WHEREAS, Interborough Engineering Company for Anna Amelio, owner, filed August 13, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent affecting 592 Morris Park avenue, southwest corner of Garfield street (Block 4021, Lot 8), Borough of The Bronx and

THE RESOLUTION (87-45-A)

WHEREAS, Bartholdi Turecamo, owner, filed February 21, 1945, an appeal from an order and a decision of the fire commissioner, affecting: Belt Parkway, west side, 38 ft. north of Bay 37th street and Hunter avenue, east side between 24th avenue and Bay 37th street (Block 6942, Lot 7), Borough of Brooklyn; and

WHEREAS, the order of the fire commissioner, acting on Order 14061-LF, issued December 29, 1944, reads:

"1. Provide telegraphic communication with Fire Department Headquarters, as provided for by the Administrative Code. 487 e-2-ob. Adm. Code."

and

WHEREAS, said order was referred to in a decision of the fire commissioner dated February 19, 1945; and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the plot is 116 ft. 2 in. by 1001.51 ft. in area, on which is a series of buildings of Class 1, 3, 4 and 5 construction, located in an unrestricted use, B area, Class 1½ height district, and used as a construction yard and asphalt plant, for which no certificate of occupancy has been issued; and

WHEREAS, Inspection by the Division of Fire Prevention indicates (Folder 13946.01) that there is no fire box that could be used to transmit an alarm of fire on the premises, the nearest box being located on Cropsey avenue and Bay 34th street, a distance of about 6 blocks away, and in addition a person would have to cross the Belt Parkway. There is no coin telephone on the premises; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends to the Fire Department that there is no need for telegraphic communication as they have only 8 employees in the entire building and all are located on one floor and that if the city wants a telegraphic connection it is incumbent upon the city to place a fire box outside near their building as it is unnecessary within the building; and

WHEREAS, the applicant contends to the Board that all buildings on the premises are fireproof; that the materials handled consist of sand, broken stone, gravel, cement, coal and asphalt; that a telephone operator is stationed at a switchboard on the premises 24 hours a day; that they have occupied these premises for 20 years handling the same materials and never have had a fire; that prior to the construction of the Belt Parkway fire alarm facilities by the city were available and since the construction of the Belt Parkway the city has not placed any boxes along the roadway as should have been done and no reason is seen why the owner should be put to the expense of installing such a system; that the construction of the buildings is as follows: Cement storage building—1 story metal sides and roof with concrete foundation approximately 35′ x 70′. Dust mill—1 story metal sides and roof with concrete foundation approximately 35′ x 75′. Asphalt plant—metal sides and roof, concrete foundation. Engine house—metal frame walls and roof of a fireproof composition. Blacksmith shop—metal sides and metal roof—approximately 10′ x 15′. Concrete coal pockets constructed entirely of iron and concrete. Yard office—frame building, tar roof—15′ x 40′. Office building—brick sides, slate roof—approximately 80′ x 25′. Frame hopper for coal.

Resolved, that Order No. 14061-LF of the fire commissioner be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 1, on condition that a regulation fire alarm box shall be placed by the Bureau of Fire Alarm Telegraph at the corner of 24th avenue and the southerly service road within one year from the date of this resolution and when placed shall be continuously maintained; and that the conditions proposed herein by the applicant shall be maintained.

THE RESOLUTION (181-45-A)

WHEREAS, Robert Teichman, for City Bank, Farmers Trust Company, trustees of Estate of Henry Bergh, owner, filed March 28, 1945, an appeal from an order and a decision of the fire commissioner, affecting 429 5th avenue, east side, 60 ft. 11 in. north of East 38th street (Block 868, Lot 4), (Cellar), Borough of Manhattan; and

WHEREAS, Order 18388-LF, issued by the fire commissioner on October 19, 1943, reads:

"1. Provide a fixed fire extinguishing system or other means for the extinguishment of fire satisfactory to the Fire Commissioner, in cellar. C19-161.0, Adm. Code."

and

WHEREAS, the decision of the fire commissioner dated March 16, 1945, reads:

"In reply to your letter and blueprint showing proposed changes in the cellar, in lieu of the sprinkler system required by Order 18388-LF after consideration, it is suggested that you submit the matter to the Board of Standards and Appeals for their consideration."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 4 stories, 46 ft. in height; 16 ft. by 96 ft. in area at 1st floor; 16 ft. by 58 ft. in area at typical floor; of Class 3 construction; located in a restricted retail use B area, Class 1¼ height district; erected prior to 1886 and used and occupied since 1933 as follows: cellar, storage; 1st floor, store, 15 persons; 2nd to 4th floors, vacant, and proposed to be used and occupied without change. The building is equipped with one 32 in. wide wood stairs, enclosed in partitions of wood studs, lath and plaster, equipped with wood doors, which are not self-closing. This stair does not lead to roof or street. A ladder and scuttle is provided to roof. The building is also equipped with one fire escape at rear extending to roof by stair and to yard by stair with egress to adjoining properties to the north and south. WHEREAS, the applicant contends that on March 7, 1945, proposed changes were submitted to the Bureau of Fire Prevention in an effort to comply with the order without installing a sprinkler system; that the fire department suggested that the matter be submitted to the Board; that in lieu of the new inside stairway at front as proposed to the Division of Fire Prevention, it is now proposed to install an engineer's exit outside of the building due to the very narrow width of the building and the space which would be taken up at the front for the proposed stairway; that additional entrance to cellar can be had by means of sidewalk elevator; that all combustible material is to be stored in an isolated space at the front of the cellar as indicated on plans filed with this appeal; that this space will be protected by sprinklers fed from the house supply as indicated on plans filed with this appeal; that proper signs will be posted at the front of the building indicating entrances.

Resolved, that order No. 18388 LF of the fire commissioner, dated October 19, 1943, item 1, as repeated in his decisions of March 16, 1945 and July 27, 1945, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted on condition that the concrete block wall shall be constructed within the cellar with fireproof, self-closing door therein, as indicated on revised plans marked "Received March 28, 1945"; that there shall be no storage in the cellar, except within the portion toward the front, having a depth of approximately 30 feet; that an engineer's ladder shall be installed and maintained, leading to sidewalk grade; that the sidewalk elevator shall be continued; that the cellar storage space shall be protected by sprinkler heads, which may be fed from the domestic water line, provided such line is not less than one inch in diameter; that there shall be no human occupancy within the cellar; that in all other respects the building and occupancy shall comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable thereto.

WHEREAS, Grace M. Conlon, for Windsor Corporation, owner, filed May 15, 1945, an appeal from a decision of the borough superintendent, affecting 43 Windsor place, east side, 107 ft. south of Queens boulevard (Block 3257, Lot 45), Forest Hills, Borough of Queens; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent, dated June 4, 1945, on Alt. Applic. 457-45, reads:

"1. Proposed conversion of a dwelling to a public building (note—day care nursery) must comply with

a. Article 6 as to exit.

b. § 7.3.2.3 B.C. as to live loads.

c. § 4.2.1. as to construction of building required to be fireproof."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states the building is 2 stories, and attic, 28 ft. 10 in. in height; 22 ft. by 43 ft. in area; of Class 3 construction; erected 1910; located in a business use D area, Class 1 height district and used and occupied since October 1944, as follows; cellar, storage and boiler room, no persons; 1st and 2nd floors, dwelling, one family, attic, vacant, storage. Proposed to be used and occupied as follows: cellar, storage and boiler; 1st and 2nd floors, day care nursery, 15 persons on the 1st, 10 persons on the 2nd; attic, vacant. Cellar ceiling is fire retarded with half inch rock lath and half inch cement plaster and cellar stairs enclosed with 3 in. gypsum block, coated with half in. cement plaster, equipped with fireproof self-closing door at bottom; that in view of the limited occupancy of the 2nd floor and the fact that the load imposed on the floor beams is actually less than is usual in dwellings, it is requested that present exit facilities and floor loading be accepted; and

WHEREAS, the applicant further contends that the present two by 10 floor beams, 16 in. o.c. are good for a total load of 137 lbs. per sq. ft. on 1st and 2nd stories if bearing partitions are figured; that if the 2nd tier span is figured between masonry walls the beams are good for a total of 52 lbs.; and

WHEREAS, the premises were placed within a business use district by action of the Planning Commission and the Board of Estimate in 1940; and

WHEREAS, the premises are proposed to be occupied as a day nursery and not a school, as no academic instruction is given, although apparently classified as a nursery "school" by the department of health.

Resolved, that the decision of the borough superintendent, acting on Alt. Applic. 457-45, objection 1, be and it hereby is modified and that the appeal be and it hereby is granted, as to objection 1a permitting the first floor only to be occupied for the proposed day nursery and the second floor as a rest room, on condition that the cellar ceiling shall be fire-retarded; that the stairs to the cellar shall be enclosed in a fireproof partition; that the door to such stairway from the first floor shall be a one-hour self-closing fireproof door, that the existing storage of lumber and the use of machinery in the basement shall be completely discontinued; as to objection 1b, that the floor loads shall be as required for one-family residential ocupancy; as to objection 1c, that the building shall not be increased in height or area and shall be maintained as proposed and in accordance with the terms of this resolution; that in the stairway to the second floor at least one sprinklerhead shall be maintained as required for a similar stairway under the Multiple Dwelling Law, and such heads may be fed from the domestic water line, provided such heads are not less than ¾ in. in diameter; that no other occupancy shall be permitted within the building other than the nursery school herein permitted and that the occupancy shall be maintained as proposed, only during the hours of 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. on weekdays and the number of children in the nursery school shall not exceed twenty-five (25).

> "1. The change in use of this building located partly in a business and partly in an unrestricted use district from a garage for more than five motor vehicles to a garage for more than five motor vehicles, automobile salesroom and incidental repair shop, is contrary to the Zoning Resolution. Sect. 4 (a).
> 2. The original approval of this building was granted conditionally by the Board of Standards and Appeals under Cal. 155-26-BZ. No change in the use may be made without approval of the Board."

WHEREAS, the applicant contends that the building has been continuously occupied since its erection as a garage for more than five motor vehicles and a gasoline service station; that the greater portion of the plot is located in the unrestricted use district and a zoning variance was granted by the Board at the time of the erection of this building, permitting its extension into the business use district; that the greater portion of the building is now permitted to be occupied for the uses requested; that the lesser portion of the building now in the business use district, is permitted to be used for a garage for more than five motor vehicles and the proposed use of this area is similar in character, if not better, and will in no way affect the general surroundings and neighborhood; that the proposed use will be an improvement to the neighborhood, as the building will be altered so as to enhance its appearance; that the alterations consist of removing the gasoline service station at the corner intersection and replacing it with a new one story extension to be used for the automobile salesroom, which will be located in this corner; that the remaining frontage on Bedford avenue will be altered, so that the first floor garage type windows will be changed to plate glass show windows; that one vehicular driveway will be eliminated on the Bedford avenue front and will be converted to the main entrance to the salesroom; that the remaining vehicular driveway on Bedford avenue, together with the other driveway doors on Tilden avenue, will be modernized, by installing new overhead doors; that the facade of the building will be generally improved to be more in harmony with the proposed use, by making certain parapet wall changes; that the interior alterations will consist of creating an automobile salesroom on the first floor, new toilet rooms and exit stairway on both floors and similar modernizations; that the proposed limited repair shop will be incidental and accessory to the automobiles sold by this organization and not for a general repair shop; that the proposed alteration to the building will in no way violate any of the original safeguards and conditions set by the Board in the original variance; that the extension of these permitted uses into the lesser area of the same building is in harmony with the general purpose and intent of the Zoning Resolution and is an appropriate case for the Board to exercise its jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, the cut-off corner of the premises at the intersection of Bedford and Tilden avenues is now occupied by gasoline pumps for the sale of gasoline and a sign and it is proposed to roof over a portion of such cut-off corner as part of the proposed salesroom; and

WHEREAS, the decision of the borough superintendent dated August 2, 1945 on Alt. Applic. 1961-45 reads:

"3. Two enclosed stairs are required by Section 270 of the Labor Law as exits."

and

WHEREAS, the applicant states that the building is 2 stories (25 ft. 3 in.) in height, 158 ft. 3 in. by 102 ft. 3 in. in area, of class 3 construction, located in an unrestricted and business use, C area class 1¼ height district, erected in 1926, pursuant to a variance granted by the Board under Cal. 155-26-BZ and used and occupied since erection as follows:

Cellar, boiler room; 1st floor, garage for more than five motor vehicles and gasoline service station; 2nd floor, garage for more than five motor vehicles, and proposed to be used and occupied: cellar, boiler room; 1st floor, garage for more than five motor vehicles, automobile salesroom and incidental repair shop, 40 persons; 2nd floor, garage for more than five motor vehicles and incidental repair shop, 15 persons; that the building is equipped with a standpipe system and it is proposed to install one 44 in. wide iron stairs, fireproof enclosed and equipped with fireproof self-closing doors and leading from the second story directly to the street; that there is an existing fire escape, consisting of balcony and sliding drop ladder to the street with a ladder to the roof, which ladder to the roof, it is proposed to remove; and
